The Hayes and Thompson additions to the town of Moro were platted last week, and are now of record in the county clerk's office. These additions consist of a number of very choice lots at the south end of town, and persons who contemplate making their home in Moro would do well to buy one of these lots.

The Board of Home Missions of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, belonging to the General Council, has transferred Rev. Wm. F. Holl from Sherman county, Or., to Tacoma, Wash. He takes this opportunity to express his regrets at leaving the little faithful band who have cheered him on with kind words and kind deeds in the shape of financial support. Mr. John Christiansen of Monkland has been empowered to receive such subscriptions due him up to the time of the pastor's removal.

At the opera house here on Jan. 19th, Capt. John Lewis related the story of his capture by the rebels in the late civil war, his imprisonment in Libby, and other interesting reminiscences. The speaker was introduced by W. H. Moore in a few well-chosen words. In an introductory way the Captain said that the 19th of January was the anniversary of his first fight with the enemy at the battle of Mill Springs. He was then second lieutenant in a Kentucky regiment, the colonel of which killed in front of the company to which Lieutenant Lewis belonged the commanding officer of the enemy's forces, Felix K. Zollicoffer. The captain then goes on to tell how his horse, being shot under him, he was taken prisoner and incarcerated in Libby prison. He speaks of prison life, how he and his comrades in affliction were counted through a small door every morning. His account of his escape through a tunnel dug by the prisoners, and how he was left reluctantly by his comrades, as they thought to die, was most thrilling. The captain closed with an account of his recapture and return to grim old Libby, and with an eloquent tribute to the flag of our country, which was loudly applauded. It is Captain Lewis' intention to give a series of these lectures in the different towns of the country, and we feel confident that they will be of interest to all.

The people of Oregon are going to erect a monument to the memory of the soldiers who laid down their lives for their country at Manila. The committee purpose publishing a new unique history of the United States and sell it at 25 cents a copy, to assist in raising funds for this most laudable purpose. It is meted and right for us to pay a tribute to those who willingly shed their blood for the honor of their country, and we have no doubt the people of Oregon will freely respond to the call, which appeals to their patriotism and generosity. Mr. F. E. Brown has been appointed to take charge of this matter in Moro.

Red Hot from the Gun. Was the ball that hit G. B. Beadman, of Newark, Mich., in the Civil War. It caused horrible ulcers that no treatment helped for 20 years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him. Collier-Boyd Wedding. The residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Boyd, near Moro, was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 3 p. m. Sunday, Jan. 22nd, the contracting parties being their eldest daughter, Miss Emma L. Boyd, and Mr. John Collier. A few intimate friends were present with the family to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Elder M. F. S. Henton. The bride was very becomingly attired in a beautiful costume of cream-colored cashmere, trimmed with white silk and satin ribbon, with a wreath of orange blossoms on her head from which hung the beautiful bridal veil, enveloping the bride in its folds of snowy whiteness. White kid gloves and slippers completed her attire. The groom, as usual, was attired in the conventional black suit. The bride and groom are well and favorably known in Sherman county, her parents being among the first settlers. She has grown up from early childhood in our midst. After the usual congratulations had been bestowed upon the happy couple, an elaborate repast was served. They were the recipients of a number of pretty and useful presents, among which was a beautiful book, "Bridal Bells," from the bride's mother, which was formally presented by Elder Henton, a complete dinner set, glass tea sets, goblets, water set, bread plate, and a silver cake basket. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Boyd, Elder M. F. S. Henton, Miss Annie Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. John Mowry, Miss Ida Mowry, Misses Maud and Kay Rust, and Masters William Sherman and Johnny Boyd Mowry. A GUEST.

Working Night and Day. The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar-coated globe of health, that changes weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain-fog into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25c per box. Sold by A. D. Bolton & Co., druggist.

THE PLAY. The comedy in three acts, "Diamonds and Hearts," came off on Saturday evening before a crowded house, many being unable to procure seats. The acting throughout was most excellent and creditable. All through the play Mrs. I. M. Smith and Mrs. I. D. DeMoss sustained their parts extremely well, while the acting of Mrs. J. B. Hosford as Bernice Halstead, the heroine, was amusing and charming. Mrs. G. N. Bolton's acting as mother of Dwight Bradley was undoubtedly the masterpiece of the performance. In the second act Mr. W. H. Moore, as Abraham Barnes, and Mrs. Moore, as Hannah, Abraham's sister, caused much hilarity; in fact, Abraham brought down the house several times, with his homely expressions and unsophisticated drolleries. Geo. N. Bolton, as Sammy, the black boy, kept the juvenile portion of the audience in roars of laughter whenever he appeared. The parts of Dwight Bradley, Dr. Burton and the sheriff, were ably impersonated by J. B. Hosford, P. O. DeMoss and Ed Doran.

Professor Davis, on the piano forte, accompanied by Professor Wheat, on the violin, discoursed some choice selections of music during the performance.

We extend congratulations to our gifted home talent, and hope that in the near future they will appear before us again.

Resolutions of Condolence. Moro, Or., Jan. 24, 1898.

To the Citizens of Moro. I would like when any of you are passing along by the fire plugs, and you see any of the wreches lying around loose, that you would take the trouble to see that they are properly secured to the plugs, for in case of fire, if they were not in their place, it might cost the property-holders severe loss. By so doing you will greatly oblige.
