If you want these qualities and the success they bring, use Dr. King's New Life Pills. They develop every power of brain and body. Only 25 cents at A. D. Bolton & Co's drug store.

"The Confederate Spy."

It is the universal opinion of all who attended this military drama at the opera house on Friday evening, that The Young People's Dramatic Company of Moro have reason to be proud of the success of their entertainment. The sight of our smart uniforms, the bugle call and clash of arms, brings home to us very forcibly the stern realities of war, and turns our thoughts to the boys in blue who are fighting shoulder to shoulder in the Philippines. The play opens with Miss Myrtle Lewis as Maude Bradley, a Southern belle and lover of George Waterman, a young unionist. As the play advanced this young lady charmed the audience with her excellent acting and pleasing personality. Act second brought into play the laughable drolleries of Sockery Schneidbecker, Chas. Ragsdale, who, through the whole performance, never failed to produce peals of merriment and well-merited applause from the whole house. In the next act we have the Confederate Spy revealed, ably impersonated by C. N. McCaleb, whose acting was one of the main features of the evening. As a young unionist officer, W. H. Ragsdale did some fine work in the fourth act, when he saves the life of Gen. Banks, and engages at the sword's point the young rebel aide-de-camp, Fred. Ainsley, Dolph Heydt. The performance wound up with a very beautiful tableau, where the blue and the gray appear in perfect harmony, and the troubles of the young lovers are cast to the winds. A series of choice selections were rendered by the Moro Orchestra. Taken as a whole the play was a marked success. Every role was ably sustained throughout. The hall was packed to the doors with an appreciative audience, and the gross receipts amounted to the tidy sum of $120.

After those had left whose dancing days are done, the young folks joined in an impromptu hop, and waltz, quadrille and polka followed each other until a late hour.

We have to chronicle in this issue the sad death on Sunday last of a bright young girl, in the person of Dora, aged 15 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Titus, of Rufus. This office extends sincere sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle, and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use, and after taking six bottles found herself sound and well; now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottles of this great discovery at A. D. Bolton & Co's Drug Store. Only 50 cents and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

The way to make money is to advertise—in the MORO LEADER.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Wm. Holder acted as chaperon for the young folks going to Grass Valley in the hay rack Saturday evening. It has also been intimated that he took a prisoner—or partner along too—but don't say anything about this; but there were two other gentlemen of prominence that could not get a piece of calico to go, and were forced to take each other in a buggy. You can get either of their names by calling on F. E. B. or H. A. M.

Friday afternoon, when John Ryan and his wife had reached the Three-mile hill, on their way to their home on Five-mile, they met the stage coming into The Dalles. The curtain of one of the stage windows was flapping, and their horses, becoming frightened, shied to one side, throwing the old lady and gentleman over a grade from four to six feet below. Mrs. Ryan escaped injury, but Mrs. Ryan was badly hurt, three ribs and her collar bone being broken. She was at once put into the stage and brought to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Darnielle, in The Dalles.—Oregonian.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female disease quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle-working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run-down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by A. D. Bolton & Co., druggist.

A gruesome story comes from the far north of the finding of the bodies of Andree and his two companions hard by a pitiful pretense of shelter constructed from the wreck of a balloon. It is just eighteen months since this adventurous explorer undertook an aerial voyage from Spitzbergen to the north pole. The result of the venture, as detailed in a dispatch announcing this discovery, is not surprising. Indeed, but one result was expected, though the general opinion has been that the white silence in which the balloon bearing Andree and his companions was swallowed up in the summer of 1897 would hold their fate a mystery. The world—scientific as well as curious—will wait with interest the report of the Russian police, sent to Yemiseik, North Siberia, to verify the story of the finding of the bodies of the luckless aeronauts.—Oregonian.

A judge, pointing with his cane to a prisoner before him, remarked: "There is a great rogue at the end of this stick." "At which end, your honor?" asked the prisoner.

FOR EXCHANGE.

A store building and residence in Hood River, Oregon. Property rents for $100 a year. In exchange for Sherman county farm land. Address or call on R. E. HOEKINSON, Moro Oregon.

INCREASED WATER RATES.

For the past 4 months the Moro Water Co. have been trying to centralize expenses so that monthly receipts would cover the monthly cost of running the plant. Yet with the utmost care and economy each month has shown a deficit. Finally, at the regular monthly meeting held Feb. 23, the directors decided to advance the charges for water per month as follows:

Dwelling house, for one family.....$1.75
Each additional family, in same house.....1.25
Each family having no faucet, but using from others.....1.25
Each office or store having no faucet, but using from others.....1.00
Hotels, each.....3.00
Restaurants, each.....2.25
Livery stables, each.....3.00
And when water is used for washing vehicles, an additional.....1.50
Brick yard.....5.00
Garber shops, with baths.....2.50
School house, (outside faucet).....2.00
Steam engines, each.....2.50
Irrigation, for each faucet.....2.00
All others not enumerated above.....1.75
This to take effect on and after March 1, 1899. MORO WATER COMPANY.

SPECIAL.

Notice is hereby given that the Columbia Southern Railway Company, a corporation duly organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Oregon, and the directors of said Columbia Southern Railway Company acting under authority of resolutions duly adopted by the affirmative vote of all of the stockholders of the company at a meeting of said stockholders held at the city of The Dalles, Oregon, on the 8th day of December, have filed in the office of the Secretary of State of the State of Oregon, and in the office of the county clerk of the county of Wasco, Oregon, and in the office of the clerk of Sherman county, Oregon, certain amendments to the corporation amending Articles III, IV and VI of the present articles of incorporation of said company so that said Articles III, IV and VI of said Articles of Incorporation shall, when amended, read as follows:

ARTICLE III.

The enterprise, pursuit, business and occupation in which this corporation shall be:

First—To acquire, build, own, construct, and to maintain and operate such constructed, owned or acquired railroad and telegraph lines, and to carry freight and passengers thereon, and to transmit messages thereover, and to receive tolls for the carriage or transmission of the same, the following railroad and telegraph lines, namely:
