THE MORO SILVER CORNET BAND SOCIAL.

It was a well pleased audience that filed out of the opera house on Saturday night at the conclusion of the band social. Never was the fact more clearly demonstrated that our local talent, backed up by ice-cream and strawberries, can always draw a large crowd. All the numbers on the programme were well rendered and highly appreciated.

The Rev. Nickelsen opened the proceedings with a neat speech, in which he thanked the good people present for their promptitude in turning out en masse to help along a good cause, and assist in defraying the expense which has been incurred to bring our local band to such a high state of perfection. The merits of this band are now so well known that it is needless for us to say that the music throughout the evening was of an excellent order and fully enjoyed by the audience.

After the overture, Miss Spear, who has a most enjoyable voice, sang with much feeling and expression, the song, "Ah, I Have Sighed to Rest Me," from Verdi's opera. This was followed by a recitation by C. N. McCaleb, rendered in an able manner, after which the two little Proebstel girls, Ora and Neva, sang the song, "American Flag," by Emerson, and, responding to an encore, they sang a sweet hymn of praise to the Lord. The little tots acquitted themselves admirably, and were heartily applauded. Next in order came the duet, "Where The Sparkling Waters Play," rendered by Mrs. J. B. Hosford and Mrs. I. D. DeMoss, in their usual pleasing manner. Miss Edna Strahl next told of the troubles of an "Inventor's Wife," which was productive of much amusement. The audience was next charmed by Mrs. Proebstel's song, "The Pride of the Ball."

"The New Church Organ" was then recited perfectly by Miss Gertrude Elrod, after which Miss May Johnson's fine voice was heard to much advantage in Kline's beautiful song, "Apple Blossoms." The audience was much disappointed that she failed to respond to the hearty encore which she received. The recitation, "God's Light Leading," by Mr. Proebstel, followed by a selection by the band, brought the exercises to a close. Then came the strawberries and cream of the joke, after which the audience dispersed with a hope they may be able to enjoy such another good time in the near future.
