The Rev. Morrison Retires from Active Work in the Presbyterian Church.

A very pleasant social gathering took place at the Rev. Morrison's residence on Friday evening, when a number of intimate friends and members of his congregation assembled to express their regret on the Rev. gentleman's retiring from active work in the Presbyterian churches in Sherman county, which have been under the charge of Mr. Morrison for the last 13 years, during which time he has labored faithfully in the Master's vineyard, having the love and esteem of the members of his church and the respect of the whole community. About a hundred people participated in the proceedings on Friday, and did ample justice to a magnificent lunch, the hospitable board groaning under the weight of good things. The inner man being provided for, Mrs. White made a neat speech in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Morrison, which was followed by Miss McLaughlin making the pastor a presentation of a very substantial nature. Father Wright then spoke at length of the many good qualities of Mr. and Mrs. Morrison, paying an eloquent tribute to their christian charity and faithful work during their long residence in the county. Mr. Axtel brought the proceedings to a close, speaking in glowing terms of the excellent work done by Miss Margaret Morrison in connection with the Sunday School.
