General Woodgate Dead. London, Jan. 27.—Advices have been received from Spearman's camp that General Woodgate has succumbed to the wounds he received in the attack on Spionkop.

POLYGAMIST NOT ADMITTED

The House Voted That Roberts Not Be Admitted.

CLOSING DAY OF THE DEBATE

Majority Resolution Carried—Votes on the Two Propositions—The Result Was Received With Cheers.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The case of Brigham H. Roberts, the Mormon representative-elect from Utah, which has occupied so much of the attention of the house since the assembling of congress, was decided today by the adoption of a resolution to exclude him by a vote of 268 to 50. The exact language of the resolution is as follows: "That under the facts and circumstances of the case, Brigham H. Roberts, representative-elect from the state of Utah, ought not to have or hold a seat in the house of representatives, and that the seat to which he was elected is hereby declared vacant."

The amendment to expel Roberts without seating him, offered by Lacey, was ruled out on a point of order, and the house only voted on the resolution of the majority and minority of the committee. The latter—to seat and then expel Roberts—was defeated, 81 to 244. An analysis of this vote shows that 170 Republicans, 72 Democrats and 20 Populists voted against it, and 72 Democrats, 3 Republicans, two Populists and two Silver-Republicans for it.

The affirmative vote on the majority resolution—to exclude Roberts and declare the seat vacant—was divided as follows: Republicans, 168; Democrats, 96; Populists, 4. The negative vote: Democrats, 47; Silver-Republicans, 2; Populists, 1.

There were over a score of speakers today, and the closing speeches on each side were particularly able. Lanham, of Texas, closed for the majority, and DeArmond, of Missouri, for the minority.

The announcement of the result of the final vote was received with cheers. Roberts was present throughout the day, and left the hall after the result of the last vote had been announced. As he did so, he gave out a statement justifying his retention of his plural wives, on the ground that his moral obligation was more binding upon his conscience than technical obedience to statutory laws, and saying that there was little excuse for the extraordinary efforts to crush a system already abandoned and practically dead. He said he was a martyr to a "grosser of prejudice." He would not, he said, attempt to run for congress again, although he would go back home with a light heart confident of the future.

Old Slavery Question. Washington, Jan. 27.—Just at the close of today's session of the senate, a speech delivered by Morgan of Mississippi, on the race question in the South precipitated a heated colloquy between him and Chandler, of New Hampshire, in which the latter alleged that the southern senators had made separate statements, were reopening the whole Southern question in the senate, after it was supposed to be dead. The charge which Chandler particularly noticed was made by Morgan, of Alabama, who is absent at present, but it had been reiterated substantially, in Chandler's opinion, by other senators, he declared he did not propose to permit it to go unrefuted. The charge was made that the civil war had been precipitated by deigning politicians of the North for the purpose of putting the slaves on a political and social equality with the Southern whites. Chandler's retort was that the resolution was made with characteristic reverence and aggressiveness, but as no reply was offered, the incident ended there.

The urgent deficiency bill, carrying about $9,000,000, passed without division, and practically without debate.

Runaway Freight. Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 27.—A freight train on the Central railroad of New Jersey, coming down the Wilkesbarre mountain, this afternoon, ran away. At the foot of the mountain, near the Ashley siding, the cars left the track and were piled high in a big wreck. There was dynamite in one of the cars and it exploded with great force. The shock was felt a distance of 20 miles. The windows of nearly every house in the town of Ashley were broken. Three men, all of them brakemen, were killed, two unknown men were fatally injured and several others were lacerated. The dead are: Frank McLaughlin, of Mauch Chunk, aged 27; Michael Bird, of Ashley, aged 22; and William Buckley, of this city, aged 28.

Dynamite Outrage at Denver. Leadville, Colo., Jan. 27.—Another dynamite outrage—the fourth since Sunday—was committed at 4 o'clock this morning, when an explosion in the rear of the Western opera house caused slight damage. When the police arrived, they found two sticks of giant powder that failed to explode. The city was greatly excited and a force of night watchmen will be employed.

Petition For Mediation. Brussels, Jan. 27.—Nearly 100,000 signatures have been appended to the address promoted by M. Le Juene and other members of the Universal Peace Society, asking President McKinley to mediate, which will be forwarded to Washington in the course of a fortnight.

Cabinet Discussed Puerto Rico. Washington, Jan. 25.—The cabinet at its regular meeting today again discussed at length the Puerto Rican situation. The opinion is unanimous in the cabinet that free trade with the island, or a nominal duty, is essential to prevent widespread business disaster among all classes of its people.

General Woodgate Dead. London, Jan. 27.—Advices have been received from Spearman's camp that General Woodgate has succumbed to the wounds he received in the attack on Spionkop.

COMMISSION MAY GOVERN.

President Now Has a New Plan for the Philippines.

New York, Jan. 27.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: The proposition made by the Filipino leader, Senor Mabini, for a civil commission to treat with the Filipinos will not be considered by the administration until the general disposition is to regard Mabini's request as another play for delay.

It is the purpose of President McKinley to inaugurate a civil government to supersede military rule in the Philippines at the earliest possible moment, and he is favorably inclined toward a commission in lieu of a governor-general, and is discussing the question of a special meeting for such a commission.

If his present plans are carried out the Filipinos will have all of the commissions they want to confer with, for in addition to a commission for the government of the island, it is not unlikely that congress will appoint a joint commission to investigate the islands next summer and report to the next session as a guide for future legislation.

A great deal of interest was manifested in congressional circles in the communication from Senor Mabini. There is some diversity of opinion over a proposition and its feasibility. Senor Mabini, leader of the anti-administration forces in this fight, was deeply interested in the proposition.

"That sounds fair and just," said "I and I do not see how such a proposition can be of any benefit to us, but I understand, all the Filipinos ask is that congress listen to them before deciding their fate."

Senator Lodge, who represents the administration's views of the Philippine question, is in favor of the proposition. "It will be time enough to talk of commissions when these people lay down their arms and stop fighting our soldiers," he said.

Senator Beveridge, a most pronounced annexationist, regards Mabini as the equal, as a conservative statesman, of any man in public life in America. Of his proposition, however, he said:

"I would have to study it more closely before giving an opinion that would be of value, but if I were to answer off hand, I would say that it is not a suggestion that has been anticipated by the government of a civil commission which visited the islands and which did everything possible to bring about an understanding with the Filipinos."

John Barrett, former minister to Siam, said:

"Whatever comes from Mabini is certainly worth considering. I am inclined, however, to think it is too late for anything to be done on this line. The only thing to do is to go in and complete American victory and then get to work and help the Filipinos develop the largest amount of self-government which they are capable of."

PLAGUE SCARE IN HAWAII.

Hilo in Open Rebellion Against the Government.

Honolulu, Jan. 19, via Victoria, B. C., Jan. 27.—Up to and including January 19, there were 34 cases of bubonic plague reported, 17 of which proved fatal. Since that date five cases have been discovered. The most important and alarming was that of a white woman, the wife of George Borman, an old resident in this city, who died on the 14th. The woman lingered for two days and then succumbed. This case created great alarm among the white people here, and a citizens' meeting was called to discuss the matter. The committee on the spot will be entirely reduced to ashes.

The town of Hilo has come out in open rebellion against the government, and threatens to resist by force any attempt to carry out the rules made by the authorities here. Reports from the Hawaiian border indicate a condition bordering on panic among the people, who seem ready to offer mob violence to representatives of the government.

TO SEE JUSTICE DONE.

A Body of Armed and Determined Men Invade Frankfort, Ky.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 27.—A special train bearing some 150 men, carrying Winchester rifles, arrived in Frankfort this morning. The men hail from the counties of Bell, Allen, Knox, Harlan, Whitley, Metcalf and Edmonson. They are all members of the "Knights of the Ku Klux Klan," and are here to visit carry arms. Governor Taylor stated to the press representative that the men were not soldiers.

The men marched to the stables, stacked their guns and took up positions in groups about the building. Adjutant-General Collier states he had no knowledge that the men were coming. Many of the visitors are members of state guard.

Ex-Secretary of State Finley addressed the visitors from the step of the state house. He said the object of the gathering was to see justice done. A committee was appointed to draft resolutions. Stephen Sharp, of Lexington was chosen chairman.

Chinese Emperor Is Dead. London, Jan. 27.—According to a special dispatch from Shanghai, it is reported that Emperor Kwang Su has committed suicide.

Warren Abandons Spionkop. London, Jan. 27.—The war office announced that General Warren has abandoned Spionkop.

Last Band Scatterers. Washington, Jan. 27.—General Otis' called report, received this morning, indicating that General Schwan is conducting the campaign in the south of Luzon with the greatest energy. He has located southeast of Laguna de Bay what is probably the last considerable band of insurgents remaining in the island, and the report shows that with a small loss to himself and heavy loss to the enemy he has managed completely to dissipate this force, probably beyond the possibility of reconstruction.

FARMERS OF FOUR STATES

Coming Session at Salem Will Be Important Affair.

WILL DISCUSS STATE FAIRS

Fruitgrowers, Stockmen, Hoggrowers and Horticulturists Will Be Present at This Important Meeting.

Salem, Or., Jan. 29.—The farmers' congress to be held in Salem February 7 and 8 will probably be the most important meeting of the kind ever held in this state.

The gathering will be of more than state importance, for the agricultural interests of California, Washington and Idaho will also be represented. It will be more than a meeting of farmers, as that term is generally understood, for fruitgrowers, stockmen, hoggrowers, horticulturists, in fact, men of all occupations related to agriculture, will be present. The congress is intended to comprehend all the departments of the diversified agricultural industries of the coast, and it is expected that a permanent organization will be effected.

This movement was started by the Salem chamber of commerce, working in unison with the state board of agriculture, and one of the chief objects to be attained is the arrangement of dates for the coast state fairs, so that the Washington and Idaho so that there will be no conflict. By such an arrangement horsemen and exhibitors will be enabled to make the circuit of the coast states in this season, and the various fairs will be improved accordingly.

Secretary of State Dunbar has offered the use of either of the legislative chambers for the congress, and it is expected that the meetings will be held in one of these spacious halls. The date has been arranged so as to be convenient for those who may come from various parts of the state to attend the meeting.

The first portion of the Seventh division is about Hines, with the 10,000 men of this division, and about 9,000 now at sea, it lies in the power of Lord Roberts to reinforce General Buller here. This course is advised by several military writers.

Although England's nerves are severely tried, her nerve is absolutely unshaken, and probably nothing that can happen in South Africa will change in the least her determination to win at last.

Department of Commerce. Washington, Jan. 29.—The question of establishing a department of the government to be known as the department of commerce, with a cabinet officer at its head, has been discussed at considerable length by the senate committee on commerce. The discussion was based upon a very complete report on the subject prepared by Senator Nelson.

It is proposed to include in the new department a bureau of manufactures, and to transfer from the treasury department the life-saving, lighthouse, marine hospital and steamboat inspection service, the bureau of navigation, census, statistics and coast and geodetic surveys, to transfer from the interior department the commission of railway, the census office and the geodetic survey, and from the state department the bureau of foreign commerce.

The department of labor and the fish and game commission are also placed under this supervision.

Robert's Salary. Washington, Jan. 29.—The question of salary and mileage allowed for Mr. Roberts is to be considered by the senate committee on commerce. There is about $1,000 on mileage account for Mr. Roberts, but there is some doubt as to whether those sums should be applied to his account.

Investigation of Warmer Troubles. Washington, Jan. 29.—The house committee on military affairs today agreed to proceed with the investigation of the Idaho labor troubles February 14, and to arrange that the report of the general and auditor of the department and Major-General Merriam should be asked to appear at that time. Sulzer, of New York, and Lentz, of Ohio, who have been urging the inquiry, are to furnish the names of additional witnesses to be examined.

Diamond Robbery in Philadelphia. Philadelphia, Jan. 27.—Diamonds valued at $5,000 were stolen from the safe in the office of Joseph K. Davidson & Son, manufacturing jewelers. That the thief was in possession of the diamonds is evidenced by the fact that there was not a mark on the safe.

Samuel W. Nealy, while temporarily insane, hanged himself at the Dalles. He was 78 years old.

Separationists in West Australia. Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 29.—West Australia has a separationist movement on the part of the residents of the gold fields, who are virtually unanimous in their desire for severance from the rest of the colony. In spite of the efforts of the West Australian government to throttle the movement, a petition signed by 35,000 adults has been dispatched to London, asking for separation of the gold fields, with a view to federation.

Narrow Escape From Fire. Wardner, Idaho, Jan. 29.—Magnuson's restaurant, at Gen, burned this morning; loss, $600. Mr. Magnuson occupied the second story of the building. He escaped from a window, and a narrow escape from death. Mrs. Magnuson and her two children were both considerably burned, but not seriously. The mother, finding her escape by the doorway cut off, seized the children, threw them from a window to the firemen below, and then jumped out herself. The little boy, 2 years old, was hurt by the fall more seriously than by his burns.

GLOOM IN ENGLAND.

Fears That The War Office Is Withholding Bad News.

London, Jan. 29.—Seven days of fighting have left the main Boer position intact, and the official casualty lists, which seemingly do not include the Spionkop losses, as those last forwarded do not mention General Woodgate's wounding.

England is possessed by a sense of failure, though not a word in criticism of her generals and soldiers is uttered. Not much effort is made to place a happy construction upon General Buller's loss, so far as telling there is an uneasy impression abroad that worse news is yet to come. At one of the military clubs tonight, the statement passed from one person to another that the Boer had received an important supplementary dispatch from General Buller, which was being held up for 12 hours.

Spencer Wilkinson, in the Morning Post, writes as follows of the Spionkop losses: "This is a serious matter, and an attempt will not here be made to minimize it, for no greater wrong can be done to our people at home than to mislead them about the significance of the events of the war. The right way to tell the truth, as far as we know it."

But the facts from the neighborhood of the Tugela are scantier than ever. The Boer force is now simply prohibitive, and something is wrong with the cables. The break on the east coast lines has been repaired, but the cable between San Thome and Loanda, on the east coast, is now interrupted. "More troops!" is the only suggestion here as to the way to break the Boer resistance. Mr. Wilkinson regrets that General Buller has not 20,000 men, declaring that if they would not make victory certain, his enterprise without them is hopeless.

The Spectator, dealing with the necessity of large additional military preparations, says: "It may be that we have yet another cycle of disaster in front of us."

The transport Assaye arrived at Cape Town last Friday, with 2,127 officers and men. The first portion of the Seventh division is about Hines, with the 10,000 men of this division, and about 9,000 now at sea, it lies in the power of Lord Roberts to reinforce General Buller here. This course is advised by several military writers.
