Locals

Mrs. Al Kirtley was here last week from The Dalles visiting her brother L. L. Peetz and family.

C. Paul Huls was a business visitor at The Dalles Wednesday. Mrs. O. K. Huls accompanied him.

Raymond Crowder, editor of the Arlington Bulletin, was in town Monday evening from the river city.

Fred Pickett was in Portland Saturday where he was getting a new Ford for Art Bibby of Grass Valley.

The local golfers were busy Sunday morning preparing the course on the fair grounds for season's play.

W. T. Balsinger was in Newberg over the week end to attend the wedding of his sister. She is a teacher in the schools of Coos county.

Walter Melzer and wife are here for a few days visiting with Mr. Melzer's brothers and Mrs. Melzer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Belshie.

Ralph and Vivian Goodrich, of Kelso, Wash., spent last Sunday with the L. R. Conley family. He was formerly employed at Pickett's garage.

The series of meetings being held at the Full Gospel church are expected to continue all next week, including Monday. The hour is 7:45 p. m.

T. C. Fairchild, known to the older residents of the county as Cash Fairchild, visited in Moro last Friday from his home in Portland where he says he is a wheat grader for exporters.

George N. Belknap, son of C. V. Belknap, who received his masters degree at the University of Oregon last year has been appointed research assistant in the classics department of the University for next school year.

The influenza has attacked the business men of Moro seriously in the past two weeks. W. H. Ragsdale, J. C. McKean and R. H. Coppock were confined to their homes for several days with varying forms of the disease.

R. J. Carsner, present state senator from Sherman, Gilliam, and Wheeler counties, received the appointment as Registrar of the United States Land Office in The Dalles. Mr. Carsner is a resident of Spray in Wheeler county.

Chester Searcy, who has been cutting wood and posts near Redmond with Edgar Miller, returned home Saturday with a split juniper plank of a very large size for that sort of wood as it measures 22 inches from center to bark. Douma Bros. have it on display.

A construction crew of the Pacific Power and Light Co., installed new switches in Moro and at the DeMoss substation the first of the week. It is believed by the company that these heavier switches will eliminate much of the trouble caused by winter weather.

George and Orrin Urquhart, who now reside in Portland, were here Sunday to visit with their father, Rob't Urquhart and to decorate their mother's grave with evergreen holly brought from the city. Miss Laura Urquhart was here from Bend the same day making a pleasant family reunion.

Betty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hulse, received a bad cut on her right arm last Saturday while playing at her parent's farm east of town. While riding a mule she turned to speak to her sister and was knocked from her mount onto a barbed wire fence when he walked too close to the barn.

A meeting of interest to all wheat growers will be held in the Legion hall in Moro, Friday night March 6th at 8 P. M. when Orris Dorman, chairman of the Northwest Regional Grain Growers, will speak. This meeting is held to acquaint members of the Grain Growers and all others who may be interested with the actions and aims of the National Farm Board.

Tom Fraser took a truck load of horses to Portland Wednesday. R. H. Coppock was in The Dalles Thursday afternoon on business for the bank.

Sheriff Chrisman was in The Dalles Monday attending to legal matters for the county.

Homer Beall attended a meeting of representatives of the power company in The Dalles last Monday afternoon.

The drop in gasoline prices caused by the general gas war gives farmers something to be thankful about, coming as it does just when they are starting spring work.

Mrs. A. S. Johnson is visiting in Kent this week with the Pleumpke family.

Mr. and Mrs. V. S. Barr were called to Lebanon, Ore., last week to attend the funeral of Mrs. Phyllis Littlefield, aunt of Mrs. Barr, who died the same week at her home in San Francisco. To settle matters connected with the estate, Mr. and Mrs. Barr went from Lebanon to San Francisco, returning to Moro on Monday.

Twenty-eight neighbors and friends of Mrs. J. B. Adams met by appointment last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. L. V. Moore, going from there to the Adams residence where Mrs. O. K. Hulse had apprised her that she might expect a small company of friends to spend the evening in honor of her birthday.

Mrs. Adams was greatly surprised by the number of those present. She received many presents in memory of the occasion, chief among which was a large cedar chest from Mr. Adams. Near the close of the evening marshmallow pudding, chocolate cake, angel cake and coffee were served as refreshments.

Grass Valley

Lewis Zogg was a visitor in Antelope the last of the week.

Roy J. Baker and family drove to Portland Thursday night to transact a little business.

Art Bibby and wife returned home Sunday evening from Portland. They are driving a new Ford.

Matt Simon was laid up a few days last week with a touch of the influenza.

Charles Forrester returned by stage last Saturday night after spending several weeks in Portland receiving medical attention.

Jim Brown the second was here last week from Redmond. His brother Bob came down to work in Sherman county during the spring rush.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. French and family moved to Moro Friday of last week where they will have charge of the Sherman County Journal.

Mrs. Lucy Ruggles returned to her home here this week from Pendleton where she spent the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Rasmussen.

Members of the I. O. O. F. lodge were in Kent Monday night and in Wasco Wednesday night attending county wide meetings of the order.

Mrs. George Wilcox entertained five tables of bridge players last Thursday afternoon at her home here. Included in the guest list were several ladies from Moro.

Sunday being a perfect spring day the golf course on the city park grounds was filled with golfers of both the cussing and discussing variety.

Harry Benson and family of Moro moved into the Scheurer house this week. Mr. Benson is employed on the county road work south of town.

The Grange dance last Saturday night was well attended as a crowd of about one hundred twenty five filled the Grange hall. A real old fashioned good time is reported.

Last Thursday morning between Kent and Shaniko some of the parcel post packages on the mail stage were found to be afire. Mr. Dickson stopped and removed the blazing mail sacks before the truck caught fire, but a few sacks were destroyed. It is not known how the fire was started unless some inflammable material had been mailed. Mrs. Ella Olds, who has been very ill for the last week, was to the hospital in The Dalles for a major operation. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Nahouse of Moro, will care for her family in her absence.

The Full Gospel Assembly
"The Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost."—Luke 19:10.
Who came? God's pattern man, the only true man that ever lived. If you would know God's idea of a man look at Jesus; for He and He only is "The Son of Man." For whom He came? The lost! No hopeless cases then. For what did He come? "To seek"—a world of meaning in that, and "to save"—a great meaning in that also. A man must take his place as lost before Jesus can save. And he that desires to give proof of his being a believer, should walk the narrow way, renounce the sins which have formerly most easily beset him. The man that professes to know Christ and trust Him, yet cleaves to the world and sin, is going down to hell with a lie in his right hand. The heart that has really tasted the grace of God will instinctively hate sin and will have for the heart cry—"What shall I render to the Lord for all His benefits?"—Selected.

Evangelistic meetings conducted at the church each night by Evangelist Liebigh and party. We invite every praying person to join us in earnest supplication for a revival, and extend a cordial invitation to all to attend.
J. D. and Mrs. Miller, Pastors.

Methodist Church Notes
(Moro)
Church School every Sunday morning at 10:00.
Preaching March 15 at 11:00 a. m.
The Ladies Aid Society meets every Thursday at 2:00 p. m.
The attendance at Church School last Sunday morning was very encouraging, while the fine spirit of Christian fellowship which pervaded both school and church services added interest and made the hours of worship a time of delight and profit.

The Boy Scout troop of nineteen members with Scout Master Melvin Schadewitz, made a fine appearance as they saluted the flag and gave their Scout Oath. Every one seemed to rejoice with Harold Thogerson in the honor conferred upon him as he received the Eagle Badge of the association.
On March 12, Mrs. W. B. Norton of Portland, recently from Chicago, will speak at the church at 2:30 in the interest of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. Every one is invited.

The church with a cordial welcome.
F. A. Ginn, pastor.

Church School every Sunday morning at 10:00.
Preaching next Sunday morning at 11:00.
At the close of the Sunday School lesson there will be a splendid story told about "Three Heroes of the Olden Time."
The Church School last Sunday morning was fine. The enrollment is increasing nearly every Sunday.
On Thursday evening of last week there was a social at the church in honor of the class winning in the trip to Jerusalem. Mrs. Karl Eaton read a short paper giving a comprehensive description of Palestine and Jerusalem. Considerable time was given to games and every one had a very pleasant time. We wish to thank the adult members who so generously helped to make this our first social such a fine success.
The Church School is starting on another trip. This time to the Sea of Galilee.
The church with a cordial welcome.
F. A. Ginn, Pastor.

Gets $170 in Holdup and Drops Glass Gun
Philadelphia.—"And then the pistol dropped out of the bandit's hand and broke into a thousand pieces."
That should be the ending of the story, but it happens to be the main plot, so it's right up on top.
Harry Deamer, manager of a chain grocery store, was attending to a customer when a youth in a dark blue cap and gray overcoat entered.
He brandished a pistol at Deamer, the customer, Mrs. Barbara Bahl, and Mrs. Bahl's daughter.
"Put 'em up!" he ordered.
Deamer "put 'em up." The robber, about eighteen, took $170 from the till and forced the manager to give him the padlock to the store.
Still wiggling the weapon before him, the young bandit backed out. He had just placed the padlock on the door, without, however, locking it, when the pistol fell out of his hand.
A thousand splinters from what was revealed as a glass weapon flew in all directions.
The startled bandit took one look at the even more astonished store manager and then rushed south, with Deamer in hot but vain pursuit. Deamer notified police and returned to sweep up what was left of the glass pistol.

Hospital to "Brand" Babies With Sun Lamp
Newark, N. J.—Beth Israel hospital, Newark, adopted an entirely new system for the identification of babies born in the institution. A few minutes after the child has been born, a stencil containing the initials of the mother will be placed on an arm of both the mother and child and will be sun-burned onto the skin by exposure to an ultraviolet ray lamp. The hospital considers the method a perfectly harmless and satisfactory scheme.
The slightly red initials will remain visible for ten days and if the patients are placed in a dark room the letters may be detected for several weeks longer. Dr. Paul Keller of the hospital staff developed the system.

Divorce Costs $8,000, but Marriage Only $7
Okmulgee, Okla.—People laugh at the old saying that two can live as cheap as one, but not Joe McNac, wealthy Indian. It cost Joe $8,000 recently when his wife Lucy secured a divorce from him. But Lucy relented the divorce and wanted Joe to remarry her, Joe thought it would be a good idea, too, so he did. When he counted up his bills after the second marriage he found it had cost him only $7, or $7,993 less than the divorce cost.

Man Pays 35-Year-Old Meat Bill With Interest
Springfield, Mo.—The McCoy brothers are hailing one man as the original honest man. They recount the story of how, thirty-five years ago, a man entered their meat market and ordered $4.45 worth of meat on credit. He failed to pay the bill. Just the other day the same man walked in and asked for a bill. "Old ledgers were dug out and a bill was given him. He paid it with interest."

iat had been mailed. Mrs. Ella Olds, who has been very ill for the last week, was to the hospital in The Dalles for a major operation. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Nahouse of Moro, will care for her family in her absence.
