Locals

Dr. Clarke, Eye Specialist, in Moro Sunday April 19th at Hotel Moro.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Flatt, a son, Wednesday morning April 15th.

Fred Schultz returned to Portland Monday after spending a few days visiting friends in Moro.

Mrs. Philip Searcy returned Thursday from Beaverton where she has been since Saturday visiting her cousin.

Mrs. Clyde Jillmor underwent a major operation at the mid-Columbia in The Dalles Thursday morning.

While Mrs. A. Rose was in Spokane Saturday she visited Mrs.
C. E. Sheets, a former Moro resident.

Audrey Baker entertained with a birthday party last Friday afternoon. Ice cream and cake was served to twelve.

George Alexander, who is the state prohibition officer, was here last Saturday when he called at the sheriff's office.

Mrs. J. C. Freeman has been in LaGrande for the past week visiting her son and daughter who live in or near that city.

George Hennigan and O. L.
Belshe went to Camp Sherman Wednesday morning to practise swinging the hook and line again.

L. L. Peetz and wife drove to their summer home on the Me-telius river last Monday to be on hand when the fishing season opened.

W. D. Wallen returned Monday from Walla Walla where he had been viewing the damage done by the flood of two weeks ago.

Lester Barnum shipped a carload of young cattle to Portland Saturday night and went down Sunday to see them sold. He returned Tuesday morning.

Clarence Sparling, Jim Kenny and son Glenn, Chester Seary and no doubt many others, started out early Wednesday looking for a good fishing stream.

Mrs. Charles, Boardman of Hood River, went thru Moro Monday on her way to Camp Sherman to stay for the summer.
Mr. Boardman is employed on Highway work there.

A. Buckley is a man that carries much weight in railroad-circles in this state for he is general superintendent of the Union Pacific. He was here last Saturday on a tour of inspection.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Feenstra of Sheridan spent Tuesday evening visiting friends in Moro, leaving Wednesday morning for The Dalles to attend a Missionary meeting before returning home.

W. D. Wallan is moving his household goods to Walla Walla where he will be employed by the Rumley Machine Co. Avery Martin is moving into the house vacated by Mr. Wallan.

Bessie Thompson and Marie Peters were appointed by the Rebekah Lodge as delegates to the Grand Lodge in Corvallis Apr. 19.
Bessie Thompson was also recommended as District Deputy President.

Superintendent Rakes gave Achievement tests to all the Moro High School pupils last Tuesday. These tests will be given to all High School students in the county and the results compiled and compared.

Vernon Flatt traveled several miles over last week end, for accompanied by Mrs. Rose and his daughter, he drove to Spokane, Wash., where he met his sister-in-law, Miss Bernice Grage, who came from Gardner, N. D., to visit with the Flatt family during the summer. In traveling through Walla Walla, they saw much of the wreckage wrought by the flood.

Mrs. G. C. Akers left Sunday for Los Angeles, California, where she will visit her daughter Mrs. Ruth Holloway, for a month or two. The Akers' home will be presided over by the younger daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Hennigan during her absence.
Lloyd is driving to and from his work in the Bank of Commerce in Wasco.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Ginn, Mrs.
E. E. Barzee, Mrs. Martha Cope Mrs. J. F. Belshe and Mrs. Celia Engels attended the Columbia River Branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society mid-year meeting in The Dalles Wednesday.

Mrs. Chitwood, mother of Mrs.
Joe Truitt, who has been bedfast for several years suffered a painful injury last Tuesday evening when she fell from her bed, breaking her left arm between the elbow and the shoulder. She was taken to the hospital in The Dalles Wednesday morning.

The baseball game played on the Hay Canyon diamond last Sunday between the Gorman and Fairview district on one side and the Hay Canyon team on the other resulted in a victory for the visitors. These teams are part of what will be the Harlandview Grange team and are getting practice by dividing their forces and playing. There will be another game next Sunday, April, 19th.

The opening of the fishing season Wednesday was celebrated by many men with a day's vacation into the canyons and along the rivers. Some who have no urgent farm work to do started on trips that will take a day or two to complete, others could spare only the opening day. Some inveterate fishermen who had stated a few weeks ago that they could not fish this season came to town early to get their license, their vow of strict faithfulness to hard work forgotten.

Three young women of Moro, Misses Laura Ruggles, Doris Forner, and Marjorie Kunsman, were initiated into the Rainbow girls in The Dalles last Tuesday evening. This organization is the junior division of the Eastern Star. They were accompanied by Mrs. F. R. Fortner, Mrs.
W. A. Ruggles and Janet Stephens, who was already a member.

Ladies Aid Society meets Thursday at 2 p. m.
There was a fair attendance both at Sunday school and church last Sunday. The meeting at 3 p. m. in the interest of law enforcement was a very worth while meeting. Methods for creating greater interest in the matter were discussed.

The Kings Heralds under the direction of Mrs. W. C. Bryant met at 5 p. m. There was a full attendance, and wonderful interest. At the close of the meeting Carl Peetz was given a birthday cake which he generously shared with all present.

Easter is too great an occasion to be celebrated in one day. Let us perpetuate it in every day life.

The church with a cordial welcome.

Presbyterian Church.
Justice Lewis L. Fawcett, Supreme Court of New York, says:
"My experience during twenty-five years on the bench, in which time over 4,000 boys under 21 years were convicted of crime before me, of whom but three were members of a Sunday school, has satisfied me of the value of the Sunday schools to the community and the individual. In 1,902 cases of suspended criminal sentences in each of which a minister, priest or rabbi became interested at my request, only 62 of the boys were brought back for violation of the conditions of the parole. If all the children could be kept under the influence of the Sunday school and the grown-ups were active in some church we could close our prisons and jails, instead of being compelled to enlarge and increase their number."

April 19, 1931, Sunday school at 10 a. m.

11 a. m. A message from the General Council of the Presbyterian church will be read at this service. The General Council is the highest governing board of the church and this message has been sent to all the Presbyterian churches in the United States.

The Full Gospel Assembly Revival meetings continue.
The Sunday services are:
Sunday school at 10 a. m.
Preaching at 11.
Evangelistic services at 7:45

Methodist Church Notes
(Grass Valley) Church school every Sunday at 10' Preaching next Sunday morning at 11.

The attendance at church school was very fine last Sunday.
The Jolly Juniors were banner class for attendance. Some of the classes will reach the Sea of Galilee next Sunday.

We hope that the children will have learned the names of all the books of the New Testament by next Sunday.

The theme for the sermon next Sunday morning is "Easter in December"

We wish to say to the adult people of Grass Valley who are not attending any church school that our school is full of interest and a profit. We cordially invite you to join us in the study of the Bible. Senator Capper of Kans., says: "The Sunday school is the corner stone in American character building."

President Hoover returned to Washington after an eleven-day cruise to Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands, with a countenance that approximated the shade of an almost ripe tomato. West Indian sun and wind had burned his face badly, and there was a strong suspicion the skin would peel. There was no question, however, that he was rested, and greatly so, as a result of his leisurely trip.

One of his first announcements was that a tax increase could be avoided if his budget and other recommendations for expenditures were not increased by congress next winter. To that end he appealed to the nation to bring pressure on congress against "the demands of sectional or group interests."

The statement was made in the face of lagging income tax receipts indicating a treasury deficit of perhaps $300,000,000 at the close of the current fiscal year, June 30. It was regarded as part of the President's effort to mobilize public sentiment against further soldier bonus legislation, farm-relief appropriations or similar proposals in the new congress to convene in December.

Senator William E. Borah, Republican insurgent, Idaho, retorted, through the press that "the record is that congress has appropriated less than the budget bureau has recommended each session for the last few years." He declared his willingness to cut off the $300,000,000 provided for the administration's naval building program.

BLIZZARD in Rocky mountain and plains states took a toll of eleven lives, including five children, two men and a woman in Colorado. Scores were in a serious condition from frostbite and exposure.

Thousands of cattle perished in a wide area including Wyoming, Colorado, South Dakota, Nebraska and the western parts of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. In the southern part of the storm area, peach, apricot and other stone-fruit crops were ruined.

The child victims of the storm were pupils at Pleasant Hill school, Township, Colo. The morning of the blizzard Maude Moser, the teacher, ended classes because of the storm. Carl Miller arrived to take the pupils to their homes in the school bus. Miss Moser started to walk to her home. There were twenty-two children in the bus when Miller started, all between the ages of eight and thirteen.

Three miles from Pleasant Hill the bus plowed into a snow drift ten feet deep and stalled. Outside the mass of falling snow was a curtain, obscuring the road, tracks and covering fences. Miller tried to back toward the school but could not get the wheels of the bus free from the drift.

After remaining with the children for many hours, Miller realized he must get aid or all would perish. In the driving storm he started out, thinking he could reach a farmhouse. Struggling on for more than three miles he felt exhausted in a cornfield and perished.

Five of the children were dead when a rescuing party found them, but the rest were saved.

There were other tragedies in the storm that swept the mountain states and other sections; but this tragedy was one to arouse the utmost pity. Bravely the children met their fate! They sang and boxed and played to keep warm, as they were told by the driver before he left them to seek aid, as urged by the young leader put in charge, until the merciless wind and chill benumbed them into helpless drowsiness.

KNUTE KENNETH
Rockne, football coach of Notre Dame, with a name that became a collegiate by-word, plunged to his death with five fellow passengers and two pilots on a Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., air liner in the mid-Kansas grazing country.

Witnesses said the craft, flying through clouds and fog, lost a wing in the air and hurtled to the ground like a crippled bird.

Rockne had only recently recovered from an illness which a year ago had threatened to terminate his brilliant coaching career. Last year, however, he developed one of the very best of his many excellent teams, and made a schedule for 1931 which indicated that he looked forward to an equally great team this year.

American football sustains a great loss. Americans lose one who typified the best in useful, wide-awake citizenship.

President Hoover in an official statement described the death of Rockne as "a national loss."

THE $1,000,000 libel suit Gus O. Nations, former prohibition agent, filed against Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former assistant attorney general, in 1929, in connection with a series of articles she wrote about prohibition enforcement was stricken from the docket in Federal court at St. Louis for failure to prosecute.

Mr. Nations said he could not proceed any further with the suit because he had been unable to obtain service on Mrs. Willebrandt, but he asserted that suits for $20,000 damages each were pending against her in New York and Washington for alleged injury done to him by the articles.

The only observation of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt to the news that the $1,000,000 libel suit filed against her by Gus O. Nations had been stricken from the record was: "The action speaks for itself."
