Locals

R. H. Coppock and family spent the week end in Portland.
R. J. Ginn and O. G. Sayers made a business trip to The Dalles Tuesday afternoon.

Dave McKelvey, one of the pioneers of the Kent neighborhood was here Wednesday.

C. V. Belknap will leave the night of the 4th for a visit with his sister near Colville, Wash.

Mrs. Elsie Van Slyck visited here with her father, George Burhill, last Sunday.

Carrol Akers and family of Albany, were here over the week end to visit with Mr.
Akers' mother, Mrs. G. C. Akers.

Wm. Henrichs is enjoying a visit with his brother who arrived Wednesday from Clarke-ton, Washington.

Chester Peetz was here Sunday from The Dalles where he is working for one of the oil companies.

Miss Cecil Cottran, who had her tonsils removed at one of the hospitals in The Dalles last week, is home again.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Irby and daughters of Arlington, visited with the A. S. Johnson family last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Peetz entertained a few guests last Friday night with five hundred.

Janet Stephens has gone to Gresham to visit Charlotte Johnson, daughter of C. E. Jonsson, over the week end.

W. H. Ragsdale and family are at Camp Sherman where they will remain until after the Fourth.

Miss Leora Peetz returned Sunday from The Dalles, where she had been spending a few days with Miss Lanell Mathews.

R. H. Coppock and W. F. Jackson were in Arlington Tuesday on a short business trip.

T. C. Lee and wife, of Portland, are visiting with friends here this week.

Miss Lucille Templeton is visiting this week in Hillsboro with her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Stow.

Mrs. W. C. Bryant left Monday for Eugene where she was called to attend the funeral of an aunt who died suddenly in that city.

Mrs. E. V. Koehler arrived in Moro last Thursday, having come from Los Angeles by stage and is stopping with Pastors J.
D. and Mrs. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Giles L. French were in Salem over the week end to attend the annual convention of the Oregon State Editorial Association.

George Williams and family left Thursday morning for their vacation. They will spend some time in Portland and at Seaside and will then visit in Eugene with relatives.

J. M. Laffin, auditor for the Pacific Power and Light Co., was here the first of the week checking the local office.

Ralph Brisbane and family left Friday for Metolius where they will spend the holiday.
They expect to return Tuesday.

D. E. Stephens will go to Utah next week to attend the meeting of agronomists of the western part of the United States which will be held at Nephi.

L. L. Peetz and family left Wednesday morning for Camp Sherman for a weeks vacation.
Miss Lanell Mathews of The Dalles, accompanied them.

Rev. F. A. Ginn returned the last of the week from the Methodist conference in Eugene and is making preparations to move to Dundee where he will preach for the next year.

Every member of the Homer Belshee family was poisoned last Friday by eating some canned food that had been home canned. It is thought that can-ed meat was the offending part of the meal.

Marion McKee left Friday, July 2nd, to attend the druggists convention at Seaside. The Oregon State Board of Pharmacy, of which Mr. McKee is a member, will hold a meeting at the same place and time.

Henry Ruggles came home from Camp Sherman Monday after trying to enjoy a vacation up there. They had frost up there last week that Uncle Henry found too chilly for comfort.

Some farmers are cutting hay while others in the area of the heavy rainfall will have to wait while before starting to make hay.

The Fourth of July will be celebrated in this county with picnics at DeMoss and Grass Valley.

Condolence.

The members of Lupine Rebekah Lodge, No. 116, of Moro, mourn the loss of brother Glen C. Akers, who throughout his life exemplified the principles of Friendship, Truth and Love.

Courageous in adversity, happy in his human relationship; it mains for us to show the impress of his friendship in our lives.
His loss is not only a sorrow to the lodge, to his personal friends and to his family, but also to the whole community which he served in a public capacity. Our lives have been happier and we trust more useful because of our contact with such a cheerful personality and worthy citizen.

We extend our sincere and heartfelt sympathy to our sister, Mrs. Maud Akers, and to the other members of the family.

Fraternally submitted,
Committee:

Belle Conlee
Metta Axtell,
Margaret W. Peetz

OREGON NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

The new moving picture house in John Day was opened recently to the public. The McAlley hall was rebuilt and the latest picture machines installed.

Rain has caused 100 per cent damage to the Ashland cherry crop. Possibly 10 per cent may be salvaged for canning purposes, according to Thornton Wiley, a local grower.

Oakland school district bonds in the sum of $6500 to provide for the construction of a school auditorium and gymnasium have been sold to R. D.
Bridges at a premium of $300.

A strip of bark 42 feet long and less than two inches in width was stripped from a yellow pine in a recent electric storm in the Metolius district. The tree was otherwise uninjured.

In the interest of economy in the administration of municipal affairs, the Hood River city council has ordered the electric clock taken off the wall, thereby saving $18 a year.

Frost was reported from the Deschutes valley recently. No crops were damaged. The temperature has been unusually low there, and the ripening of early tomatoes has been retarded.

The north side of Mount Hood was snow-covered from the summit to the 4000-foot level. Even the oldest old-timers of Hood River valley do not recall a similar phenomenon in late June.

Representatives of Medford, Ashland and Grants Pass will appear at the next meeting of the state highway commission to request the realignment of the Pacific highway over the Siskiyou.

The salmon run in Rogah river this year is unusually large, according to reports to the state fish commission.
Roderick Macleay, canneryman, says his receipts are 200 per cent greater than last year.

The Bowman-Hicks Lumber company sawmill at La Grande, which has been idle several months, will resume operations soon, it was announced, and will remain in operation for two months at least.

The grazing grounds along the south shore of Malheur lake are being used a month earlier than last year. Grass conditions are good. Already 1000 cattle are grazing on the flats and there are fully that number of sheep and horses.

When Peter Vlig tore down a 79-year-old residence on the former Roach donation land claim near Harrisburg he found the sills so sound and unaffected by age that he decided to use them in a new home he is erecting on the site.

Snow fell on the Tygh ridge section of The Dalles-California highway recently, at an elevation of 2700 feet, it was reported at The Dalles. This is the first time in the memory of old inhabitants that snow has fallen at this low level in June.

Strawberry plants in Hood River and Wasco counties are dying from a disease or an infestation that has not yet been sufficiently classified to suggest a remedy. The trouble is fairly general in patches of 2-year-old plants.
Younger plants are not affected.

Gardner L. Baker, one of the six living members of the G. A. R., celebrated his 90th birthday anniversary at Astoria recently. Mr. Baker is commander of Cushing post, No. 14, of the G. A. R., and for a time served as Lincoln's orderly during the civil war.

White cedar logging camps in Coos and Curry counties have suspended operations, owing to the continued rains, which have made trucking of logs impossible. About 25 camps are affected by the involuntary shutdown, and probably 150 trucks and drivers are idle.

Under a law that went into effect June 6 the killing of sea lions on the coast is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $25 to $100 or 60 days in jail. Formerly there was a bounty of $10 on seals and 50 cents on sea lions.
The bounty on seals has been discontinued.

A new berry that is a cross between a loganberry and a wild blackberry has been developed by R. T. Pierce on his place near Winston. The new berry has all of the well known qualities of the native blackberry plus the tart goodness of the loganberry. The berry is smaller than the average loganberry.

Douglas county turkey growers have requested Lee Eyerly, Salem aviator, to submit prices for the transportation of dressed birds from Roseburg to Denver and way points by airplane.
Eyerly recently returned from Denver, where he delivered 600 pounds of selected cherries. The flight was made in 12 hours.

Farm lands and buildings in Oregon are worth $630,827,927. Farmers' dwellings alone are valued at $72,627, 906, while farming implements and machinery aggregate $42,585,751. Ore-gon's 55,153 farms consist of 16,548,565 acres of land, according to United States bureau of census figures received at Salem.

Oregon ranks third in the list of states producing mercury, according to the department of commerce. California and Nevada take first and second places. Oregon's production in 1930 was 2919 flasks, a decrease of 739 flasks from the 1929 production.
Black Butte mine, in Lane county, and the Opalite mine, in Malheur county, supplied the Oregon quota.

"Barnyard golf"—a six-day tournament—may be one of the features of the state fair at Salem this year.
If plans now under way are completed. The department of agriculture has under consideration the construction of a permanent horseshoe pitching court at the fair grounds. The court will be of concrete and will be equipped at the expense of the national association.

A delegation of Willamette valley farmers, headed by C. C. Hulet, master of the Oregon State grange, appeared before Max Gehlar, director of the state agricultural department and urged cheaper lime for consumers. It was brought out that farmers are now paying $4.50 per ton for fertilizer lime processed at the state penitentiary.
Farmers declared that this price was too high under existing business conditions.

E. V. Kauffman, 45, of Sutherlin, died in a hospital at Roseburg from burns suffered in an explosion of a highway heater being used in road repair work near Yoncalla. Ernest Gug-gisberg, 26, of Cottage Grove received severe burns on the face, back and arms, but will recover. Kauffman was operating the heater. He is said to have opened the wrong valve, causing an excessive flow of fuel, which resulted in the explosion.

Sheep are beginning to enter the mountain range near Sisters. Ed Mc-Grover from Antelope brought in three droves. Henry Fatiens from Grass Valley drove in two droves. Grass on the range is reported as excellent this year.

Fire in Crane destroyed five business houses on West Main street. The blaze started in a restaurant and pool hall. The buildings destroyed were owned by Marie Gillespie. The loss is about $16,000, partially covered by insurance.

The old story of the bear treading the hunter was reversed recently when Elmer Eason of Mohler discovered two black cub bears and chased them up a tree. He captured the two babies and brought them to his farm home where they are thriving on cow's milk, bread and as a special treat, sugar.
