OREGON STATE NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST

Principal Events of the Week Assembled for Information of Our Readers.

A box factory was started at Silverton last week in the old Potter planing mill building.

More than 2,500,000 feet of selected Port Orford cedar logs will be loaded for Japanese markets from the Evans Products company plant in Marshfield.

The Medford Peengrowers association, an independent organization, has voted to construct a packing plant with a capacity of at least 1000 cars.

A stubborn fire destroyed three warehouses and two coal sheds at Baker and also menaced several other structures before being brought under control.

Fire destroyed the J. D. Hurst home recently. It was a landmark which will be missed, as it towered on the hillside north of Aurora for more than 40 years.

The Missionary Baptists of Oregon gathered in an encampment this week at Suttle lake. A large group attended from churches in every section of the state.

Further reduction in sprinkling privileges was ordered by the city of Ashland, due to shortage of storage water. Sprinkling is permitted now four hours on four days each week.

Oregon has a larger national guard organization, on the basis of population, than any other state in the union, according to announcement at the guard headquarters in Salem.

Mrs. Fannie Dyer, one of Bandon's first citizens, is dead at the age of 91 years and 4 months. She was the wife of George M. Dyer, who was one of the founders of Bandon in 1886.

An almond which lodged in the throat and later went into the lung of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Howard Gregory of Coquille caused the boy's death in Ashland recently.

Bean growers of Lane county have voted to pay pickers three-fourths of a cent per pound this year with a bonus optional with the grower. The price last year was one-half cent more.

Mose E. Duran of Heppner is suffering with an infected eye. While milking, a cow hit him in the eye with her tail. Medical attention was neglected and the infection followed.

A horde of brown, yellow and black butterflies has descended on the Crater lake and Diamond lake areas. The insects gather in damp spots, and fly into automobile radiators in great numbers.

The Chris Kenney residence, one of the first houses to be built in Jacksonville, has been destroyed by fire. Many antiques were burned, among them a mahogany bedroom suite valued at $300.

Tara has scoured for the open vic-orous Bandon post No. 66, Grand Army of the Republic. At a meeting of the post recently the two remaining members turned over all equipment to the American Legion.

Work will soon begin on the Pittsburg-St. Helens market road and the Nehalem highway in laying a hot oil macadam pavement. Several miles of this was laid in the Nehalem last year and is standing up well.

Huckleberries continued to be gathered from some sections of the Wal-lowa community. Many of those who have been out in search of berries say that this has been one of the best years for berries of this kind in many years.

In an effort to preserve for the people of Clatsop county all available hunting and fishing privileges, the county court has adopted the policy of refusing to sell or lease lands on which the chief value is hunting or fishing.

A white bear, seen recently on the North Umpqua trail near Lemola falls by Jack Wharton of Roseburg, will be hunted by Perry Wright, trapper and guide. An attempt will be made to take the animal alive. The bear was seen by Wharton as he was returning from the falls where he made motion pictures for use in Roseburg theatres.

Nehalem bay people are being asked to participate in the pageant, "Tillamook," directed by J. W. Evans, which will be presented as a feature of the Tillamook county fair, the last of this month. Some 200 singers will participate in the affair. The pageant will depict the history and legends of the romantic coast and Tillamook county.

Fear is expressed at The Dalles that attacks of hordes of elm-leaf beetle will destroy some of the city's most beautiful shade trees. Many of the trees already have been entirely defoliated by the beetles. While it is too late for spray applications this year, householders are considering a co-operative campaign to control the pest next year.

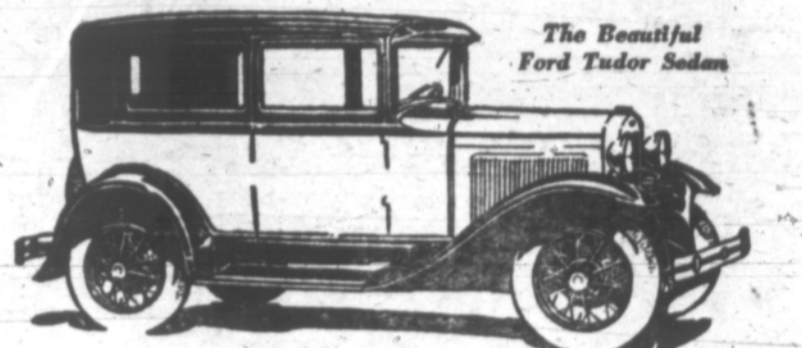

The Blachly chassis factory and creamery near Eugene was destroyed by fire which started with an explosion of unknown origin. No damage estimate was available. The Blachly volunteer fire department prevented the blaze from spreading to nearby stores, warehouses and garages. The firemen were unable, however, to check the factory fire.

Contractors who use sand and gravel taken from Oregon streams in the construction of state highways will be compelled to pay royalty to the state on the basis of 10 cents a cubic yard, according to a decision reached at a meeting of the state land board at Salem. Under a previous ruling of the board, sand and gravel used in highway construction was exempted from the payment of royalty.

Moro Business Mens' Credit Association
NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC
In order to put the business of this community on a better basis and enable us to hold prices as low as possible, the undersigned merchants of Moro have formed a Credit Association which will hold to the following regulations:
Members will sell their merchandise on a strictly 30 day basis.
Accounts not paid on or before the 10th of the month will be taken under advisement by the Credit Association.
This ruling will begin September 1st and include July and August accounts.
We are forced to take this step as we cannot sell merchandise on longer than 30 days time for we have to pay for all goods that we buy within 30 days or less.

THE GREATEST VALUE EVER BUILT INTO A FORD CAR

(F. O. B. Detroit, plus freight and delivery. Bumpers and spare tire extra at low cost.)

WHEN you buy a Ford car today, you buy what is unquestionably the greatest value in the history of the Ford Motor Company. Never before has so much beauty, comfort, safety and performance been offered at such a low price.
The low price of the Ford is something to think about because it means an immediate saving of many dollars — always an important consideration. But far more significant than price alone is what you get for that price. When high quality is combined with low price, you may justly take pride in having found a most satisfactory purchase.
See the Ford — ride in it — learn something about the value that is built into every part. The more you know about it, the more certain you will be that it is the car for you. It is literally true that when you "get the facts you will get a Ford."

A valuable knowledge of the reliability and integrity of business is the reward of the steady reader of advertisements.
