Preaching 11 a. m., and 8 p. m.
"For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us." Rom 8:18.

This is so because the sufferings are light when His grace is sought, because they are "but for a moment", as compared with eternity; and because they tend to mature, settle, and establish the character of the Christian who is enduring the ordeals of life with the fortitude our Lord provides.

J. D. and Mrs. Miller, Pastors.

Christian Science
Subject: Mind.
Golden Text: Isaiah 26:3. Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee.
Responsive Reading: Isaiah 55:6-13.

Church service every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

All are cordially invited to attend the church services and make use of the reading room which is open daily, where all authorized Christian Science literature may be read, borrowed or purchased.

An ordinance has been introduced in the Salem city council banning motion pictures showing the operation of outlaw gangs in the larger cities of the United States.

City officials of Bend have ordered all residents to turn off their lawn sprinklers when a fire alarm is sounded. Sprinkling may be resumed when the fire is extinguished.

The fifth annual flower show for Hood River county was held at the Rockford grange hall recently. This was the largest flower show held in the mid-Columbia district.

Unless the taxpayers of Astoria vote a special levy of $60,000 requested by the school board the schools will have to shut down to four or five months during the coming school year.

All road work in Jackson county for the present year, will be finished by August 24. This is two months earlier than usual and is the result of the retrenchment policy of the county court.

Checks for $158,970 are being mailed to the depositors in the defunct Astoria Savings bank. The payment will represent a 10 per cent dividend. The total dividend paid to date is now 45 per cent.

A deer jumped off the cribbing along the canal of the city's hydroelectric power plant at Leaburg one night last week and was struck by an automobile on the highway and killed. The car was wrecked.

The mean temperature for July was the highest ever recorded in Klamath county. It reached a mark of 72.75 degrees. No precipitation occurred during the month, making it the driest July on record.

Growers of late pears and apples in Douglas county are considering plans for handling this year's crop. It is expected that the Umpqua valley will produce about 100 cars of apples and pears this year.

Vic Baff, while working in the harvest field near Moro, lost all of his clothing except shoes and suffered numerous bruises when his trousers legs were caught by a shaft driving the header of his combine.

Deliveries of flax straw are being made freely at the state prison. Daily deliveries average 50 loads. The flax harvest is now at its height, but both the yield and quality were reported disappointing to growers.

The work of altering Steamboat falls, eight miles up Steamboat Creek from the junction of the north Umpqua river, has been successfully completed, releasing several hundred steel-heads impounded below the falls.

The body of Charles Wood, 68, of Portland, was found by rescuers in a sand cave-in midway between Manzanita and Neah-kah-nie, where Mr. Wood and his son, Lynn A. Wood, 40, had been buried alive. The body of the younger Wood was found earlier. The men had been searching for treasure, it was reported.

Two crops of apples during the same season has never been heard of at Medford, but it is possible for one tree, at least. A tree of an early variety in the garden of James C. Murray is in full bloom for the second time this year.

Construction of the short-cut road from Shamko and Antelope, in the southern part of Wasco county, to Mitchell, in Wheeler county, was urged at a meeting recently at Redmond of the John Day Valley Development association.

For the second consecutive month, Friday, a Holstein cow owned by C. W. Lewis of Klamath county, has led all cows in the state in production of butterfat. In May, Friday, until then unknown, became the leader of the state's thousands of dairy cows, and repeated in June with a record of 230 pounds of milk and 110.8 pounds of butterfat.

Conrad Peterson, gardener, living two miles west of Canby, is harvesting and canning her second crop of peas from one planting. The peas were planted early in the spring and yielded well. After the late rain new sprouts came up and these have yielded as many peas as the first planting. This is said to be the first time two crops of peas have been known in that district from one planting.

Federal hunters in Oregon killed 303 predatory animals during July, 266 of them being coyotes, 30 bobcats, 1 cougar and 6 bears, according to the monthly report of Stanley G. Jewett, leader in predatory animal and rodent control for the biological survey. Chas. B. Brown, Malheur county, led in the catches with 36 coyotes and 7 bobcats. T. W. King, Grant county, was second with 21 coyotes and 2 bobcats.
