of Kansas City, Missouri, with us Monday or Tuesday to lead us the meetings. Let every Christian pray, attend and work for the salvation of souls and the building up of the cause of Christ in this place.

Come to Church: Let us all recognize the value of the church. Would you be willing to invest your money in property where there are no churches or live in a place where there was no religious worship. We believe that you will agree with us that in spite of all its defects the church is by far the greatest

A $50,000 hospital is to be erected on the site of the old hospital on the highway in McMinnville some time this fall.

The annual Grant county fair will be held at John Day September 18 and 19. Exhibits of farm products and races will be features of the program.

Albert Julian, who recently was appointed night policeman of Redmond, has received a uniform. This is the first uniform a Redmond officer has ever worn.

Wallawa county sheep growers have shipped out 25 carloads of lambs this season to date under the co-operative pooling plan introduced there a few years ago.

W. H. Haskins of Cottage Grove has an egg laid by a Black Minorca hen, that measures 7 3/4 by 8 1/4 inches. Within it was a second egg larger than the average hen egg.

Fire destroyed all machinery and equipment at the Teddee Lumber company sawmill at Teddee, 16 miles southwest of Monmouth, and two flat cars of slabwood on a siding.

A factory for the processing of dehydrated reindeer steaks and chops, for shipment to eastern cities, is to be established in Salem, according to announcement made by Carl Howell.

The 22d annual Malheur county fair was a financial success. Credit is to be given the directors, Ora E. Clark, D. C. Deming and Oris Dearborn, the grangers, and many individual workers.

A total of 17,559 tons of freight and 1,200,000 feet of logs passed through the government locks at West Linn during August, according to a report of the traffic compiled by Engineer Reed.

Joseph H. Brown, 73, mayor of Glendale since 1925, died at his home there recently. A native of Missouri, he came to Oregon 40 years ago and resided at Canyonville, Ashland and Glendale.

Klamath county will harvest the largest crop of certified seed potatoes in its history this year, according to a check-up just made by Professor George R. Hyslop, who has just completed the inspection.

Fruit and berry growers of the Seio community have decided to join forces and market their products co-opera-tively. Final details of the proposed association are to be worked out at a meeting to be held soon.

Ernest Porter, 34, of Allegany, lost the sight of both eyes when a dynamite cap he had found exploded. The lad did not know what the object was.
He was grinding it on a grindstone when the explosion occurred.

J. W. Lucky of Woodburn has an apple tree whose fruit resembles wtermelons more than apples. One of the apples measures 1 1/2 inches in circumference and weighs one pound and 11 ounces. It resembles a Northern Spy and may be of that variety.

The Malheur county court has advised for sale thousands of acres taken by the county for delinquent taxes. A large portion of the land is in the Warm Springs district and was taken up under the 640-acre law.

Picking cucumbers for the Scap-poose pickle plant is furnishing employment for 60 white people. The Pil-ipino laborers work in the fields to themselves. A good picker averages about $2 per day. Only men are employed in the fields, as the work is not suitable for women or children.

The largest Labor day celebration in the history of Estacada was held this year. A parade and flower show were the highlights of the day's observance. Nearly every community in Clackamas county was represented.

A school of anchovies blackened the sea near the entrance to Siletz bay last week and local fishermen were anxiously awaiting the entrance of this choice fish to inside waters where they might be taken with line and net.

Production of bent grass is an important industry in the Reedsport section, the principal crop being the property of W. P. Reed and Lloyd Knapp, who have harvested some 370 acres, and expect a yield of 15 tons of clean seed.

The new Farmers' Cooperative creamery began receiving cream at Union recently. The creamery is equipped to handle all cream brought in and should be a great benefit to the dairy industry in the Grande Ronde valley.

Razing of the old First Baptist church in Klamath Falls has been started and plans for the construction of a modern church building perfected.
Construction of the new edifice will be started as soon as the site has been cleared.

Marion county, by the end of the present year, will have approximately 125 miles of paved county roads, according to figures prepared by the county court. This mileage does not include roads and highways in the cities and towns.

John Day is to have a real update hotel. Louis Delton is completely overhauling the Midvale hall and plans 40 rooms with baths. Contractors have been working for a couple of months, and within another few weeks it will be opened.

One of the first, if not the first, all-metal walnut driers in the state is being built to handle this fall's crop by E. B. Edes, nut grower of the Lebanon vicinity. Roof, walls and flooring are either metal or concrete, leaving only the frame work of wood.

Jack Finch, forest service lookout on Pearson mountain, was struck unconscious by lightning while standing in the doorway of his cabin recently.
Recovering consciousness in about an hour, he telephoned for aid and was brought to Grants Pass, still dazed and suffering numbness of the left side.

A compilation of student high school costs by Superintendent James of the Vale schools shows that the expense of educating a high school student in Vale is less than elsewhere in the county. In Nyssa the cost is $117.65.
In Ontario the average cost is $106.
The average cost in the Vale high school is $100.

The odd illness which has attacked hundreds of Klamath county residents during the past few weeks has been traced to the bacillus dysentericus, which is carried by the common house fly. Fruits and vegetables which were easily contaminated by the bacillus are believed to have carried the illness throughout the county.

To care for residents of Wallawa county out of work and in need the committee named by Governor Meier has organized and made preliminary plans. The city recorder in Wallawa, Loetene and Joseph and the county clerk in Enterprise will register aplicants for work. A feed warehouse will be established in each town.

Baker will establish a camp in the forest reserve along the road leading to the North Powder lakes with a view of securing logs for the city wood yard. Men asking for meals from the city will be placed at work cutting the logs into 16-inch blocks. The wood will be donated to poor families in the city during the winter months.

This month marks the 50th birthday of the little town of Antelope, which at one time was an important point between Shaniko and Farewell Bend.
The first settler in Antelope, according to a pioneer visiting there recently, was Howard Maupin, who lived on upper Antelope and was the slayer of the troublesome Indian chief Paulina, terrorizer of the first settlers, miners and stockmen.

Strawberry season may be over for most farmers, but it is right at its height for everbearing strawberry growers of the Eugene vicinity who are growing this crop under glass.

S. E. Fish is having great success with the Bonanza or Rockhill variety, which fruit specialists pronounce the finest sort for this country.
His acre of berries is now loaded with ripe and green fruit which is bringing good prices, usually around $2.50 a crate, on the market.

Good grain yields are being reported from the Ailsa valley. From 13 acres Charles Rycraft got 320 bushels of spring oats. Stone Bros. had barley that yielded 53 bushels per acre. D.
D. Longbottom got 185 bushels of wheat from a 5 1/2-acre field.

According to reports given out by city officials of Baker, the city used 225,000 gallons of metered water in 1912, and 337,000 gallons of metered water in 1920. Per capita consumption in 1912 was 28 gallons while in 1920 it increased to 390 gallons.

Lowden Urges Cow Testing

Ex-Governor Frank O. Lowden said recently, "If dairy farmers all belonged to cow testing associations there would not be the slightest danger from overproduction for as prices decline the farmer could make a further elimination of the least profitable cows and in this way production would be curtailed until prices rose again."

In its effort to encourage better breeding, the 21st Annual Pacific International Livestock Exposition, Portland, Oregon, October 24-31, will exhibit thousands of pure-bred Bred and Dairy Cattle, Horses, Sheep, Hogs, Goats, Poultry and Rabbits. Premiums offered total $100,000.

Every indication points to a most comprehensive Exposition this year. For that reason the MORO STATE BANK recommends attendance by every one in this community.
