Locals

M. M. Oveson drove to Pendleton Thursday in interest of the station in that territory.

It is reported that Homer Bel-shee has bought Mrs. Schassen's ranch in Hay Canyon this week.

William Ferbes of Oswego was here the first of the week to visit with friends of years ago.

Paul May and bride arrived home Sunday after spending the honey moon in Vancouver, B. C.

Mrs. Elbert DeMoss and son of Eugene, are visiting the De Moss families at DeMoss Spring this week.

Mark Henkle and family moved to the Martin place south of Moro from the fox farm east and north of Moro.

G. I. Drennan, of the Pacific Pacific Power & Light Co., was here the first of the week from Walla Walla.

Tom Quigley, of Redmond, representative of the New York Life Insurance Company was in Moro this week.

Tom Alley moved to Moro, last week and then Sunday moved to Grass Valley where he has rented an E. O. L. section near town.

Postmaster George Bourhill has not been feeling very well for several weeks and has not been able to be at the office for a day or two.

Kenneth McKean was home Sunday to attend the funeral of his aunt, Miss Ruth McClellan.
He drove up from his school at Eugene.

Mrs. Buxton's father, Mr.
Nauffts of Yamhill, is here visiting his daughter and the M. E. Miller family. Mr. Nauffts and Mr.
Miller spent Sunday fishing on the Deschutes.

Albert Pleumke was a member of the Pacific University team that traveled to Idaho where they met the College of Idaho team. Albert is playing guard on the Pacific team.

L. W. Rakes has traded his home property here for a small ranch near Oregon City and his nephews, Victor and Vincent Hays will move there for the remainder of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wright drove to Yakima, Washington, last Saturday to visit with relatives and to bring Mrs. Cope back to Moro again. They returned home the first of the week.

Arthur Bucholtz and wife left Tuesday morning for Corbett where they will visit with Mr.
Bucholtz's father and spend a few days vacation near the big city. Mrs. Freeman is in charge of the confectionery during their absence.

During the opening exercises of the M. E. Sunday school next Sunday, Ione Miller's class of Junior Girls will give a demonstration of the work they have been doing the past quarter.
Parents and friends are invited to attend and hear the children present this work.

John Searcy was here over the week end packing up his household goods preparatory to moving to Joseph where he is deputy of the banking department in charge of the liquidation of the Joseph bank. Miss Belshe who has been living with the Searcy's for a winter or so accompanied them.

Harry Pinkerton and Chester Searcy hauled the furniture for John Searcy to Joseph last Monday, returning Tuesday. They state that the town of Joseph has dropped from a population of 1600 to about 200 and has had three banks failures since the war. W. H. Ragsdale accompanied them on the trip.

Mrs. Esther B. Harvey and 12-year old daughter, missionary on furlow from India, will be in Moro Thursday, Oct. 22, to speak at the Full Gospel Assembly at 7:30 p. m. Zaida Delight, the daughter, dressed in native costume, sings and recites. Mrs.
Harvey is an interesting speaker on India. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

ton Wednesday to visit his sister Mrs. A. Buhman and to incidentally be on hand for the opening of the hunting season.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank the friends of the community who gave us their time and sympathy during our hours of grief caused by the death of our sister, Ruth McGiel-land. To those who expressed their feeling in flowers, we also extend our heartfelt thanks.
J. C. McKean and Family.

ing permits for the year were increased by $593,719 in September. The total for this year now stands at $532,683.

The revenues of the state game commission will be about $30,000 less this year than last. This total is not expected to exceed $30,000 as compared with $450,000 last year.

Ed Cannon, 45, of Portland, was injured fatally when he fell down a cliff to the ocean beach near Necota head while working on the Oregon Coast highway construction.

Total registration at the University of Oregon is now placed at 3122, compared with 2207 students the same time last year. The figures include 244 medical school students.

Difficulty in cashing warrants from rural and small town school districts in Umatilla county is being encountered by teachers, who claim their pay is being discounted 10 per cent.

According to the figures of the school superintendent of Jackson county there are 5052 boys and 4856 girls of school age in the county. This is an increase of 212 over last year.

A resolution opposing the proposed appropriation for construction of another highway from Portland to the coast has been adopted by the directors of the Medford Chamber of Commerce.

The leasing by Maraden Bros. of the Bill Nye gold mine near Gold Hill marks the reopening of famous diggings that have been closed 30 years on account of war, death and other causes.

All-night parking will be permitted out-of-town cars on all streets in Marshfield except Broadway and Central. Courtesy stickers will be provided hotels apprising the traveling public of the new plan.

The Oregon Lumber company's new 50,000 feet daily capacity mill at Whitney, Baker county, will be completed soon. A crew of 40 men will be employed. Logs for the new mill will come from upper Burnt river.

Schools are maintained in 55 of the 60 live districts in Wallowa county.
There are 103 teachers, 81 in grades and 22 in high schools, 17 men and 86 women. Town schools employed 61 teachers and country schools 52.

A grange has been organized at Olney, Clatsop county. It is the last grange to be organized in the United States during the 1931 business year of the national grange. Mrs. Ernest Spleister has been elected master.

Despite the continued increase in enrollment in the Ontario schools, the budget board has reduced the special school levy for district No. 8 by a total of $6117, or from $46,129 to $39,705. This is a reduction of 3 mills.

More than $1500 has been subscribed in cash and milk donation work volunteered to build a road down river to the beach from Florence, not only lessening the distance a half but affording a direct connection with the coast guard station. It will also match the scenic beauty found in sections of the Coast highway.

The big 100,000-gallon reservoir at the Sheridan Novitiate has been installed and water will soon be pumped into it. The reservoir is a little more than 200 feet above the main buildings and will furnish a pressure of 80 pounds.

Through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. A. Combs, the new owners of the Liberty theater in Coquille, formerly in a similar business in Burns, Or., the Church of Christ of Coquille had been presented with 100 opera chairs for its auditorium.

Oregon is getting "milk-minded." Max Gethler, director of agriculture, says. Milk produced in the state in 1929 totaled 135,376,656 gallons; during 1919, but 92,844,946 gallons. The sale of whole milk was practically doubled in 10 years, 51,785,332 gallons being reported for 1929. Cream sold as butterfat nearly doubled, some 19, 900,000 pounds changing hands in 1929.
With a total of 169 cars of produce shipped east and west from Nyssa in September, Nyssa led Malheur county stations last month. Producers say that October will see the peak. With 40 cars, potatoes led in shipments from Nyssa in September. Fourteen cars of onions were shipped, 37 cars of prunes, 2 cars of wheat, 1 car of cattle, 1 car of mixed stock and 3 cars of horses.

The biggest land auction in the history of Malheur county will be held at Vale October 31 when 250 parcels of county-owned land will go under the hammer of Sheriff Glenn. Advertising of the land sale, with the description of each parcel, began a few days ago. The lands to be sold have been taken over by the county for delinquent taxes during the last 10 years, and some are improved with houses and farm buildings.

Voters of the Carlton school district have voted in favor of unification with surrounding districts. At the state meeting it was voted to accept the annual budget, which shows a decrease of $1600 over that of last year.

Directors of the Klamath Irrigation district will make an effort to raise minimum water rates paid by lessees of Tule lake reclaimed land in proportion to rates paid by water users in the other districts of the Klamath project.

The annual Wallowa county fair will be held in Enterprise October 8, 9 and 10. It will be in charge of committees representing stockmen, horse owners and agricultural interests. It will be strictly a Wallowa county event, with horses and riders furnished by local stockmen and everyone will be asked to serve free to hold down expenses.

Power service around Albany was momentarily interrupted by a chip-munk. How the rodent disconnected high power lines in the substation there remains a mystery, but his scorched body and a broken insulator found lying on the floor are considered proof that he was the cause of the break that stopped many industries in Albany, Jefferson, Scio and Stayton.

Mrs. Roy Slate, Bend resident, had never seen a deer, but regardless of the handicap she went hunting one day last week and met a huge buck face to face on a mountain trail. She was so amazed she forgot she had a gun and watched the big deer as it slowly disappeared in the woods. She says she is going out again but will remember next time what she is carrying the gun for.

Farmers of the Grand Ronde valley, members of 4-H clubs of the county and business men of La Grande, joined recently in the annual grange fair and home products show at La Grande.
The fair was staged in the large Latter-Day Saints recreational hall.

J. A. Ward of Bunker Hill, one among the many who have been in the hills and gulches this summer seeking the elusive metal, has shown some fine specimens of gold which he and two companions obtained from bedrock in streams south of Powers.

Three steam shovels and a large force of men are rushing construction work on the branch line of the Oregon Electric railroad from Sweet Home to the Dollar timber in the Callipoola district near Crawfordville.

One of the first crops of yellow blow-sow sweet clover has recently been harvested on the Gilbert Hunter farm near La Grande. Experiments have shown that this clover is valuable as a sheep pasture in that region.

Mrs. Robert Hoots of the Riskey community, east of Salem, narrowly escaped injury when a maddened boar killed a horse, injured another and a cow and rushed at Mrs. Hoots. Dan Maxfield, a neighbor, dispatched the animal.

Every past record in attendance and exhibits was broken at the opening of the 25th annual Clackamas county fair.
Five extra tents were necessary to house the livestock exhibits, and 200 extra coops were used to take care of the heavy entries in the poultry department.
