Locals

At a regular communication of Bethlehem Chapter, O.E.S., it was decided to have an attendance contest. Mrs. Ruth Sparling and Mrs. Alice Conlee were chosen captains. Thursday, February 11th, will be the first social night of the year and as it is near the Chapter's anniversary, this occasion will also be observed. All members are urged to attend and visiting members are cordially invited.

The Old Fellows are requested to attend lodge Monday February 8th, to put on the initiatory degree.

Let every one who is interested in the truth as revealed in God's Word come out to the Babtist church next Sabbath morning and hear these great subjects.
Its duty of every Christian to be a booster. No preacher can make the impression he should unless his people sustain his efforts. Every Christian should be an optimist. If he can see only clouds, sunshine will be obscured and growth retarded.
It is the duty of every Christian to support in all regular work of the church. And remind others that the church is striving to make their neighborhood and the world better.

Grady home Sunday.

Mr. Bruce H. Hull, principal of the Antelope school, spent the week end in The Dalles at his home. In going back to Antelope Sunday afternoon he found more snow than he could drive through south of Grass Valley so turned around and headed back to Wasco, but while two miles from here, he drove off the road and had to walk from there into Wasco arriving here at 11:30 P. M. He called for help at the Free Crews home and after returning to his car with help, Mr. Hull was very fortunate in having a stage come by which pulled his car from the ditch.

He then was able to drive on to Wasco where he spent the remainder of the night in much needed slumber at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Free Crews. Monday morning he went on to Antelope with better luck. He was accompanied the rest of the way by Miss Irene Reid, Mrs. B. H.
Hull's daughter, and Miss Vivian Larson.

four tables of bridge at her home last Tuesday after the first four hands were played, each guest was given a prize, and before each progression the rest of the afternoon, the two highest could choose the prize they wished from their table. This made lots of fun for everyone. At the close of the afternoon the hostess assisted by Miss Margaret McKee and Rose Mary Walker served dainty refreshments.

The American Legion Auxiliary meet with Mrs. W. H. Lee

Carl Gregg home over the weekend.

A good social time was enjoyed by the people of Kent last Saturday evening when the young folks of the Kent Grange gave a program and dance. At midnight refreshments were served by the ladies of the Home Economics Club. The quilt that was raffled off was won by Mrs.
Volna Guyton.

Among those from Shaniko who attended the Grange dance were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Guyton and family, Laurence Gott, and Dewey Plaster.

Kent was visited by a real snowstorm Saturday, Sunday, and Monday.

Bifurcated Skirts Are Fine for Active Sports

Sponsors of the divided skirt are united in their determination to make it a success. If the pajama is not an overwhelming success in the ballroom, they do not despair. There is still left the field of sports, and what more suitable, say the designers of the bifurcated skirt, than such a garment for strenuous wear—for active participation in tennis or golf.

We have costumes for golf, with skirts that conceal the bifurcation by clever, circular, cutting.

"Journal" come out on scheduled time.
The force sneaked back and with wary eyes and muscles all set to make a quick getaway, took up their sticks and began to set type as a surer way of getting the paper out on time. The boss heaved a sigh and settled down to solve the affairs of state and country at his reliable and obedient typewriter.

The lady turns on the power and pulls back the throttle, adjusts a slipping clutch, and the busy hum of machinery gave reluctant hopes of the Journal being in the hands of the subscribers on the day and hour of publication.

Meanwhile the boss was visibly swelling up with pride at his dear pets behavior—but—with a preliminary rattle, Angela gave an awful groan and spit a mouthful of tobacco juice all over the place. The operator screamed and a mad scramble ensued to gather up the mess and put it back in the melting pot. The boss seized a wrench here or there, said:
"She needed her poppycock turned over" and her "carrots warmed up" and he gave her a yank and a pat and we all slunk back and tried to set up all about "John Jones going to The Dalles after a load of corn," or "Moro quintet sneering Wasco in a big game."

Pretty soon along comes a Sherman county farmer who said he had experience with a combine and a cat, and he believed after looking Angela in the eyes, that she was spavined and had a hot box and also had sprung a leak in her radiator. And then and there court was adjourned and a half hour's recess declared.

Day after day of this, with Angela a little milder each rising sun.
Thursday comes and the adds and locals are assembled; the forms are locked; the press bucks and clatters and the Sherman County Journal, our pride and joy, with her tail feathers missing and a few extra frills and dashes as Angela's contribution is OUT ON TIME.

To sustain the old saw that perseverance eventually brings success of some sort we have set this entertaining history of Angela on Angela herself. She is not entirely biddable so far but it begins to look as if she will be some day.
