HOW THEY KNEW.

It was late Sunday morning.
The street car was waiting at the end of the line, and the preacher was waiting with it.
An empty bus drove up along side. "Hey, buddy," called the chauffeur to the conductor, "could you let me have some change?" "I haven't got a bit," answered the conductor.
"Everybody wanted change this morning. They took everything I had." "Same here," answered the chauffeur. "They were all going to church," said the conductor.

Let us all follow their example and go to church.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

nation wide celebration of the George Washington bicentennial.

The service included an address by the First Reader, in which were recounted some of Washington's moral and spiritual traits, closing with the statement that "On the whole, therefore, it can be said of George Washington that he served God and men constantly and faithfully, according to what he regarded as his opportunities, that he did this unselfishly, and that no lapse of time is likely to dim the value or the virtue of his service.

The United States of America has been greatly blessed by having had the benefit of Washington's wholesome example and influence, not only during the country's inception, but also throughout its history, even to the present time."

The Lesson-Sermon prepared especially for the occasion, was read by the First and Second Readers of the Church. The subject was, "Love for God and Man, the Universal Ideal," and the Golden Text, taken from Psalms was, "The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord: and he delighteth in his way."

WEATHER

along the course of the creeks, wading to overshoe depth in muddy water and generally enjoying the spring like weather. The elders, them selves, have not all forgotten the delights of childhood for many of them were to be found watching the water and displaying an interest in those things that pleased the younger generation.

Wool Garments

Stylish This Year

Milady's raiment from teddies to topcoat will be of wool in fabric and varied in hue for 1932.

The thousands of woolen and worsted patterns loomed by American mills for spring and summer combine Parisian acceptance with new American trends.

From the softest and softest fabrics for undergarments to the light and comfortable coatings, wool is the keynote for this year.

The dullest year in a decade during 1930 has evolved the greatest American development of stylistic ideas, subtlety in the use of interrelated fibres, blendings conducive to novel textural expression and both creative and adaptive design freedom.

Therefore ladies—look well to the new weaves and a brilliant display of fashion's fanciful wool creations for this year. They are as novel as they are durable and style fabrics have been made at such attractive prices that the depressed consumer can buy her spring wardrobe cheaper than last season and at the same time have chic costumes appropriate for all occasions.

Wheat Future Uncertain

At Present Time

The wheat outlook is still more or less uncertain because information is lacking on the probable plantings of spring wheat in this country and in foreign countries, according to the report. Present prospects are for a much smaller crop of winter wheat in this country than last year. The world acreage is believed to be slightly less. As near as possible to tell, the carryover next July 1 will again be large. One thing of interest to wheat growers is the possibility of a comparatively short crop of soft red winter wheat in the states east of the Rocky Mountains, which might improve the domestic demand for western white wheat somewhat.

bout a horse sitting on the radi-
