The Moro grade girls played the Moro high school second team girls last Thursday. The game was very close. At the end of the half the score was 11 to 0 in favor of the grade girls, but in the second half the high school girls brought up their score so at the close of the game it was 23 to 19 in favor of the high school girls.

The Moro basketball teams ended their 1932 schedule in a dash of speed and spirit never before witnessed on the local court.

The girls team defeated their county rival, Rufus, by the large margin of 32 to 16, Patricia Powell leading the attack with a total of 19 counters.

The boys, clicking for the first time since their severe attacks of small pox and influenza, defeated Dufur, runners up for the Wasco County Championship, to the tune of 19-11. No one was outstanding, each of the five working in a unified system to out-pass, out-check and out-shoot the Dufur combination.

The honor roll for the past six weeks is as follows: High school Mildred Adams, Gayle Amidon, Iva Belshee, Marjorie Byers, Grace Cothran, Gordon Fraser, Tommy Fraser, Maxine Henrichs, Anita Kenny, Marjorie Nahouse, Leora Peetz, Frank Prather, Helen Searcy, Janet Stephens, Flora Williams.

BANK LIQUIDATION

ing department is making some loans to farmers in order that they may be able to carry on their farming operations. This is absolutely imperative for otherwise there would be no wheat on these farmers' ranches next fall and no income to repay the depositors with next fall.

A local committee, composed of D. E. Stephens, Wm. Henrichs and W. A. May, pass on all of the loans made on behalf of the depositors.

Says Abie: "Cohen, I've been to the bank to borrow some money, and they say all I need is that you should sign to this note your name. Then I can have all the money I need. Ain't they fine!"

"Abie," said Cohen reproachfully, "you and I have been friends for many years, and yet you go to a bank when you need money. Abie, you

Randi Finally Reaches Salt Water

On her way to "see salt water like my ancestors did," Miss Randi Lerohl, forty-eight, of Superior, Wis., is shown as she arrived in New Orleans on the towboat Louisiana of the Mississippi Barge Lines. She declared upon arrival that she would soon float down to the Gulf of Mexico to see salt water.

just go again to the bank and say that they should sign the note, and then Cohen will lend you the money!"

"May I present my wife to you?" "Many thanks, but I have one."

Rules For Potato Seed Treatment

For those who intend to plant potatoes this year against the possibility of that vegetable being higher in price next year than this the method of seed treatment recommended by the Oregon State College will be pertinent. This is the acid-mercury dip and is used to combat scab and Rhizoctonia.

While potatoes grown in this county are usually free from disease it is generally noted that the grower who treats the seed and gives the best care to the growing plant receives much the best returns.

1. Add 4 ounces of mercuric chloride (corrosive sublimate) to one quart of commercial hydrochloric acid (muriatic acid.) It will dissolve immediately.

2. Measure out 25 gallons of water in a wooden barrel, tub, or concrete tank. A metal container may be used if thoroughly painted inside with heavy asphaltum paint. The solution will corrode metal.

3. Pour the quart of acid containing the mercuric chloride into the water and mix thoroughly.

4. A wooden crate, or wire basket thoroughly painted with asphaltum paint, should be used for dipping the potatoes.

5. Dip the potatoes in the solution and allow to set at least five minutes. If there is much scurf on the tubers they may be soaked longer. Soaking 40 minutes will not injure them.

6. Tubers should be treated before cutting.

7. Twenty five gallons of the solution is enough to treat 40 or 50 bushels of potatoes, after which the solution is likely to be too weak. It can be brought back to approximately original strength by adding one half pint of the stock solution and enough water to bring the solution back to 25 gallons. After 40 or 50 more bushels have been treated the solution should be discarded and a new one made.

8. Unless the tubers be planted immediately they must be spread out to dry. Do not store treated potatoes while they are wet. This is likely to injure them.

9. The diluted treating solution is not strong enough to injure the hands in ordinary practice. The strong acid should, however, be handled with care.

10. Remember that MERCURIC CHLORIDE IS A POISON.
