People's Column

To the Editor:

We of the Wasco Fire Department are putting our best effort forth for a 100 per cent Volunteer Fire Department and to accomplish that end our watch word must necessarily be co-operation not only within our own organization but from the public as well. The public heretofore perhaps has not been cognizant of the traffic laws that deal with fire departments, and therefore their cooperation has been negligible. If the public were to just observe those laws the efficiency of the department could be greatly increased.

We have upon various occasions noticed that cars try to be first to the fires, giving no right of way to the fire trucks, park their cars in front of fire hydrants, and follow close behind the fire truck. The law specifically states that upon hearing the siren they must pull to the curb and come to a halt, that they do not park 10 feet either side of the fire hydrant, nor at any time drive over a fire hose nor follow at a closer distance than 500 feet of a fire fighting equipment. There are many others but those are the main ones that the Wasco Fire Department is asking the Wasco public to cooperate with them by observing these rules thereby giving the city greater protection to life and property damage, and securing decreased insurance rates and saving the city ultimately hundreds of dollars and giving a far greater efficiency to a fire department that we are justly proud of. A department that every citizen can point to with justifiable pride as one of the finest, most modern volunteer departments in a town of our size, and of many a great deal larger than our own.

Yours for Co-operation and Efficiency, high charges. As an example he cited the Minongehela river where steel ore and coal are shipped by water and where factories have been established to handle this business until railroads have more business than they ever could have had if rates had been kept at their level.

The meeting was attended by many residents of the wheat counties along the Columbia including Morrow, Gilliam and Sherman counties. Those from Sherman county were Earl T. Jones, George Potter, B. H. Grady, and Giles L. French.

ELECTRIC COOKERY is but one of many services and conveniences brought to your home over the wires of the Pacific Power & Light Company at a very reasonable cost. The average electric cooking bill is less than $3.50 a month.

A delicious dinner for five cooked electrically... for only 5c

It costs only a penny a person a meal to cook electrically. Just think what you would save with an electric range. The even, penetrating heat of the electric oven seals in all the juices of a roast. When thoroughly baked it weighs almost as much as when it went into the oven! How much meat are you now cooking away every day?

Beets, carrots, cabbage, potatoes, apples and many other fruits and vegetables may now be cooked the waterless way in ordinary kettles! Think of all the healthful minerals and food values you now pour away with each vegetable you cook.

An electric range will reduce your fuel bills and save on your food bills. It would pay you to see the electric ranges at your electric dealer today. He can show you one just suited to your needs and priced within your budget.
