Notes About Masonic and Star Meeting

After the regular business meeting of Bethlehem Chapter, Thursday evening, the losers of the attendance contest entertained the winners in a very pleasant manner.

Following this a very touching drama entitled "The Gathering of the Nuts" was given. Having run short of talent on their side, the losers were forced to select a few notables from the winning side.

The drama centers around the hero, Mr. Derby as the radiant bridegroom and Mrs. Ora Peetz the pale, gum chewing bride.

At the close of the drama, delicious refreshments were served and the losers unanimously declared regal entertainers.

Delegates to Grand Chapter, O. E. S. left this week. They are W. A. Ruggles and wife, Mrs. Tom Fraser, Mrs. Ella Thompson and Mrs. Anna Moore.

June 23rd will be the last meeting night of the season, as our summer vacation begins then. Reports from the delegates will be heard and a social evening will be held afterward.

FIELD DAY

Continued from page one. crop and produce forage for stock instead of being plowed and seeded to grain. The local station has been developing plants of this variety and will have several of them to show those interested.

The usual experiments in crop rotation and tillage are still in progress at the station and farmers who have been watching the results of these tests will be interested in observing the late developments during the years of comparatively poor crops.

This field day is a public affair to which every one is invited and actual farmers are especially urged to come next Thursday afternoon and go over the station with the party and see what is being done there.
