Practice will start on these plays soon.

The Armistice Day game will mark the close of the 1932 foot ball season and the boys will be given a two weeks rest before basket ball practice is begun. During this time the activity period will be used for study for those who wsh it and it will give an opportunity for several of the student clubs to meet and arrange their winter program.

Saved by Forests

Gilead was never denuded of its forests as was Judea, and, as a consequence, never failed to receive rains and retain moisture. It is today one of the pastoral beauty spots of the earth, because it retained its forests, and did not leave its rocky hills in drought and barrenness.

RAIN IN SHERMAN COUNTY

what a decided and delightful change that would be for Sherman county.

But to speak further about that rain. Saturday night there was a downpour that was like the kind that grandfather tells about. It really just poured for awhile. Children six years old had never seen, or heard, it rain so unless they had been in one of our little cloudbursts in summer when we don't want it. Sixty hundreths inches of rain fell all at once.

Then election day it drizzled and drizzled as if the very skies were sad because of an impending parting of some kind, but as civilized people don't believe in omens that couldn't be possible. Anyway it rained another .44 of an inch and from a moisture point of view the county is setting rather pretty just now.

COUNTY OFFICERS

Young, for treasurer, 863; Updegraff, for county attorney, 822; Vintin, for county clerk, 943; Knighten, school superintendent, 953; Wilcox, coroner, 899; and Axtell for commissioner, 846. R. P. Foister was elected justice of peace for district one, Joseph Mee for district two, R. J. Ginn for district three and R. A. Stow for district four without any serious contest.
