

FOOTBALL GAME

 Charged slower than did the Moro Watkins, who did the punting for Wasco, made a local reputation for himself by his ability to boot the ball out of bounds where ever he wanted it to land. The pass combination of Spencer and Walsh was kept from much success throughout the game as the Moro boys had been coached to watch them.
 The game was clean and played almost without penalties. Moro suffered a 15 yard setback for holding once and there were a few off-side penalties. For a game between two high school teams whose rivalry extends back for twenty years it was an example of good sportsmanship on the part of the players and the townspeople who were spectators. Moore was referee, Guinan was field judge and Dean Barnett was head linesman.

We wish to thank the many people who came out Sunday morning and helped keep our church from burning down. This is also a special invitation to those people who helped and who came to watch to now come out every Sunday and help build our church up. You did a good turn to us and we wish to be of service to you. Now that you have discovered how easy it is to get around Sunday morning at the call of a fire siren, we invite you to be around every Sunday morning hereafter at the simple call of duty to yourself and your community. Even more dangerous than a fire that can burn a building is a steady indifference that will destroy the life and spirit of a church in although a slower yet a surer way.

The Eastern District Epworth League cabinet will hold a retreat at the Wasco parsonage this week-end beginning with a picnic supper 7.00 o'clock Friday evening and continuing until after morning worship Sunday. The Eastern District Epworth League officers, presidents and vice presidents from local chapters, and the pastors of the District have been invited to attend. Eastern District includes territory as far west as Cascade Locks, as far south as Bend, and as far east as Pendleton. Between twenty and twenty-five are expected. The retreat is for the purpose of planning the years work, arranging mid-winter institutes, discussing the possibility of a convention on the District some time next spring.

If our building is not in repair so that it can be used by Sunday, our Sunday school will be held at the parsonage and our worship at the Christian church. A committee from that church extended such an invitation to us the afternoon after the fire. The whole community is showing such a helpful, friendly, and sympathetic spirit. It is deeply appreciated. As soon as we are sure of the place of our Sunday meetings a notice will be placed in a conspicuous place down town.
