WASCO M. E. CHURCH

Those who will be in Portland the next week should plan to go sometime to the Sunnyside Methodist church to hear the Rev. E. Stanley Jones who will speak at 4 o'clock each day. Mr. Jones is perhaps the most widely known man in the Methodist church and his books have been best sellers of religious books for some years. He is a missionary who does most of his work among the educated classes in India.

This Sunday will be a "Go To Church" day with the men of the church and community as special guests. A basket lunch at DeMies will follow the morning worship. The membership and evangelism committee, Mrs. W. A. Mill, Mrs. G. A. Sargent, Mrs. O. D. Hildebrand, and Mrs. J. O. Yocum, are arranging for this event. Come to church school at 10:00 with you friends and your lunch.

There will be a Campfire girls ceremony Sunday morning at the M. E. church under the direction of Mrs. Fred Fortner assisted by Leona Clothier and Lorraine Darby.

HI-WAYS TO HEALTH

by ADA R. MAYNE

OREGON DAIRY COUNCIL

We are indebted to Connecticut for the origin of the ice cream sundae. On a Sunday evening, a long time ago, a customer entered a confectioner's shop in a Connecticut town and ordered the usual ice cream soda of the period. Finding that he had no soda water, the clerk timidly put the syrup over the ice cream and gave this new concoction to his customer. To the Clerk's surprise the customer liked the delicacy and advertised it widely in the community. Thus the ice cream sundae became popular through the error of a soda fountain clerk.

When entertaining, ice cream is the one food which offers the hostess a great many delectable combinations. Sundaes made usually by serving vanilla ice cream. Since strawberries are now in season, mix crushed, sweetened berries with whipped cream and serve a heaping tablespoonful on each dish of vanilla ice cream.

Preserved fruits, especially figs, drained, chopped and chilled, are luscious on slices of brick ice cream. Chopped bananas and sliced apricots, combined with stiffly beaten cream is another way of making a delicious sundae. Other fruit and nut combinations will suggest themselves to the house wife after she has served her family with sundaes. Home made sundaes are simple to make and are always a welcome surprise to the whole family. Ice cream is nutritious and should be looked upon as an everyday food. It contains all the elements of milk and should be considered another way of supplying this important food to the daily diet.

The joy of making sundaes for sundaes lies in the fact that the sauces can be made several days ahead of time and stored in the refrigerator for any meal. Here is a recipe for a fruit sauce which is always a favorite.

FRUIT SAUCES
One half cup sugar
One tablespoon cornstarch
One half cup pineapple juice
One fourth cup orange juice
Three tablespoons lemon juice
Grated rind of one lemon
One tablespoon butter
One half cup whipped cream
One fourth teaspoon salt
Mix sugar, salt and cornstarch and add to fruit juices and grated rind which have been combined and heat to boiling. Cook in a double boiler stirring constantly for 15 minutes. Add butter and chill. Just before serving fold in one half cup, whipped. Other combinations of fruit juice with the lemon may also be used.
