ALLIANCE PLAN

effect on prices. The wheat plan it is pointed out, permits the grower signing the contract to reap all the benefits of present advanced prices on all wheat he has on hand or will harvest this year, while insuring him of a fair "parity" price on the allotment portion of his crop in the next two years. In addition, it will provide cash benefit payments this year in return for agreement to limit acreage if called upon for 1934 and 1935.

Meanwhile enough cotton growers through the south have signed up with the government so that 10,000,000 acres of this year's crop will be destroyed so as to reduce production by more than 3,000,000 bales. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace has accepted the contracts and proclaimed the processing tax of 4.2 cents per pound on cotton effective August 1.

Sherman County Machine Shop Busy Place

Evidence that Sherman county is machine minded as far as farming operations is concerned, is found at the Sherman Garage and Machine Shop where machinery for repair and conditioning of all types of heavy farm machines is working. Heavy lathes, noisy reborers, machines, welding outfits and smaller machines to do any machine work are installed and working on a multitude of jobs. The shop has the reputation of being the best equipped shop for heavy machine repair between Portland and Walla Walla.

WHEAT CROP

Federation. The wheat is very short and almost every field has spots in it that do not show the dark color of perfection, but from results the wheat is there in spite of the appearance and that is what fills the sacks.

Farmers in the south end of the county are not yet convinced that their wheat will yield well. They estimate their crop at from four to eight sacks. It is, however, assuming the same color as did the north end wheat a week or so ago and it appears likely that crops all over the county will exceed expectations.

Estimates of the total county yield are increasing in many quarters from the two million mark set some weeks ago. Now there are experienced grain observers who boldly set the county crop at two and a half million which is the average crop over the ten year period.

Since the disastrous drop of last week the price has moved upward slowly.
