MORO SCHOOL NOTES

The football boys challenged the volley ball girls to a game of volley ball Friday afternoon as neither the boys nor the girls had a game.

Being somewhat inexperienced the boys were rather bewildered by the efficiency of the first team girls.

The first half was a complete victory for the girls. As the boys became used to the game they put up a very good game which served as excellent practice for the girls.

The final score was 58 to 15 in the girls favor.

Feeling more in luck the boys challenged the 2nd team to a game. Here the boys played a much improved game and showed some exceptional work that kept the 2nd team on its toes. The final score was 20 to 16 in the girls favor.

Moro and Rufus high school girls and their mothers were entertained by the Wasco girls last Saturday night October 28. Several musical stunts were given by the girls from the different schools, and a one act play was given by the Moro girls. The Junior and Senior girls of Wasco high won the cup for the best stunting. Dancing followed later in the evening.

Mr. Christenson of the Portland Music Company was here last week to organize a school band.

Mr. Simpson of Hood River will be here one day a week to give the lessons and direct the band.

Mrs. Bryant's pupils gave their Hallowe'en party Friday the 28th. The talent of the room was shown by a play which the pupils wrote. The parents were invited to this event.

On Hallowe'en day Miss Miller and Miss Cothran gave their party. Miss Biggness also entertained for her students. These were gala events with costumes to bring many laughs to the guests. Refreshments were served after the entertainment. A very happy Hallowe'en was had by all attending.

A volley ball game with Kent is scheduled for Friday evening.

A foot ball game will be held here with Grass Valley Friday, November 3. Lets go!!!

The high school students saw many queer figures last Tuesday when the children of Miss Miller's and Miss Cothran's room paraded through the rooms.

FABRICS APPEAL IN FALL STYLES

Fabrics are the things that make a strong appeal in the fall styles. There seems to have been a concerted effort to give them a quality value. In addition there is an entertaining topsyturvydom about them—even more exaggerated than it was in spring. Wools look like crepes, and crepes like wools, while velvets have so changed their complexion as to be barely recognizable. Bagheera velvet, rich and deep in tone and having practically no pile, is being widely used. By contrast there is a new velvet with a heavy pile that is pressed in such manner that it looks like a bunny's fur. Not so long ago we began to hear the word "croquignol" (a kind of small curly cake) used in connection with crepes. It described their crinkly surface. This season satins are going "croquignol." In fact, there are all sorts of new wrinkles and wrinkles in crepes, satins and velvets; crinkled velvet is a luscious thing to behold.

STYLE NOTES
Many new hats are of stitched velvet.
Early interest in fur trimmings is shown.
Little fur capes will carry a new note this fall.
Contrast both in color and material is featured.
Long pendant earrings are as popular as ever.
Fur, bead and fringe are outstanding trimming items.
Suede jacket with knitted skirt or dress is smart fall style.

Young Jack eyed the old lady who had just arrived. Then he looked up and remarked: "So you're my grand mother, are you?"
"Yes, dear, on your father's side," replied the old lady with a smile.
"Then I can tell you right at the start that you're on the wrong side," said Jack, without shifting his gaze.

RED CROSS RELIEF AID DISTRESSED IN 120 DISASTERS
Help Given in Fires, Floods, Earthquake and Epidemics Part of Year's Task

The American Red Cross has reached into the homes of six million families in the past year with unemployment and disaster relief, Chairman John Bar-to Payne announced.

"As the year closed the organization continued in readiness to serve in the forthcoming winter at the point of greatest need and to adjust its service to meet the calls of the emergency of unemployment and disaster," Chairman Payne stated.

In a year of greatest economic distress in the nation's history, in which the Red Cross ably discharged a relief task in distributing flour and clothing to distressed families in all but six of the nation's 3,098 counties, the organization also was called into action in 120 disasters, of which 96 were within the borders of the United States.

Earthquake, floods, hurricanes, fires and other cataclysms visited death and destruction upon the lives and homes of thousands of people. Red Cross statistics showed that in the 120 disasters almost a thousand lives were lost, 148,340 homes were destroyed or damaged, 13,275 persons were injured, and Red Cross relief was given to 452,879 individuals.

In giving aid in these disasters, in its unemployment relief and in handling the distribution of government wheat and cotton, the Red Cross expended from its national treasury the sum of $1,070,284.

During one period of twelve weeks, 46 disasters occurred in 23 states. Red Cross disaster workers were hard pressed in meeting all of these needs occurring at once, but everywhere misery was promptly relieved.

Support of the Red Cross work is through its annual roll call, conducted by chapters in the period from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, November 11 to November 30. Every citizen who joins the Red Cross as a member aids in carrying relief to disaster victims and in other Red Cross services, such as preservation of life, child welfare through the Junior Red Cross, and direct service for the public health.

CHILD'S WARDROBE

This is the time to size up the children's wardrobe to decide what last year's dresses may be suitable for the new season by adding a new top, shortening sleeves, devising a handkerchief-linen gimp to make the wool plaid seem spring-like, or a cape collar to give the wide shoulders to that wool crepe dress, writes Carolyn T. Radnor-Lewis in Child Life Magazine. The picture offers a suggestion for transforming a simple little print dress into a dainty party frock, by adding as a shoulder trimming a wide ruche trimming made of plaited mousseline which gives the new effect which is so popular this season.

Skirt Hems
When putting a hem in a skirt be sure to take a few back stitches ever so often. In this way if the hem starts to rip it cannot rip for any great length on account of these extra stitches.

(4) There shall also be delivered with the essay a certificate signed by a teacher or instructor of the educational institution attended, stating that the writer of the essay is a pupil or student attending the same.
(5) In order to be considered in competition the essay must be delivered, by mail or in person, to the Oregon Historical Society, Room C, Public Auditorium, 235 S. W. Market Street, Portland, Oregon, not later than Saturday, March 17, 1934.
(6) All essays submitted in competition will be numbered and submitted without the names of the writers or other identifying marks, to three judges selected by the undersigned committee.

(7) All competitive essays will be judged according to the general merit and excellence; but the judges will also take into consideration, in passing thereon, neatness of manuscript, accurate orthography, correct grammar and competition, and purity and clarity of diction.
The Oregon State Library in Salem has a reading list or bibliography upon the above named subject, which will be sent to any Oregon student on request. Books pertaining to the subject are obtainable in most Oregon public libraries.

Cottage Cheese Easily Made

Cottage cheese, with cream added contains most of the constituents of whole milk in concentrated form, and may be substituted for part of the daily requirement of milk, says Lucy A. Case, extension specialist in nutrition at O. S. C. Like skim milk, cottage cheese without cream is rich in protein, lime and phosphorus, and is a highly nutritious product. Because of its high protein content, cottage cheese is best used as a substitute for meat, not as a side dish in a meal containing meat. It is wise to include coarse foods in a meal containing cottage cheese to supply roughage.

Cottage cheese may be made at home with or without a starter of sour milk, that made with a starter usually having a better flavor says Miss Case.

To make cottage cheese with a starter, use clean skim, unpasteurized milk, and keep it cool until ready for use, at 50 degrees if possible. On the evening before making the cheese, heat the milk slowly to room temperature (75 degrees F.) and add two thirds cup of well flavored sour milk or butter milk to each gallon of sweet skim milk used. Cover the pan with a clean cloth and keep in a warm room over night. When clabbered, stir thoroughly. Place the can of milk in another pan which contains water that is hot but not boiling. Heat the milk slowly until a drop on the back of the hand feels slightly warmer than the body (100 degrees F.) Cool the hot water around the pan of milk to the body temperature also, to prevent the temperature of the milk going too high. Cover the milk and keep it at this temperature (100 degrees F.) for one-half hour, stirring well frequently. Pour it into a muslin or cheese cloth sack and hang the sack up to drain.

Cleanliness and sanitary conditions of handling the milk and milk utensils are essential to securing a good flavor in cottage cheese. A second important factor in making good cottage cheese is control of temperature during the cooking process. The best temperature is 100 degrees F. A dairy thermometer (cost about 60 cents) is a good investment.
