MORO SCHOOL NOTES
The Moro boys suffered their second defeat by The Dalles team. Friday night on the Dalles floor, the final score being 28-18.

The Huskies offence lacked the drive and speed it showed in defeating Kent two weeks ago.

The Dalles lead off in the scoring, caging two baskets in quick succession. Thompson dropped one through for first score for Moro from the side lines. Fraser converted a free throw and the score stood 4-3. This ended the Moro scoring until late in the second quarter when Hennagin shot a triple from under the basket. The score stood 12-5 at half time.

The Huskies came back the third quarter with a driving offence that scored six baskets in quick succession. During the third quarter Axteel taking the tip off and on a tricky dribble slipped through The Dalles defence to the basket to turn in the outstanding individual performance of the game.

The Dalles team brought its total to 28 points with some long shots that the Moro defence was unable to check.

Mr. Knighten met February 2, with the 4-H club members who had completed their work last year. The purpose of the meeting was to arrange for part of the program to be given at the Commercial Club banquet February 20. At this time Marjorie Byers was elected song leader and Gordon Fraser, yell leader. They are making preparations for the yelling and singing to be given that evening.

Mr. Walker is greatly perturbed by the fact that since the allotment checks have arrived the attendance record has decreased, most of the students being in The Dalles.

The Moro basketball teams play at Wasco this Friday night February 9.

The Moro boys play Dufur here this Saturday night. The game will be a double header as Dufur is bringing their first and second teams.

SPRING FASHIONS MOST INTERESTING

New Suits Are Youthful and Have Certain Dash.

The first of the spring suits just made their appearance in Paris. Like the robes, they always arrive, not with the spring but well before it. They are prophets of the future; they announce, as effectively as the weather man what spring is going to be like in Paris.

This year, they are forecasts of fashions that are, above all things, youthful. The correct spring suit is, like the young people who wear it, active, bright, sportlike. Even with formal costumes, it carries with it a certain dash that it never had before. Its jacket is short, but so cleverly designed that it hasn't the abbreviated appearance of its predecessors. The combination of jacket and skirt often looks more like a dress than a suit.

Its shoulders are wide and roomy, giving plenty of freedom to the arms, and a great deal of style in the bargain. The skirt is ample but not so full that it loses any streamline effects of a young figure.

One of its best features lies in the way it can be adjusted and turned about and changed to look like several costumes.

1st mother—Are you bothered much by your children telling fibs?
2nd mother—Not so much as by their telling the truth at very inappropriate times.

Rufus—There's an exception to every rule.
Goofus—Who's the exception to the rule that we all must die?
Rufus—Why, that's the exception to the rule that all rules have their exceptions.

Jimmie's got a great scheme for getting out of school on nice days.

What's that?
He washes his face at recess and then the teacher thinks he's sick and sends him home.

Author—How do you like my books?
Friend—I'm stuck on two of them. Author—Which two are they?
Friend—The two I bought.

Mother—Now, May June, won't you give your brother a piece of your apple?
May June—Not me! That was what Eye did to Adam—and just see how she's been criticized ever since.

Government Agencies To Be Co-ordinated

In its relation with agriculture the federal government has decided definitely to "let its right hand know what its left hand is doing." In fact orders have been given from the Farm Credit administration on the one hand to cooperate with the AAA on the other to see that production loans do not work against the purposes of production control. The extension service at Oregon State college has just received word that it is to assist in completing arrangements to see that the activities of these two agencies of the federal government are coordinated in this state.

Under an agreement reached between the FCA and AAA, production loans through the newly formed production credit associations will be granted only to those growers who either have joined in the production control movements in which they are eligible, or those growers who will agree not to increase their acreage of basic commodities listed in the farm act.

That is to say, if a man who grows wheat has not joined his local wheat production control association and thus agreed to decrease his acreage by 15 per cent this year, he will have to agree not to increase his wheat acreage, as well as any other of the basic crops or livestock, above his past average if he wants to get a loan from the new production credit associations. Farmers who have signed control agreements will need no further proof of their cooperation in order to borrow. This ruling applies only to the short-time or production loans and has nothing to do with the long term real estate loans obtained through the federal land banks, according to the information from Washington. It does apply to private lending agencies which discount farmers' notes with the federal intermediate credit banks. "This close cooperation between the AAA and the FCA does not contemplate an undue hardship on those who have not joined production control associations, but it does look forward to a coordination of these agencies in bringing about production control," says William F. Myers, governor of the farm credit administration.
