Brief Resume of Happenings
of the Week Collected for
Our Readers

Lebanon—Mrs. Anna Gree, one of the oldest residents of Lebanon, is dead, following a long illness. She had lived in Lebanon more than half a century.

Baker—Mrs. Anna Stadman, well known pioneer resident of Baker, observed her 84th birthday anniversary last Sunday. She came to Baker in 1873.

Bend — The manzanita on The Dalles-California highway south of Bend is in bloom on the south slopes. In ordinary seasons the manzanita does not bloom before March.

Eugene —The first candidate in the field for county office in Lane county is Mrs. Pearl Schanck, for Route No. 1, Eugene. She is a candidate for county treasurer on the Republican ticket.

Pendleton—An abundant flow of water has been struck at the Pendleton airport at a depth of 530 feet. An electric pump has been ordered and with its installation the airport will have an automatic water system.

Eugene—The mill of the Western Lumber company at Westfir, in Lane county, has resumed operation on a 30-hour-a-week basis. The planing mill and shipping department will operate under the same schedule. Logging will be resumed within 10 days.

Grants Pass—Proof of an early spring is indicated in the finding of a recently shed buck deer horn near Grants Pass by Ernest Pruitt. Usually deer do not begin to shed their horns until late in February or early in March.

Salem—Unless the board of directors of the Salem general hospital can raise within the next 30 days $5000 with which to pay back interest on its bond debt, foreclosure proceedings will be begun on behalf of the bondholders.

Redmond — A committee headed by M. A. Lynch, former chairman of the state game commission, has been appointed by the Redmond-Sisters Sportsmen's club to see that a good distribution of fish is made this spring in the Deschutes and Metolius rivers.

Astoria—A committee of trollers headed by John Suoja, clerk of the Pacific Fisheries union, is engaged in the solicitation of Astoria merchants to underwrite the first year's income for the proposed trollers' mooring basin at Astoria, to be built through a PWA grant.

Tillamook—The assessment roll of Tillamook county, just completed by Assessor Hare, shows a total valuation of $14,020,840. This is $3,718,015 less than in 1932, and $14,902,425 less than in 1927. Most of the drop in 1933 is due to the loss of timber in the forest fires last August.

Lumber Workers Get Pay Rise
Toledo—All employees of the Pacific Spruce corporation here received a 2 1/2 cent wage boost, as provided by the new 4-L wage rise above the 42 1/2 cent minimum provided by the lumber code.

Bean Pickers' Wage Set
Salem — The state welfare commission has fixed the compensation for bean pickers during the 1934 season at 85 cents a 100 pounds, which is a substantial increase when compared with the previous schedule.

Wheat Checks Distributed
Roseburg—First money to be received by growers under the federal wheat allotment program was distributed here last Wednesday by J. Roland Parker, county agent. Checks were sent to 22 Douglas county growers, the total amount being $1090.

Mill To Reopen Monday
Marshfield — Announcement was made that the McKenna mill, employing about 60 men, will resume work Monday for two or three weeks. Future operation is contingent on orders. The McKenna mill was operated extensively in 1932 but has been inactive this year.

18 Pigs in One Litter
Medford — Going the Hollister, Cal., hog one better in breaking down Uncle Sam's "hog birth control" program, a Duroc-Jersey sow at the D. R. Smith ranch, south of here, brought her master a litter of 18 pigs. He didn't give the sow's name, but said that she and family were doing fine.

Hop Contract Made
Eugene — A contract whereby James W. Seavey, hop grower of this city, agrees to sell to Wood, Hansbush, Rhodes & Jackson of London 50,000 pounds of hops each year from 1935 to 1937, inclusive, at 25 cents a pound, was filed here. Mr. Seavey had previously contracted to sell 100,000 pounds each year in 1934 and 1935.

HI-WAYS TO HEALTH
by ADA R. MAYNE
OREGON DAIRY COUNCIL

With a generous supply of milk for the family on hand, housewives have the basis for many tasty dishes as well as a most important essential for a well balanced meal. If luncheon or supper is to provide a cream soup or a chowder, milk will be the chief ingredient. In the making of hot breads, biscuits, muffins and rolls, milk plays an important part. In the preparation of the main dishes of the meal, vegetables, meat, cheese or egg combinations, milk has a leading role. Custards, fillings for pies, cakes, cookies, ice cream and candies demand milk for a perfect product.

As a beverage, whole milk is inimitable in its natural state, or it may be served as hot chocolate, cocoa, cafe au lait, or blended with fruit juices it becomes a cooling, refreshing milk drink.

Whole milk has long been recognized as the most important single food. For good health, there are certain definite essentials which the body requires every day. The essentials are the vitamins, minerals, protein and energy materials. Of these essential food needs, a quart of milk daily provides over one half the necessary amount for an adult or child. Every quart bottle of milk contains calcium and phosphorus (the mineral from which teeth and bones are made) an eighth of the daily supply of iron; protection in Vitamin A, besides the vitamins B, G, D; a high quality of protein and one fourth to one fifth of the day's energy supply.

The housewife who is interested in economy and family health will provide their children with a quart of milk daily. The grown up members of the family, too, for best health and efficiency, are in need of at least a pint and preferably one quart of milk or its equivalent each day.

The following milk dishes are delicious for luncheon or supper.

Navy Bean Chowder

- One cup navy beans
- Two oz. lean & fat pork, salt
- Three fourths cup diced carrots
- One and one-half cups potatoes, diced
- One half cup onion, thinly sliced
- Three tbsps. finely chopped parsley
- Three fourths tsp. salt
- One fourth tsp. pepper

- One cup milk
- Three tbsps. butter
- Wash beans clean; cover with cold water and let stand over night. In morning place on low fire and cook gently until soft. Dice pork, place in frying pan and saute to golden color. Add to beans with prepared vegetables and seasonings and boil 12 minutes; reduce heat, add milk and butter; reheat and serve.

Cream of Beet Soup

- Two small onions
- Two tablespoons butter
- One and one-fourth cups water
- Two cups finely chopped fresh or canned beets
- Three fourths cups meat stock
- One and one-half teaspoons salt
- Pepper
- Two and one-half cups whole milk
- One and one-half tablespoons vinegar

Cut onion fine and cook in the butter until soft and yellow. Add water, beets and meat stock and heat to the boiling point. (If meat stock is not available a beef or chicken bouillon cube may be dissolved in 1/2 cup boiling water.) Add salt and pepper and the milk and again reheat to the boiling point. Remove from fire, add the vinegar and serve at once.

State Of Oregon
Celebrates 75 Anniversary

Medford, Ore., Feb. 15. (Special)—Echoes of rumbling covered wagon wheels will again be heard when Oregon celebrates its seventy-five years of statehood during Oregon's Diamond Jubilee in Medford, from June

EMMA COMES BACK

Emma Goldman, famous anarchist who was deported from the United States to Russia in 1919, received permission to return for a stay of 90 days to visit relatives. This photograph, the first made of her in 15 years, was taken in Toronto, where she is known as Mrs. James Colton.

3-9, when events which made history will be reviewed in imposing pageantry. Admitted to the union on Valentine's Day, 1859, Oregon, derived from the word Ouragon, has made remarkable strides since the region first became known, dating back to the discovery of the Columbia River in 1792, followed by the explorations of Lewis and Clark in 1805.

White men knew little of the great country of the west for numerous years following the travels of Lewis and Clark, and it was not until 1835 when the first overland crossing was successfully completed by missionaries inspired to come west following the arrival of four Flathead Indians in St. Louis. The Indians wished to learn more of the wisdom of the pale faces and take back to their tribesmen the information they so eagerly sought. History states two of the aborigines died in St. Louis and another succumbed on the way back.

Missions paved the way for the influx of settlers, who also followed in the wake of trappers and traders, gradually building a new Empire against discouraging odds of hostile Indians and conditions which made self-preservation an arduous task. Unsung deeds of heroism are written on forgotten pages of unrecorded history as hardy pioneers surmounted great difficulties in moulding a state, which began to have crude forms of government during the days of the trappers, beginning in 1823, followed by provisional government in 1845, territorial government in 1849, and statehood in 1859.

Faithfully these stirring epochs of Oregon will be shown again to Jubilee visitors, encouraging a deeper appreciation for the efforts of early pioneers who became inured to hardships and found joy in visions they held for the future of a land of which they were the builders. All Oregonians are urged to celebrate in Medford and Jackson county, which, itself, played an important part of Oregon's yesteryears.

Reginald—But I asked you, darling, to keep our engagement a secret

Claire—I couldn't help it. That hateful Ethel said the reason I wasn't married was that no man had ever been fool enough to propose to me. So I told her you had.

She—The man I marry, must be bold as a lion, but not over-bold, handsome as Apollo, industrious as Vulcan, wise as Solomon, yet meek as Moses—a man all women would court, yet devoted to only one woman—myself.

He—How lucky we met!

Askit—Do you think what we need is a more elastic currency

Tellit—No, I favor a more adhesive currency.

Obstructed Vision
The thing that very commonly hinders perception is preoccupation; we go about with eyes that see not because our minds are full of something else.—Judge Homer Ferguson.
