Daller Farmer
Tries New Sheep

DALLAS—A small flock of black faced, Highland sheep that remind one of Biblical pictures of Palestine flocks has been purchased by Wm. Riddell and sons south of Monmouth, who plan to give them a thorough trial. They were obtained from Dave Hoffmeister of Clackamas, and these two flocks and one in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, are thought to be the only sheep of this breed in the United States. They have a long coarse wool that hangs almost free of ringlets, and have black faces and horns. They are said to have come from the hills of Scotland where they

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?

Who is responsible for reporting the occurrence of measles, whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever and other communicable diseases to the health department?

According to the laws of Oregon "It shall be the duty of all physicians and all other persons practicing the art or science of healing human beings, and all persons having the care of persons affected with any communicable disease, including heads of households, immediately upon the development of the disease so as to show its communicable character, to report to the local health officer with in whose jurisdiction such sick person may be located in the manner required by the rules and regulations of the state board of health, and upon blanks supplied by said board, the name and address of any person afflicted with any communicable disease on which the state board of health requires a report, together with the nature of the disease and such other information as shall be required by the state board of health. It shall be the duty of any person required to make a report under this statute either to procure from the county health officer a blank furnished by the state board of health for the making of such report, or to make such report in writing and furnish therein information required by the state board of health." Sec. 59-312 Oregon Code

Rules and Regulations.—Every person who in the state of Oregon treats or examines for the purpose of diagnosis or treatment any person suffering from or afflicted with, or who suspects that any person treated or examined by him is suffering with any one of the diseases made notifiable by the preceding section, shall report such case to the jurisdictional health officer within twenty four hours after making a diagnosis or suspecting the disease to be one required to be reported. Said report shall be transmitted either by telephone or in writing. If made in writing, the report shall be on the blank form required by these rules and may be forwarded by mail or person at the office of the jurisdictional health officer.

A woman arrested for disturbing a religious meeting in the Kentucky backwoods was asked to explain in court why she laughed out loud in the meeting. She demurred, but when the judge insisted that she inform the court precisely what happened, she reluctantly gave the following testimony.

A very large woman was inspired by religious inspiration to lie down and roll on the floor. As the course of rolling progressed, the lady's dress worked up around her waist, disclosing bloomers made of sugar sack.

The explosion of the defendant's composure occurred at the point in the proceedings when across the seat of the bloomers appeared in large bold letters the inscription: "100 lbs. Pure Sugar."

The judge instructed the jury to find the defendant not guilty.

live on browse and grass much like Angora goats. Mr. Riddell plans on putting them on a hill farm in Douglas county.

Farmers Position Held Improving

Most farm prices made substantial gains during February, and as a whole their gains were greater than increases in prices paid by farmers, according to the monthly Agricultural Situation and Outlook report just prepared by the Oregon State College extension service.

Eggs were the only major commodity that did not share in this general price increase. As compared to January, grains rose three points, fruits and vegetables nine points, meat animals 9 points, while eggs dropped 9 points.

In terms of pre war conditions, the February index of all farm prices stood at 76, the index of prices paid by farmers for commodities usually bought stood at 118, and the purchasing power of the farm dollar was 64 per cent of pre-war, or parity. The farm dollar in February with a purchasing power of 64 per cent of parity is a much better dollar than the farm dollar of a year ago which had a purchasing power of only 49 per cent parity. This 15 point gain in purchasing power represents slightly less than a third of the gain that must be made before the farm dollar will have an equal exchange value with the industrial dollar.

The purchasing power during February of some of the major farm commodities in relation to parity was as follows: Eggs 59 percent, chickens 76 percent, wool 121 percent, lambs 94 percent, beef cattle 60 percent, hogs 45 percent, butterfat 70 percent, wheat 69 percent and potatoes 107 percent.

The outlook report also includes brief commodity notes, among which are notes on poultry, lambs and potatoes.

Hatchery reports indicate a smaller output than a year ago. For the United States as a whole, bookings for chick deliveries after February 1 were about 13.7 percent less than for last year.

The early lamb crop is slightly larger and the condition of lambs is better than last year. An earlier than usual market movement is expected.

Preliminary estimates of potato plantings indicate that they will be larger than last year. So far the bulk of the increase appears to be in the early and intermediate states.

America - here they are!

To fill the record-breaking nationwide demand, Chevrolets are being produced at a record-breaking rate of 4000 units a day!

CHEVROLET factories are breaking records, trying to give America all the cars it wants. 4000 units a day are rolling off the assembly lines. In fact, more Chevrolets are now being produced than any other make of automobile in the world.

Naturally, Chevrolet is proud of the record its factories have made this year. Especially so, in view of the fact that the 1934 Chevrolet is not merely last year's model improved, but a basically new automobile throughout. Producing so many of these cars so early in the season, and producing them all up to Chevrolet high standards of quality, is nothing short of a real accomplishment!

Chevrolet takes this opportunity to thank the American public for the wonderful way it has received the 1934 Chevrolet car. And Chevrolet is happy to report, that with over 4,000 cars a day being built, dealers everywhere will soon be in a position to make immediate deliveries.
