Grasshoppers Menace
In Grant County

The grass hopper menace in Grant county so far as a serious infestation goes is a thing of the past for this year, reports county agent R. G. Johnston. The Logan Valley cattlemen's association worked diligently and with federal aid for supplies has completely wiped out the beds in that district. Mr. Johnston says, thus saving summer feed for at least 4000 head of cattle. The main beds in the Fox valley district are also poisoned and were killed out before the hoppers spread very rapidly.

EUGENE PAGEANT
has been chosen for the lead role of "Spirit of the Pioneer". Mr. Barker, donor of the famed pioneer mother statue on the campus and an authority on pioneer lore, is the son of pioneers who came to Oregon by covered wagon. He is the unanimous choice of the entire state for the part.

The huge stages for the pageant is skillfully designed by Fred Harris, nationally known as master of this work. It will be skillfully constructed on wheels, so that complete changes of scene can be made in an instant while the lights are blacked out. The event will again be staged on Hayward field which will have a seating capacity of more than 6,000 persons per night.
