

Eureka Lodge No. 121 A.F. & A.M.
Moro, Oregon
Meets the 1st and 3rd Thursday evenings of each month. Visiting members cordially invited to meet with us.
Elmer Hansen, W. M.
C. V. Belknap, Secy.

Moro Lodge No. 113, I. O. O. F.
Moro, Oregon
Meets every Monday evening in the I. O. O. F. hall. Transient and visiting brothers are cordially invited to meet with us.
Ralph Brisbane, N. G.
Joe Truitt, Secretary.

Lupine Rebecca Lodge No. 116
Moro, Oregon
Meets 2d and 4th Tuesdays of each month. Visiting members welcome.
Naomi VanGilder, N. G.
Lila Ball, Secretary.

Town Talk
There will be a special Thanksgiving service at the Community Presbyterian church next Sunday at 11:00 a. m.

The Keystone class will meet for the purpose of electing new officers and planning a program for the winter, at noon next Sunday, November 25th, in the church basement. A potluck dinner is planned and everyone interested is cordially invited.

Mrs. Van Gilder went to The Dalles Friday to see her husband who is improving since his operation. Mrs. Gladys Buxton accompanied her.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Ginn accompanied their son Harold last Friday on a business trip to The Dalles.

Geo. N. Magwood, State Lecturer of the Townsend Plan will speak at the Presbyterian church Thursday night November 29th, Thanksgiving evening.

The Harlandview grange is landscaping the ground around its hall in Hay Canyon and making the immediate vicinity more pleasant in general.

A. M. Wright and R. J. Ginn were in Hood River Wednesday on a business trip.

Mrs. Theodore Barnum and baby Florence are here for a couple of weeks to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Barnum.

The jury called for the November term of circuit court has been dismissed as there will be no jury trials this term according to word sent out by Sheriff Chrisman this week.

Mrs. L. D. Idleman was a visitor at the A. S. Johnson home last week end from Salem. Lamer H. Sayrs accompanied her.

Mrs. Carrol Sayrs entertained a group of friends with bridge Thursday afternoon at her home west of town.

Mrs. Frank Fagan of McMinnville is visiting here with her mother, Mrs. A. M. Young and her sister, Mrs. Darwin Van Gilder.

Several members of the Rebekah lodge drove to The Dalles Monday night to take part in an initiation ceremony by the lodge there. Making the trip were Mrs. Margaret Peetz, Mrs. D. A. Van Gilder, Mrs. Ralph Brisbane and Mrs. Frank Fagan.

Darwin Van Gilder is recovering from his recent operation in The Dalles hospital although it will be some time before he is able to be about again.

The city's new fire wagon is being transformed into the type of truck the firemen want for their purposes and will be ready, with hose body, bright paint and all within a short time.

Mrs. W. H. Ragsdale had her tonsils removed at The Dalles hospital Monday and is spending a few days there to recover.

Harry Pinkerton is constructing a new and modern chicken house on his ranch north of town to replace the one the wind destroyed this fall.

J. O. Peterson and wife of Wakefield, Nebraska, stopped here Thursday noon for a short visit with C. V. Belknap whom they knew in early days. They are on their way to Portland.

The Masonic order held a general meeting at Moro Thursday night which was attended by a large crowd.

Truman Strong said he was tired of crossing the holes in the street and accordingly filled some of them up. Thanks.

Jim Woods is here this week from his home in Walla Walla for a visit with his sister, Mrs. L. V. Moore.
Mrs. Webb Templeton and Miss Signa Woods were shopping in the Dalles Thursday afternoon.

Nit-Why is there such an affinity between a colored man and a chicken?
Wit—Because one descended from Ham and the other from eggs.

CHURCHES

Community Presbyterian Church
10:00 a. m. Sunday School.
11:00 a. m. Special Thanksgiving Services. Mrs. Foley will be on the program and the S.S. orchestra will assist with the music.

Fall Gospel Assembly
Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching Service 11 a. m.
Evangelistic Service 7:30 p. m.
Subject: The Three Biggest Fools in Moro.

Special Evangelistic services are being held each evening at 7:30 p. m. except Monday and Saturday.
Next Thursday November 29th there will be a Special Thanksgiving service at 8 p. m.
We give one and all a hearty invitation to these services.
F. F. Snyder.

Christian Science
All are cordially invited to attend the church services and to make use of the reading room in the rear of the church building, which is open daily where all authorized Christian Science literature may be read, borrowed or purchased.
Subject: Soul and Body
Golden Text, Hebrews 4: 12. The word of God is quick and powerful, and sharper than any two edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.
Responsive Reading: Colossians 2:8-11, 16-19

Lutheran Church, Grass Valley
Service Sunday morning at 10:00 o'clock, Sunday school at 10:30 a. m. in the Methodist church. Cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend.
W. F. Georg.

MORO SCHOOL NOTES
By Anita Kenny
The girls of the Moro volleyball team succeeded in making their selves the champions of Sherman county by winning their last game which was played at Rufus last Friday night. The final score was 23 to 19, which indicates in itself that the game was a very close one. The line-up for the game was Gayle Amidon, Mary Pinkerton, Dorothy Fraser, Genevieve Nelhouse, Gertrude Gillmor, and Melba Thogerson. No substitutions were made during the game.

After the main game the second team of Moro played the second team of Rufus, but were defeated by a score of 25 to 15. The line-up for this game. Irma Morgan, Helen Strong, Doris Thompson, Louise Barzee, Betty Powell, and Winifred Belshee. Reitha Howard substituted for Louise Barzee in the first half Louise returned to the game at the beginning of the second half.

Due to a siege of chicken-pox several students have been and are absent from school. From high school the absentees are Max Belshee, Winifred, Arthur and Russell Belshee. Barbara Belshee has recovered and is again attending classes. Linden Mersinger is absent from the grade school.

The football boys and volleyball girls will be entertained by their parents at a banquet held at the Moro Hotel Friday night.
Girl's basketball practice began Monday night. Mr. Walker will be the coach this year.
The boys will play their first basketball game with The Dalles Saturday night. The contest will be staged on the home floor with admission being 10c and 25c.

Big Cleaning Job
An unusual view of the steel scaffolding erected around the Washington monument in preparation for giving the famous shaft its first cleaning and repairing. The scaffolding weighs 600 tons and cost approximately $100,000.

Aetna Casualty & Surety INSURANCE
Automobile Insurance
City of New York Fire Insurance
New York Life Insurance
Joe Truitt
AGENT—Any kind of Insurance
MORO :: :: OREGON

Joe Truitt
AGENT—Any kind of Insurance
MORO :: :: OREGON

Memorial to George Eastman Dedicated

Hugh Ittekk, president of the University of Rochester, speaking during the unveiling of the monument to the late George Eastman, founder of the Eastman Kodak company, at the entrance to the Kodak park, Rochester, N. Y. Mr. Eastman's ashes are sealed within the marble shaft.

Agricultural Situation Held Improving

Continued improvement in agriculture through 1935 is foreseen by trained agricultural observers from all parts of the United States who gathered recently in Washington for the annual agricultural outlook conference, reports L. R. Breithaupt, extension economist at Oregon State college, who was called to the capital to assist in the conference.

The national report issued following the conference points out that greatly reduced supplies of most farm products, and some improvement in consumer buying power, will likely bring about a higher level of farm income the first half of next year than was had during the first half of 1934. Mr. Breithaupt is now preparing state outlook reports dealing with the various enterprises important to Oregon, in which he will adapt to local conditions the information brought out in the national meeting, and supplement it with information on conditions in this state. The first section to be released late in November, deals with horticultural crops.

National farm production is expected to be bigger than the usually small production this year, the national conference decided. In general they think a small improvement in buying power of farm families may be expected, although in those areas severely affected by the drought, cash income next year will be extremely low.

The outlook reporters expect a substantial advance in prices of all meat animals. They say fewer animals will be slaughtered, and those slaughtered will weigh less and will be much below average in quality and finish. The reduction slaughtered is expected to be pronounced after next February, and the greatest relative shortage will develop next summer. The decrease in pork production will be relatively more than that of beef or lamb. No material expansion in livestock numbers is expected before 1936.

As for prices and credit, Mr. Breithaupt says, the economists figure that the prices of commodities used in agricultural production probably will average somewhat higher than in 1934, at least until the middle of 1935. They hold that the credit situation will continue to show gradual improve-

IS YOUR CAR ALWAYS UNDER CONTROL?
Entering the last of six two-week periods devoted to directing attention to six major causes of accidents, the state wide "Let's Quit Killing" drive Sunday began to concentrate educational and enforcement activities on defective and unsafe equipment on Oregon automobiles.

Figures derived from a free testing station operated in Portland during the past month have revealed an average of 17 per cent of all cars operated in Oregon have defective brakes, while about 37 per cent have defective lights and brakes.

Eradication of these defects by close checking of safety elements of equipment by motorists should be a factor in reducing Oregon's mounting auto death toll, believes the Oregon State Motor association, one of the sponsors of the

BIG CLEANING JOB

An unusual view of the steel scaffolding erected around the Washington monument in preparation for giving the famous shaft its first cleaning and repairing. The scaffolding weighs 600 tons and cost approximately $100,000.

Jiu-Jitsu Rough Sport
The Jiu-Jitsu bout of Japan is the roughest two-man sport. All kinds of fouls are permitted and broken necks and ankles, dislocated hips and shoulders and torn tendons are not uncommon. When a combatant is in a painful grip and about to receive a disabling injury, he is supposed to give in and end the round. Rather than face this humiliation, however, he sometimes allows himself to be punished to the point of insensibility. — Collier's Weekly.

Plight of Higher Education Unavoidable One This Year

With the second biennial report of the Oregon state board of higher education now on the press preparatory to distribution to the governor, state legislature and other state officials as required by law, Willard L. Marks, president of the board, has submitted to Governor Meier his official letter of transmittal which summarizes some of the educational and financial highlights of the biennial report.

That the six institutions under control of the board have helped reduce the tax burden during the depression years, have maintained high quality of service and instructional standards despite financial handicaps, and have arrived at a settled policy as to major curricula allocations, is pointed out by Presidents Marks.

Operation of the system on state income 40.5 per cent under that enjoyed by the institutions before the single board was given complete charge has not been accomplished without curtailment of important services to the state and students, President Marks admits, or without imposing emergency conditions on staff members that cannot be expected to continue. Nevertheless, standards have been maintained surprisingly well under the difficulties encountered, he reports.

For the next two years President Marks asks only that higher education be allowed enough money to maintain itself on the present restricted level of operation, and that its staff members be accorded the same treatment as to restoration of salaries that the legislature may provide for other state employees. He adds that these cumulative salary reductions in all funds handled within the system will amount to approximately $1,020,000 by the end of the present stricken farmers without security, however, will need special consideration. The demand for production credit will probably exceed that of 1934 since the accumulated needs for equipment and repairs are much greater than in recent years.

Mr. Breithaupt reports that work had not been completed on the new corn-hog contracts when he left Washington. Oregon wheat growers are looking forward to learning more about the future of the wheat plan when George E. Farrell, chief of the wheat section, visits the annual convention of the Eastern Oregon Wheat League in Arlington December 7 and 8.

Wife—William, do you remember how you used to tell me you were going to lavish your wealth upon me?
Hubby—Yes, dear.
Wife—Well, how about lavishing a nickel for a pair of shoe strings.

Try Journal advertising, it pays.

ment above the bad conditions of the past several years. Drouth

With the second biennial report of the Oregon state board of higher education now on the press preparatory to distribution to the governor, state legislature and other state officials as required by law, Willard L. Marks, president of the board, has submitted to Governor Meier his official letter of transmittal which summarizes some of the educational and financial highlights of the biennial report.

That the six institutions under control of the board have helped reduce the tax burden during the depression years, have maintained high quality of service and instructional standards despite financial handicaps, and have arrived at a settled policy as to major curricula allocations, is pointed out by Presidents Marks.

Operation of the system on state income 40.5 per cent under that enjoyed by the institutions before the single board was given complete charge has not been accomplished without curtailment of important services to the state and students, President Marks admits, or without imposing emergency conditions on staff members that cannot be expected to continue. Nevertheless, standards have been maintained surprisingly well under the difficulties encountered, he reports.

For the next two years President Marks asks only that higher education be allowed enough money to maintain itself on the present restricted level of operation, and that its staff members be accorded the same treatment as to restoration of salaries that the legislature may provide for other state employees. He adds that these cumulative salary reductions in all funds handled within the system will amount to approximately $1,020,000 by the end of the present

Reviewing the progress made in reorganizing and coordinating the various units of the system during the past two years, President Marks expressed the opinion that stability has been reached regarding the major questions. By following the recommendations of the federal survey commission in essentials and modifying them where necessary to fit Oregon conditions, a system has been built suited to Oregon's needs and financial resources, he says.

"While future readjustments no doubt will need to be made in matters of detail, as a result of experience and further study, it is the board's conviction that the fundamental allocations of function are sound educationally and economically and should therefore be maintained," the letter continues.

"With a population of less than a million people and an aggregate wealth of scarcely more than nine hundred million dollars, Oregon cannot operate separate institutions each complete in itself, according to the traditions of the more populous and wealthy states."

"The principle established by law in Oregon and put into operation by the board of higher education, as explained by the chancellor, is a state wide service through the cooperative work of all the institutions. Each institution, in order to fulfill the function of the entire state system, will contribute to the fullest extent possible the particular functions assigned to it."

THE FORD V8 TRUCK HAS A FULL FLOATING REAR AXLE

NOVEMBER

SUN	MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI	SAT
				1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30

Information About the County, Schools, Roads and Crops. News About the People You Know

SHERMAN COUNTY JOURNAL