RUFFS SCHOOL NOTES

By Georgiana Blackburn

One of the hardest and most interesting games of the season was played here when the boys basketball team played The Dalles first team, December 7. The line-up was Lynden Guilford, Shirley Eakin, Joe Morris, Earl Williams, and Thomas Macnab. The final score was 31 to 30 in favor of The Dalles.

The boys midget team played The Dalles midget team, and the score was 21 to 14 in favor of The Dalles.

The girls league made quite a success of their candy sale at the game December 7th.

After the game with The Dalles the boys were surprised by a party given for them by the Girl's League. The earlier part of the evening was spent in dancing, and later refreshments were served.

The Healthful Living class is now selling Christmas seals. The members are divided into sides to see which side can sell the most.

The upper grades are now working vigorously on the costumes for their play to be given at the Christmas program.

The boys and girls basketball teams will play Arlington's teams here on December 14. This will be the first game played this season by the girls team.

A party was given by Minerva Thurber, December 8th. The evening was spent in dancing and playing games. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

Delivery of cards to homes began early this week, and any family which has not received one should immediately notify the office of Dr. Frederick D. Stricker, secretary of the State Board of Health, 816 Oregon Building, Portland. Mailing of the cards by the family costs nothing, and they are already addresses to the Census Bureau. Dropping the card into the letter box insures that Baby has his or her "citizenship papers".

The first baby in the state registered in the campaign was the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stadelman, The Dalles. "We certainly believe that this is good and important information that should be properly recorded in the case of all persons," said the father as he mailed the card. The grandfathers of the young lady, who was born the day before Thanksgiving, are Congressman Pierce and Secretary of State Stadelman.
