MORO SCHOOL NOTES
 By Anita Kenny

The high school girls were again successful when they defeated the Rufus girls Monday night by a margin of ten points. The final score being 41 to 31. The only other game that night was one between the junior high girls of both schools. At the end of the first half the Rufus girls were in the lead by 15 points, but the Moro team gained during the second half. The Rufus girls were victorious, however, winning by a score of 25 to 18.

This Friday night our basketball teams will play the Wasco teams on their floor.

A number of the students attended the party given for the high school students and their parents on Saturday night in the school gymnasium.

Reitha Howard was absent from school last Thursday and Friday because of a cold.

Melba and Orval Thogerson were absent from school on Friday of last week.

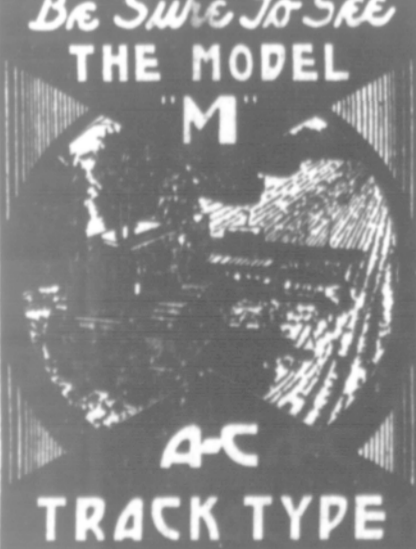

Doris Morrison was absent Tuesday afternoon, also Thursday afternoon of last week.

The pupils of the Junior high held a debate this week as to which was the best man, Washington or Lincoln. The outcome was that the pupils supporting Lincoln won.

The fifth and sixth grades, under the leadership of Miss Biggness, have organized a 4-H Health club. Only the pupils of those two grades are eligible for the club.

Miss Biggness' mother sent her a huge valentine for Valentine's Day. Around the edge of the large red heart were smaller valentines, one for each of her pupils.

Mrs. Cornelia Pierce Tells Of Congressman's Troubles

News Notes By Cornelia Marvin Pierce
 News Notes by Mrs. W. M. Pierce. hearing should be held on the re-LETTERS continue to pour in onableness of the rates.

Submarginal Lands Projects will be continued in Oregon in Jefferson and Tillamook counties. They are somewhat different in their nature and plans, as the Tillamook county project is a "Scattered settlers' project" involving homesteaders in locations surrounded by forest lands and desirable for forest purposes. In order to complete certain sections. It has been stated that the Jefferson county project and others of like nature, have unduly favored the Federal Land Bank, and that the lands that were to be bought were very largely farms on which the Land Bank held mortgages worth more than the land, and that the project would operate as the Home Loan did, chiefly for the benefit of those who had made the loans. The Washington Department states there has never been any formal cooperation arranged between the Land Buying Agency and the Land Banks. They say they notify the Land Banks of a project which is being planned so that no further loans will be made in that section. Farmers whose lands are being sold under this arrangement will be eligible for resettlement outside the project, or on small tracts of good land within the project. The benefit being not in the sale of the land, the proceeds of which will probably go to the mortgage, but in the help they may get in being settled in some other place. We are frequent ly asked whether the government buys marginal of sub-marginal lands outside of these projects, and have been told definitely that the Government is not in the market for any farms not within the areas designated as projects.

Executive Orders in place of legislative action were first substituted for legislation in 1933. They have now reached the appalling number of nearly 10,000, a few being merely telegrams. They have the effect of law, but are not obtainable in any code, so they are now being indexed and codified in order to avoid the bewilderment and confusion attendant upon this method. These methods are frequently not originated by the president, but grow from departmental desires, and are prepared in departmental offices for his signature. There is no opportunity given for hearing or discussion or defense, and action is questioned usually only when another department has a different point of view and a chance to express it. This Hart Mountain matter is an illustration in point.

Big Business is, as I said, still in control, and an indication of that control is the vote taken as I wrote today on a resolution offered by the Republicans providing for publicity for the names of holders of tax-exempt bonds of over $50,000 in amount. This resolution has been offered twice, probably to tantalize the administration Democrats and put them on record. The vote was by roll call, and was not a party vote but was largely sectional. The Congressman from the Second District voted for publicity as he is opposed to tax-exempt bonds.

Fellow Oregonians, let us rejoice! The House, our great legislature body, has debated a bill with out hindrance: it has made a specific appropriation of $500,000; it has voted and voted with force and freedom and on this memorable day it has asserted its sovereign power, all in behalf of sick oysters. "My country right or wrong."

 Agricultural members are also lining up solidly against the house bill which would prohibit freight trains of more than 70 cars and passenger trains of more than 14 cars. Producers and shippers feel that the passage of this measure would cost the railroads of Oregon many hundreds of thousands of dollars, which in turn would fall on the producers. They also see another danger in the shipment of perishable fruits and other commodities if such a regulation should be made effective. There is now strong indication this bill will meet an overwhelming defeat in the lower house.

RUFUS SCHOOL NOTES

By Georgiana Blackburn
 The band seems to be making quite a bit of noise lately due to the fact that they intend to put on a concert, February 21. Everybody is invited to come. According to the talk of the band members it is going to be good.

A very large crowd was present at the Educational Week Program last week. The mock scandal trial given by the law class was enjoyed by every body. The jury which was chosen from the audience decided the defendant guilty of the crime. At the end of the other skits put on by the various rooms a very humorous skit was given by Mrs. Tetz, Mr. Tetz, Earl Williams and Thomas Macnab. It was enjoyed and sent everybody home laughing.

The girls glee club and several boys are now practicing under the instructions of Miss Foss an operetta, "Carry Comes to College."

OLD HIGHWAYS FAVORED

State Capitol, Salem. (Special)—Eastern Oregon counties won a sweeping victory in the lower house this week when a resolution presented by Representative W. B. Snider of Lake county was adopted with but one dissenting vote. The resolution directs the state highway commission to complete all highways embraced within the state highway system before undertaking any new projects.

This means that many highways in Eastern Oregon which have been urgently needed for several years will now be completed before new highway projects in the western half of the state can be started.

If your eyes are bothering you, do these 2 things...
 See an eye specialist...
 Banish "Fog Light"!

● If you have any reason to believe that you are not seeing as well as you should, have your eyes examined at once. And don't aggravate the condition by reading, working or sewing in light that is too bright, that glares or that is in the danger-zone between seeing light and dim light—"Fog Light"!

"Fog Light" is particularly harmful because you are seldom conscious of it until after your eyes are strained. If your eyes work hard enough, you can see fairly well in this inadequate light. But the unconscious strain of trying to see clearly day after day and night after night and not doing it soon has a physical reaction.

Sight Meter measures light instantly!

You no longer have to guess whether you are risking your eyes in "Fog Light". The Sight Meter shows the exact amount of light by your favorite chair, your desk—anywhere in fact. It also prescribes how much light you should have for effortless seeing.

A member of our Lighting Staff will gladly bring a Sight Meter to your home or place of business and make a complete lighting "audit" for you. This service is given to our customers without charge or obligation. Won't you phone our nearest office for an appointment?

● One sure way to banish "Fog Light" is with an I.E.S. certified lamp such as the one illustrated above. Not only does it give several times as much light as you get from an ordinary lamp but it softens shadows and eliminates both reflected and direct glare. At your desk, by your easy chair, by the children's study table—wherever an I.E.S. lamp is used there you will have new eye comfort. The Study and Reading Lamp illustrated retails for $5.95
