a meeting of the agency district managers was held in Walla Walla on April 14 at the Marcus Whitman Hotel.

A special feature of this meeting was the awarding of prizes by Edwin A. Phillips, agency secretary for the company, to the agent and district producing the largest volume of business during the "Agency Birthday Contest" which has just concluded. Much interest was also shown in the exhibit of a large silver cup presented to the agency by the company's president for having produced more business than any other of the company's agencies during the year 1934.

In concluding the meeting, Mr. Smith, general agent, announced that the agency territory had now been increased to include the counties bordering the lower Columbia river, thus making the agency one of the largest in the Pacific Northwest.

The following were those in attendance: Edgar W. Smith, Edwin A. Phillips, O. T. Anderson, Portland; C. G. Bolton, The Dalles; H. M. Boone, Dayton, Wn.; W. T. Bruce, H. E. Cooldige, Spokane; R. E. Dreske, Hood River; K. R. Driskill, Pullman; F. N. Fox, La Grande; B. T. Henry, Colfax, Wn.; J. E. Mace, Lewiston, Idaho; Mrs. Leila N. Rice, Helix, Ore.; Ben H. Smith, Pendleton; D. C. Woodworth, Pasco; V. H. Robinson, Pomeroy, Wn.

4-H Records Make Oregon Family Happy

Things are looking up for the Paul Smith family who live on an 80 acre farm near Boardman. They start out the new season knowing they more than made ends meet last year. Better, still, they can put their finger just where they made and lost money. It's all due to their daughter Margaret, age 19, who employed her spare time last year keeping a systematic account of all sales of cream, eggs, livestock and other farm products, and also of all expenses. The latter items were mainly feed for the 15 dairy cows and 45 hens, pasture rental, taxes, interest and insurance.

very much overvalued by appraisals. The big trouble, it appears, is in having local attorneys making the appraisals. These appraisals proved too optimistic. Also the methods of repayments has not been satisfactory. Delinquencies reveal an astounding condition. This department will be thoroughly renovated and an attempt be made to bring order out of chaos.

The other rumblings emanate from Portland, that concerning the liquor control commission. Several political writers in Portland state they have a lot of inside information which may be brought out at any time and would "blow the picture wide open." The exact nature of these reports could not be divulged at this time, they said, but the recent unexplained changes in the department give indications that where there is "smoke there must be fire"

STATE HOUSE GOSSIP

Henry F. Cabell of Portland, who presided at his first highway session last week as its chairman, won the admiration and confidence of the other members, the engineers of the highway department and the public in general by his immediate grasping of the situation and his willingness to make decisions "intelligently and without delay." It appears that Cabell, who is declared the richest man in the state, will be placed along with the best highway chairmen the state has known.
