Grass Valley School Notes

By Dorothy Fairchild.
A real surprise awaited the three lower classes Friday morning when they arrived at school. Not a single Senior occupied their part of the assembly room. Finally, it dawned upon those who were left that the Seniors had fooled them by taking "Flunk" day a week earlier than they had promised. Since this absence, it had been decided that the school will be able to go on even after the Seniors are gone; that is, everyone but the Seniors have recognized this fact. From the general conversation concerning this topic, it is gathered that everyone had a "swell" time and that there was plenty of ice cream.

The regular meeting of the mermaid tavern was held last Tuesday at the home of Mildred Alley. Original works were read.

Harder and harder is the cast of the Senior play, the "Call of the Banshee," working on their parts that it may be thoroughly prepared for presentation on this Friday, May 10.

At a short assembly on one morning of last week, each of the four debaters, Mildred Alley, Elton Eakin, Janet Wilcox and Marjorie Blake, was awarded a well earned letter, attached to which was a small black and silver pin which proclaimed the team to be the 1935 champions of this district. In their turn the debaters, represented by their male c'ement, Elton, presented to Mr. Rowe a book as a token of their appreciation for all that he has done for them this season.

All the students that have had the mumps are well recovered now and are resuming their studies with the less fortunate ones.

Henry Roth, who has been unable to attend school for some time, visited school Tuesday afternoon. He says that school life looks very attractive from a visitors viewpoint.

4-H Club Notes

The Forestry Club met May 3 at the schoolhouse. As there is so many young boys that can't keep quiet, we elected Reatha Sayrs Sergeant-at-Arms. Donald Williams gave a very good report on "The Kind of Trees That Grow Best Here."

We talked quite a bit about a name for the club and as there were so very few we gave the members who were not at the last meeting a list of trees from which to concoct a name and we are to have more names in next meeting.

We sang some Forestry 4-H Club songs and talked about preparing entertainment for our outing at Camp Sherman.

Norma Melzer.
