Crops Look Bad Over Large Wheat Area

Argentina Plantings Reduced Far Next Crop

The firmer situation both in domestic and foreign grain markets reflected further deterioration in the Canadian crop and rather poor prospects in Argentina. Freezing temperatures in sections of the prairie Provinces caused heavy frost damage in the Peace River district of Alberta and in parts of Saskatchewan. Later reports confirm severe damage in Manitoba and south eastern Saskatchewan. Very little bread wheat will be worth threshing in Manitoba, according to an official report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics since yields are low and grades poor. Durum wheat is also affected in that Province. Prospects in the central area of Saskatchewan, which contains about one half of the wheat acreage, continues promising, but cold weather in Alberta hindered ripening of the grain. Additional seeding of wheat and flax was done in Argentine following recent rains but trade agencies report a reduction of from 5,000 to 7,000,000 acres the acreage harvested in 1934. Governmental regulations, which have been an important factor in reducing world wheat trade to the lowest levels since the war period, remain an important factor in the wheat situation. The closing of the Italian commodity markets to bring them more directly under Government control is evidence of the strong nationalistic policies which have brought fun-wheat purchased at $1.59 per bushel. Netherlands has extended the bounty on cereals to the 1935 crop but has lowered the base price for domestic wheat. A monopoly tax is imposed and the Government controls grain production and marketing. Belgium permits imports of wheat only under license and on payment of an import license tax and has established a milling quota for domestic wheat.

SPORTS FANS FOLLOW THE AMERICAN BOY

Boys and young men of this city who wish to improve their tennis service, their basket-shooting eyes, their forward passing talent, or their crawl stroke, can enlist the aid of the nation's foremost coaches and players by subscribing to THE AMERICAN BOY magazine and following the sports interviews and fiction stories that appear each month.

"When I was in high school," says a famous decathlon champion "I read an article in THE AMERICAN BOY that gave me my first clear cut idea of the western style of high jumping. At practice I laid the open magazine on the grass and studied it as I worked out. That afternoon I increased the height of my jump three inches."

That was a long time ago, but today thousands of future champions just as eagerly follow THE AMERICAN BOY.

"This year," states Griffith Ogden Ellis, editor, "our staff writers have gone to the two greatest football teams of the country—Minnesota and Pittsburg—for first hand tips on strategy, blocking, tackling, passing, and the fine points of play. They have interviewed Jack Medica, the world's fastest swimmer, and his coach, Ray Daughters. Gone to Eastern High School of Washington, D. C. Eastern Interscholastic basketball champions. In the past they have followed the Grapefruit Circuit of the major leagues in Florida, sat on the bench at the Rose Bowl, sought out the famous runners, divers, All-American ends, tackles and backfield men, to bring their story of how to play the game to the young men of America."

In addition to our fiction adventure, exploration, hobby council, and vocational help, we shall continue to encourage young men to improve their game in every line of sport."

Send your subscription to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan. Enclose with your name and address $1 for a year's subscription, $2 for three years, and add 50c a year if you want the subscription to go to a foreign address. On newsstands 10c a copy.

HI-WAYS TO HEALTH by ADA R-MAYNE OREGON DAIRY COUNCIL

The season for home grown tomatoes has arrived. They are now so reasonable priced that they should be used every day in some form. There is nothing that can take the place of tomatoes, as their characteristic flavor and color, their adaptability to any part of the meal, and their high nutritive value make them a unique and important food.

The food value of the tomato is much the same as that of the orange, grapefruit and lemon, being particularly rich in vitamin C. Because of its richness in this vitamin and the fact that it is not destroyed by cooking, as it is in most other foods, it has been used more and more in recent years.

Tomatoes can be used in many different ways - raw, canned or cooked - and they can be served at any meal—breakfast, lunch or dinner. Some new ways to serve tomatoes are as follows:

- Open Face Grilled Sandwich
- 6 slices of white bread
- 2 tbsp mayonnaise
- 12 tomatoes, peeled
- 12 slices of bacon broiled
- 1-2 lb. American cheese
- Toast the bread (crusts trimmed) on one side. Spread the untoasted side with mayonnaise. Cover each slice with two slices of tomato, and two strips of broiled bacon. Place a generous slice of cheese on the bacon. Toast the sandwich under low broiler heat until cheese is melted. Serve immediately. Serves 6 persons.
- Cauliflower With Tomato Sauce
- 1 quart of cooked cauliflower
- 2 cups drained stewed tomatoes
- 2 cups soft bread crumbs
- 1-2 lb. cheese, grated
- Thoroughly drain the cauliflower. Mix tomatoes (chopped or broken up with a fork) bread crumbs, seasoning and three fourths of the grated cheese. Place half of the tomato sauce in shallow baking pan, add the cauliflower, and cover with remaining tomato mixture. Bake 30 to 35 minutes in moderate oven, 350 deg. Sprinkle with remaining cheese and return to oven for 5 minutes, or until cheese is melted. Serves 6.

- 1-4 lb. of American cheese
- 2 1-2 lbs fresh asparagus
- 4 large tomatoes
- Grate cheese. Clean asparagus and cut tips four or five inches long. (remaining asparagus stalks may be used creamed, scalloped, or in soup) Cook in boiling water, salted, until tender. Wash and cut tomatoes in half. Place cut side up in shallow baking pan. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and bake in a hot oven 400 deg. 10 to 15 minutes. Cover each half of tomato with four or five asparagus tips. Sprinkle generously with cheese and return to moderate oven, 325 deg. until cheese is melted. Serve at once. Serves 6.
- Tomatoe Salads
- 6 tomatoes
- 1-2 cups of cottage cheese
- 2 tbsp. chopped green onions
- 1-2 cup celery, chopped
- Mayonnaise
- Peel chilled tomatoes, and slice or cut in quarters. Place remaining ingredients of the recipe in the center. Serve with mayonnaise dressing.
