Committees are being named now for the Eastern Oregon Wheat League for the meetings that will be held from time to time in Sherman county. These meetings will be held in Kent, Grass Valley, Wasco and Moro. Growers should watch the papers for the time and the place of such meetings.

Mrs. Ross Andrews of Portland, is spending the week here with her husband who has been substituting for Harvey Wood at the Shell Oil station for sometime.

NOTICE

The benefit card party scheduled for November 2, by the Moro Woman's Club has been definitely postponed.

Basketball Will Start Soon

At the end of the six weeks the following students are among the ten percent having the highest grade-average in the high school for this period: Doris Thompson, Lois Melzer, Barbara Belshe, Lois Kenny, Marie McLeod, and Dorothy Fraser. All of these students had an average of a I or better. The fact may be noted that there are three seniors, two sophomores, one freshman and no juniors on the list. It is also noticeable that there are no boys represented in the higher intellectual group.

Moro defeated Kent in volleyball on the home floor Friday night, October 25 by an overwhelming score of 51 to 12. Moro's second team played a large part of the game, as the victory was decidedly in Moro's favor.

The Moro boys football team, having recovered from all injury received in the Arlington game, will finish their season this Friday, November 1, by playing The Dalles Papooses on the Moro field. The team has been working diligently to strengthen the weak points, and hopes to obtain a victory. The game will start at three o'clock and it is hoped that all of the townspeople will be there.

Basketball practice will begin next week, and it is hoped that the spirit of the team will be more encouraging than that of the football squad. Sixteen games are scheduled for this season and a manager will be appointed next week.

A harmonica band under the leadership of Miss Hult, is being organized among the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils. As all of the children seem to be interested in the work, some fine harmony is expected of the band in the near future.

The primary students and the 3rd grade students have organized a rhythm band. Miss Hult is directing them.

Both Glee Clubs elected officers on Monday of this week. The officers of the advanced club are as follows: Mary Pinkerton, president; Dorothy Fraser, vice president; Genevieve Nahouse, secretary and treasurer; and Gertrude Gilmore, Librarian. The officers of the beginner's club are: Lois Melzer, president; Jane French, vice president; Claudine Thompson, secretary and treasurer; and Bonnie Peters, Librarian.

The 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th grades are having a Halloween party followed by a treasure hunt on Thursday afternoon, October 31.

The primary room has planned a party on Thursday afternoon, celebrating Halloween.

Mother—Tommy, haven't I told you time and time again not to play with that bad little Tutweiler boy?

Tommy—Yes, ma. I was only playing with him long enough to win his new marbles away from him.

Dad—William, I'm getting tired of seeing you have such poor reports at school. How does it come that Jimmy Brown always gets so much better marks?

William—Well Dad, you got to remember that Jimmy has awfully smart parents.

Mrs. Fogg (to neighbor)—Did you know that your dog had killed my cat?

Mrs. Scroggs—Oh yes. But we've put a muzzle on him now and I'm sure he won't do it again.

Margaret McNab Attending Press Conference

Our "Arrowhead" editor, Margaret McNab, is attending the Annual Press Conference, November 1 and 2. We are proud to know we are able to have a representative at the State Conference and are expectantly awaiting her return as the staff are greatly interested in applying any new ideas she may bring back for our school paper.

The central theme of the Conference at the University of Oregon, Eugene, is, "How to Create the Best Possible School Paper." Various speakers among whom are such prominent men as William M. Tugman, editor of the Eugene Register-Guard and John W. Anderson, editor of the Eugene Morning News and others will be the principal speakers at the Convention.

Means of entertainment will be furnished for the delegates attending. They will be guests of the University student body at the Friday night football game between the Oregon Frosh and the University of Washington Babes. Other entertainment will include a banquet Friday evening sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism honoraries for women and men, and a Saturday morning breakfast for women delegates sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi.

The basketball fever again rises its head above the turmoil of football, volleyball, and what have you. Indications point to a great deal of interest this year by the early interest shown. Announcements near the first of the week stated that commencement of basketball practices for the boys will begin immediately.

The Rufus-Wasco volleyball game last Friday was a much closer game than the previous Rufus-Wasco game as the score at the half showed 17 for Rufus, 7 for Wasco, but with a little cooperation the end of the second half indicated 30 to 21 in favor of Rufus.

The girls volleyball team is now brushing away various defective practices in preparation for the next game to be held at Kent on November 1. It is noticed now that the team's greatest interests are focused on the Grass Valley and Moro games, a little later in the season as they are considered the hardest games of the season.
