PEP UP APPETITE RELISH YOUR FOOD

No matter how little you eat, you should relish your food to feel your best and get the most enjoyment out of living. If clogged up bowels and inactive kidneys are poisoning your system, causing you to have a "puny," finicky appetite, and making you feel run-down, sluggish, without ambition or zest for the good things in life—take a few doses of good old Williams S. L. K. Formula and see how much better you feel.

Williams S. L. K. Formula is compounded from the prescription of a former army doctor and contains valuable ingredients which accomplish their work in four beneficial ways: as a mild tonic, and stomach stimulant, laxative, and diuretic stimulant for the kidneys.

Many take Williams S. L. K. Formula also for indigestion, nausea, loss of weight and sallow complexion, where a mild tonic, laxative, stomachic, and diuretic is needed. Don't take too harsh drugs which jolt your system and upset your stomach. Ask Moro Pharmacy, Moro; Grass Valley Pharmacy, Grass Valley; Wasco Pharmacy, Wasco, today for Williams S. L. K. Formula. The first bottle must satisfy or money back.

Farm Conferences Aid Producers That Attend

Oregon's accomplishments in holding farm outlook conferences and in carrying on the Bang's disease control program are being highly praised in the national capital among those in touch with this work throughout the country, reports F. L. Ballard, vice-director of the O. S. C. extension service who has just returned from Washington, D. C.

Ballard was called to Washington several weeks ago to assist in launching a nation wide extension project for holding these outlook conferences in every agricultural county in the country. Oregon is generally recognized as being "out in front" in these cooperative projects, he says.

Local committee work is now in progress in 23 counties of Oregon in preparation for the new series of county farm outlook conferences scheduled for early in the new year, reports W. L. Teutsch, assistant county leader. Grange and Farmers' Union officials as well as many other agricultural leaders are taking an active part in these advance arrangements.

The conferences themselves will be but part of a comparative program of which they are the climax. Teutsch explains. At present a careful fact-finding analysis of the condition of agriculture in each county will be assembled and studied at the conferences, where growers themselves will determine upon a sound program of agricultural progress for each county. The conference and events that follow will be designed to unite the efforts of all organizations and agencies in carrying this program into effect.

For Oregon this is not a new undertaking as similar successful efforts in this direction were carried out some 10 years ago through the series of agricultural economic conferences. The result of those were considered so valuable during the past decade in charting Oregon's agricultural development that it is now considered timely to renew the "inventory and outlook."

Nationally the movement is being hailed as another progressive step in economic education which will be an important factor in achieving a more balanced and prosperous agricultural industry.
