

Moro Newlyweds Return Home After Trip

Extension and Experiment Men Attend Conference

The newly married Mr. and Mrs. Marion M. Powell returned to Sherman county Tuesday after the end of their honeymoon trip to California. They will remain here for a few days before going to Portland for the winter.

M. E. McKee was in Portland for a couple of days the first of the week on business.

The Rebekahs held their regular monthly social evening Tuesday night at the lodge hall.

Corias McLeod, small son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McLeod, was taken to The Dalles Monday by his mother. He stayed there for a few days to receive medical treatment for an infection in his ear.

J. A. Shull was here early this week trying to find accurate information about Henry Link, a settler in Sherman county who lived near Bourbon for many years, leaving about 30 years ago.

D. E. Stephens, M. M. Oveson and P. N. Johnston are in Corvallis this week to attend the annual conference of county agents.

L. Barnum is recovering from the heart attack that he suffered Monday night and is at his office again.

H. E. Endicott, who is the new owner of the bank building in Moro, arrived this week to look over his property. He lives in Klamath Falls and is undecided about moving to Moro at present.

Joe Truitt is barbering again this week having finished his temporary job with the SCS. H. J. Overturf, whose place he was taking, has returned to work after an appendicitis operation.

CHURCHES

Community Presbyterian Church
"Ashamed of the Gospel," sermon at 11 a. m. by Rev. Lawrence H. Mitchell, pastor. 7 p. m. combined evening service with adult, high school-college, and junior Christian Endeavor societies. The pastor will give the closing talk.

10 a. m. Sunday school with nine classes in Bible study welcoming visitors and members. The annual Christmas service will be held at 7 p. m., Sunday, December 22.

Wednesday, 2:45, Women's Spiritual Life group meets at the church.

Members of the Session and their wives were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Melzer, Monday night. Following the business meeting, all joined in a study of "The Ruling Elder." Refreshments and singing of Christmas Carols concluded the social time.

The junior Christian Endeavor society held a Christmas party at the church, Tuesday night. "White elephant" gifts were exchanged. Eleven were present.

Christian Science
"God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon at the Christian Science church for Sunday, December 15, at 11 o'clock a. m. The Golden Text is taken from Psalms 121:8. The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore.

Responsive Reading: Psalms 37: 4-9, 18, 19, 23, 24 and 29.

The reading room in the rear of the church building is open at all times, where the Bible and all authorized Christian Science literature may be read, borrowed or purchased. All are cordially invited to attend the church services and to make use of the reading room.

LUTHERAN SERVICE

The Lutheran church conducts regular church services in the Methodist church building in Grass Valley every first and third Sunday of the month.

December 15 service at 11:00 o'clock, Sunday school at 10:15.

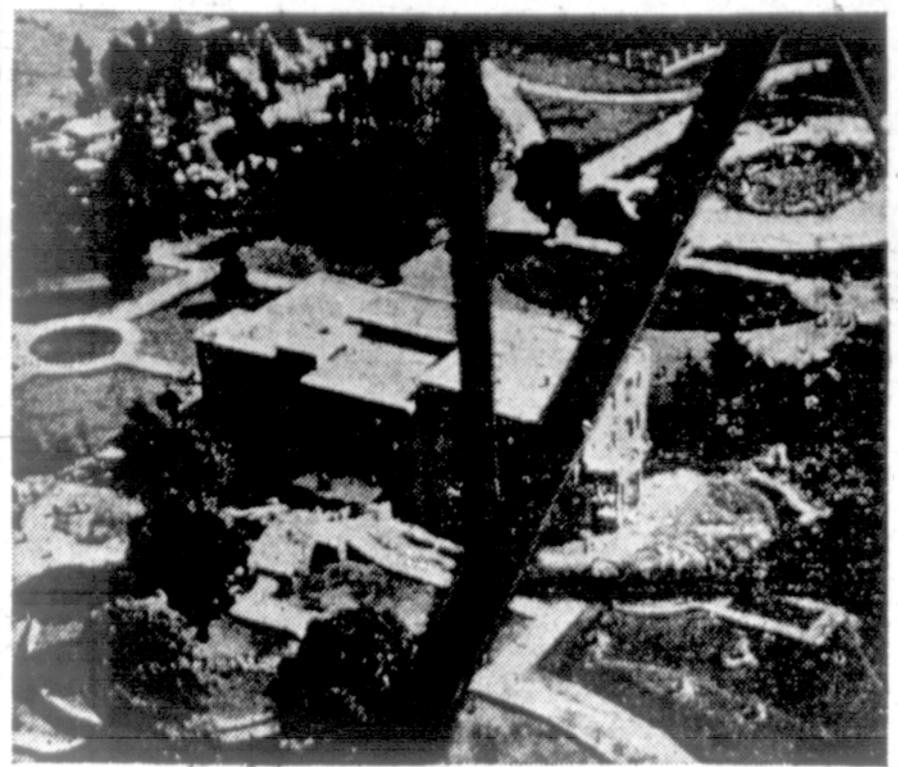

This is Blessed Advent season. Our Lord Jesus Christ comes to a sin laden world with the message of peace, a gracious invitation a blessing of forgiveness. Let the nations hear and all men bow to the scepter of his kindly reign. The gospel cry reads: Tell ye the daughter of Zion, behold Thy King cometh unto Thee.

You are invited to attend the advent service and hear a sermon on the duty, which we Christians are asked to perform.

Haile Selassie's New Palace

If the Italian invaders don't prevent it, Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia will soon occupy this handsome new palace which is set in a fine park at Addis Ababa. The photograph was taken from an airplane.

The Moro Woman's Club will meet with Mrs. J. C. McKean next Thursday the 19th. This will be the Christmas meeting of the club and a gift valued at not over 25 cents will be brought by each member.

The Moro boy scout troop met Wednesday night and voted to collect old clothes from the citizens of Moro for transmittal to Portland or The Dalles where they will be distributed to the needy of those cities.

R. R. May is here this week to take the place of Ralph Brisbane who is still ill at his home and unable to work.

I will be in Grass Valley Monday, 23rd and Friday, 27th and in Moro, Tuesday 24th, and Saturday 28th. On Christmas week only, Arnold Landry, 6-7

Legionnaires and Auxiliaries of the Moro post will meet next Wednesday night in joint session at the Legion hall. A program and entertainment are planned.

Harlandview Grange will install new officers Friday night at its hall. D. L. Reynolds will be made master and Mrs. Charles Adlard will be lecturer for next year.

Due to a break down of some rather important parts of the machinery in this office and the effects of encroaching age the paper is a day late for the first time since the last good rain. We most respectfully ask the indulgence of our readers-both of them.

Mrs. Truman Strong was hostess Tuesday afternoon to a party of friends who spent the time with cards.

Mrs. A. S. Johnson went to Hood River today to spend a few days with Mrs. Granville Phillips who is living alone on her place near that town.

Those who were in Pendleton last week end for the wheat league meeting from Moro were: Dewey Thompson, Harvey Thompson, Omer Sayers, Clarence Morrison, Perry Johnston, J. B. Adams, W. S. Powell, W. H. Ragsdale, and Mr. and Mrs. Giles French.

Tom Fraser is back in Chicago to see the horse show and perhaps bring home a new car from the place where they make them.

Applications for car licenses will be received by the sheriff's office after next Saturday as the law states that they may be sent in after the 15th of December.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their kind sympathy and many beautiful floral offerings at the time of the death of our wife, daughter and sister.

Leston E. Wright,
W. A. May and family.

Short Course Not To Be Held This Winter

The Farmers' Short Course at Oregon State college, which had been announced for early in the year, has had to be cancelled because of inability of the agricultural staff, already loaded with extra work, to carry through properly the short course program, according to Wm. A. Schoenfeld, dean of agriculture.

There is a real need for a resumption of these practical short courses, believes Dean Schoenfeld, and it had been hoped that this was a year that one could be put on. Since the tentative plans were announced, however, the staff has had to care for an almost doubled enrollment in the school of agriculture, preparations for the series of 25 county farm outlook conferences, and the work connected with regional agricultural adjustment study.

These, with the Bangs disease, control program, the cooperative work necessary with the Taylor Grazing act, and the continuation of many emergency services, has brought the greatest load in history to the agricultural staff, says Dean Schoenfeld.

It is planned to schedule the short course again as soon as it appears feasible.
