The Christmas Operetta, "Santa Claus in Story Land" was presented Friday evening, December 20, in front of a large crowd of people, by the first six grades. The advanced glee club sang "A Christmas Cradle Song" by Alexine Prokoff; the beginners glee club sang "The Manger" by Richard Kountz, followed by both glee clubs singing a number of Christmas carols, accompanied by Miss Eda Hult. The rhythm band composed of the first, second, and third grades played "Jingle Bells" and "There's Christmas in the Air" and the harmonica band played "Silent Night" and "Jingle Bells." The operetta was a fairy tale in which Peter Pan is angry with Santa Claus because he fails to give good children's books as Christmas presents. Santa agrees to allow the Storyland people, Captain Kid, Cinderella, Alice in Wonderland and many others, to present their cases to the children. They do so and the children declare unanimously in all favor of the Storyland people. Miss Hult is to be complimented on her excellent work as director of the operetta, rhythm band, harmonica band and both glee clubs.

Gayle Amidon's Engagement Told At Tea

The Robert B. Hoskinson home was the scene of a friendly gathering Sunday afternoon when Mrs. Hoskinson entertained a group of girls informally honoring her sister, Gayle Amidon. Guests were Gayle's school friends and former class mates home for the holidays who found the occasion an excellent opportunity to exchange news notes as to their activities during the past few months. Later in the afternoon Doris Amidon presided at the tea table which had aroused considerable interest as its bright decorations of red, white and silver combined hints of wedding bells very harmoniously with the customary holiday motifs. Suspensions were confirmed when after refreshments had been served, young Bobbie Hoskinson distributed favors carrying word of the engagement of Gayle and Paul Vance Goddard. Mr. Goddard, a graduate of Southern Oregon Normal, has been a member of this community the last two years during which time he has taught the seventh and eighth grades.

The wedding is planned for the early summer.
