DR. HUNTER SPEAKS

Three fields in the world today hold unusual opportunities for youth, Dr. Hunter stated. The first of these is in the field of economics, where there is a genuine need for political liberty, and at the same time, economic democracy. How to find employment for all people, without resorting to dictatorship that will stifle individual liberty is one of the greatest problems confronting the world it was pointed out.

The second great field cited is that of government. Useful and inspiring careers await the youth who can go into municipal government and aid in strengthening it to cope with the social problems of the day, he declared.

The third field is that of science. Pointing out a number of medical and other discoveries in recent years that have done much to speed the progress of the world, Dr. Hunter outlined opportunities that are open to the research worker as well as the practical scientist. The reward for this type of work is not only material, but a great sense of spiritual achievement and satisfaction as well, he emphasized.

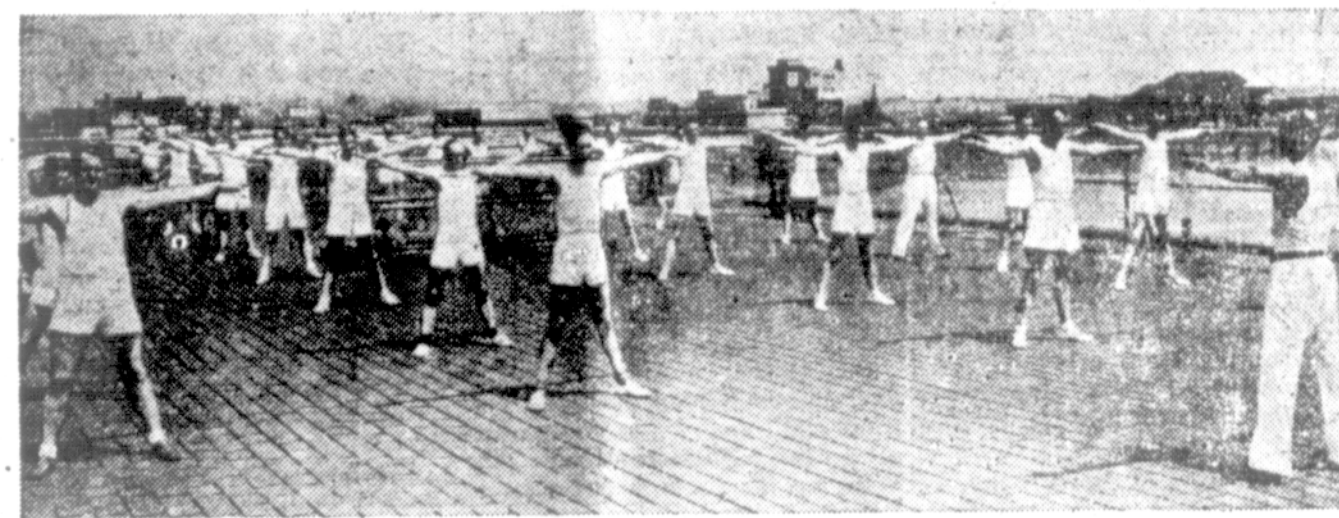

He also pointed out studies of employment, which showed that college and university trained people received much higher incomes and that their ratio of unemployment was much less than other groups.

From America, but They May Die in Africa

The spirit of adventure, or perhaps the love of a land they had all but forgotten, motivates the soldiers of the Tiber division of the Italian army. They are soldiers drawn from the United States who are fighting for Il Duce in his war against Ethiopia. They are shown standing at attention during their review by the king and crown prince of Italy.

Red Cross Has Busy Year Aiding Disaster Victims

The American Red Cross assisted sufferers in more disasters throughout the United States during the year ending June 30, 1935, than through any similar period in the peace-time history of the organization, Admiral Cary T. Grayson, chairman, revealed recently in commenting on the annual report which has just been released.

"The 128 domestic disasters in which the Red Cross extended aid during the fiscal year exceeded by 55 per cent the average over the past few years," Admiral Grayson said. "Not only was the period heavy in the number of disasters, but the geographical distribution was wide, with 37 States and 353 counties affected."

"Through these disasters and times of community distress, the Red Cross assisted 110,000 persons," the Admiral disclosed. Spectacular service was rendered in many disasters because of the uniqueness of the problems and the far-flung points affected. The work of the National organization covered in the report carries stories of the Morro Castle burning; the trench-mouth epidemic in the beautiful San Luis Valley of Colorado; the great fight over a wide front in the midwest dust bowl against respiratory diseases; floods, hurricanes, and tornadoes in many sections of the United States.

In addition to the disasters taking place within the continental limits of this country, Admiral Grayson pointed out that work had been made necessary by disasters in Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Phillipines, where 26 disasters were recorded in that archipelago. The American Society also assisted the Red Cross of two foreign countries in caring for victims of floods and earthquakes.

The variation of types of disasters called for expert council on matters relating to health and nutrition as well as epidemic prevention. Last year's work proved the value of the structure and administration of the Red Cross disaster relief organization and the variety of types constituting a severe test of the organization chartered by Congress to handle this type of national relief.

Expatriates of the Red Cross for relief of persons stricken by disasters within the continental United States amounted to $94,412. In addition $75,000 was sent to the Phillipines to assist in the major relief operations necessitated by typhoons $5,000 went to victims of the Indian earthquake and $5,000 to Poland for victims of severe floods. A number of smaller foreign emergency calls for sums totaling $2,500.

The months of February, March, April, May and June were heaviest for tornado disasters. Floods or fires occurred throughout the year. Serious fire-ravaging for Red Cross assistance took place during July and December. A devastating explosion took place in Tennessee during April. Most of the hurricanes struck States along the east coast during the fall and early winter.

"All of this assistance to persons in distress," Admiral Grayson pointed out, "was only possible through generous contributions made by citizens in all sections of the country."

Most of this support of the disaster relief service comes from the annual Red Cross Day held each year from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.

Boy Scouts Will Be Active During March

The last week of March and the first week of April are scheduled to bring the year's high spots in Boy Scout activities for Sherman county scouts. At a meeting of the troop committees of troops 357 of Grass Valley and 360 of Moro held last Wednesday night following a scout rally in the Masonic Hall plans were made for a big scout meeting and Court of Honor to be held in Grass Valley on March 25th.

The public will be invited to the meeting to watch the scouts put on a sample troop meeting and to witness the award of badges to scouts who are ready for advancement. Kenneth Wells, field scout executive from Portland will be present to run the meeting and make the awards.

Mr. Wells announced that April 3rd and 4th are the dates for the biennial boy scout circus to be held in Portland.

Sherman county is one of the fifteen counties that make up the Portland Area Boy Scout Council, and scouts from all of the counties, five thousand strong, will participate.

gate in the big show. The circus is always held at the Pacific International Livestock Pavilion and draws record breaking crowds to watch the youngsters go through their stuff. There will be a mammoth grand entry parade in which all scouts of the council will participate. Music will be provided by the world famous Seventh Infantry Band from Vancouver Barracks, and by two drum and bugle corps made up of scouts. There will be camping drills, calisthenics, clowns, animals, horseback drills, first aid demonstrations, signalling drills, and a huge pioneering exhibit. One feature of the show will be the boat drill presented by the council's blue uniformed Sea Scouts. Their twenty four foot life boats are trundled into the arena and sails are hoisted for a snappy and colorful drill.

Scouts from Sherman county under the leadership of Scoutmasters Clyde Gillmor of Moro and Clifford Rowe of Grass Valley will probably attend the circus on Saturday night, April 4th. Provisions are being made by the Portland

Boy Scout office to have a camping place ready for all out of town scouts so that the only cost involved in getting to the circus will be transportation. Scouts will bring their own food and cook under the leadership of their troop leaders. It is the biggest thing in Scouting and comes only once every two years.
