HI-WAYS TO HEALTH

by ADA R. MAYNE
OREGON DAIRY COUNCIL

With Washington's Birthday in the offing and with celebrations all over the state during the past week commemorating the 77th Anniversary of Oregon's admission into the United States, we are reminded that the problems of the housewife haven't always been as simple as they are today.

At one of the banquets the toastmaster recalled that his own pioneer mother had been her own expert tailor and shoemaker, that she made over his fathers "pants" for the next in line, and that the "pants" were handed down until the last of the children had worn them. "I was the 11th of the line" he said.

Many a housewife today complains of the responsibilities involved in providing food and clothing for her brood of two, three or four children. She complains... with shoes, with every type of clothing available for purchase ready made... with the problem of meal planning confined merely to purchasing the desired foods and preparing them for the table, with every type of labor saving device imaginable to lighten the house work and provide more time for leisure.

Let her talk with some hardy pioneer of the past generation and she will find that the problems of the housewife haven't always been as simple. These women prepared the leather and made the shoes for their families. They spun the thread used in their weaving and made the garments worn. These pioneers raised the food served at their tables, milked their own cows, and suffered many hardships because of food spoilage and weather conditions.

As a result the food served was essentially simple but wholesome and nourishing. Every member of the household had his share of responsibility. According to present day standards life was exceedingly simple but it provided nour-

This lot made very unsatisfactory gains from the start. At the end of the first month the average gain was 7.4 pounds compared with 12.9 pounds for lambs on alfalfa hay with the same grain ration. At the end of the second month, with even smaller gains shown, one pound of chopped alfalfa hay per head was added to the ration each day, after which excellent gains were shown.

of the AAA from its inception in May 1933 to the end of 1935. The total amounted to $1,480,057,513.25 Of the total approximately 1100 million dollars was paid to farmers for rental and benefit payments. About 75 million was used for removal and conservation of surplus, and 157 million for drought relief, food conservation and disease eradication operations. About 78 million was used in administration, 60 per cent of which was spent in the field and 40 per cent at Washington.

The report for Oregon shows benefit and rental payments in this state amounting to $7,806,769.08 under the wheat ($6,807,716.29) and Corn-hog ($1,001,052.79) programs. Sherman county farmers received during that period a total of $922,784.76 divided as follows: wheat $903,052.99; Corn-hogs $19,681.77.

Games Delayed By Cold Weather

By Lawrence Henderson

Be-r-r-r! The mercury evidently took a rather sudden nose dive—much to our disgust. At the present we haven't had any extreme cold snaps but even so it has been more than six degrees below zero. And—those children that come to school on busses must practice a great deal of cooperative shivering and shaking.

The announcement of games to be played this past week was for naught—not a one were played, being postponed because of illness and inclement weather. Even at that we intend to play Arlington Saturday. Perhaps we may all have a more cheerful outlook on life by tomorrow night.

Two new typewriters were received last Monday and how they have been razed. Every one has suddenly decided to get their typing done—to the teacher's surprise in order to try out the new machines.

Out attendance has been by no means perfect of late. If it has not been cold, it has been tonsillitis; if it hasn't been tonsillitis, it has been flu; if it hasn't been flu, it has been an epidemic—measles; and last, if it hasn't been measles, it has been absence just on general principles. Our attendance how ever is again on the up grade and we are all mothering the hopes of less illness in the future (evidently it wouldn't take a philosopher to imagine the feelings of the other communities of the county.)

The patience of the civic students has been sorely tried of late. Between current event folders and charts designating the functions of various phases of our government they have been unusually busy. The folders—nevertheless, tend to show what outside reading the students do and is really of much more interest than the monotonous study from the text.
