Initiative measure to bar the seiners from the river along with the fish wheels and traps. This week the seiners hit back at their rivals with a measure of their own in which they propose to cut down the length of the gill nets from 250 to 150 fathoms. If the seiners are barred, these fisher men say, the seiners will have to join the gill netters in order to earn a livelihood, and since the river is already pretty well taken up with nets they want to make them smaller in order to make room for more. Both measures will probably be before the voters next November.

Industrial employment in Oregon is back to within 10 percent of the peak of 1929 according to records of the state industrial accident commission. High point in employment among industries covered by the workmen's compensation fund was December, 1929, when approximately 120,000 workers were on the commission's rolls. The low employment record was reached in February, 1933, when contributions to the compensation fund covered only 60,500 workers. Records for October, 1935, show that employment was back up to 2,986,698 man-days or approximately 114,875 individual workers.

Pete—I see where a scientist has discovered that meat-eaters are twice as active as vegetarians.

Heinie—I could have told him that. The way prices are they have to be if they want any meat to eat.

Our calendar this year pictures the famous Canadian Babies. We are not mailing them as formerly, but asking you to call at our Funeral Home for them; so that we may have opportunity to show you through the parlors, which we have recently redecorated and of which we are very proud.

We are anxious to have the opportunity to tell you about any phase of our profession, including embalming costs, and how to arrange with us to care for cases, where death occurs at a distance.

We will save you a lot of extra cost, not because we are cheap, but because of our small over-head expense, and because you are our home folks.

Come in and get a calendar and let us explain about all of these conditions.

If you cannot call, let us know and we will mail it to you, or you can get one at Ginn & Coleman, Moro; Grass Valley Drug Store; A. W. Spencer, barber shop, Wasco. I will arrange later to have them at Kent, Shaniko and Antelope.

Respectively,
Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Zell.
