Former Rivals Are Now Friendly

Washington D. C., March 20—Quite a few years ago, but still remembered perhaps, by a few Sherman county old timers, Wasco, Moro and Grass Valley high schools decided to adopt football as one of its major sports. At the first meeting of the two elevens of Wasco and Grass Valley, the score ended six to six. During that game, the memory of which has long since faded, a private feud was in progress and when the final whistle blew two contestants, each opposing, bore marks of cleats on various parts of their persons, the authorship of which was directly traceable to the other. Last week these two high school "enemies" of Sherman county's gridiron battlefield, had dinner together in the blue room of the Hotel Lincoln, just off Times Square and Broadway, New York, and chuckled over some of the funny quirks the years play, after high school days are left behind. These "ancient enemies" and one-time natives of Sherman county, now are connected with the same news picture syndicate in the east, Harris & Ewing, Hoyt Barnett, of Wasco, is manager of the Washington D. C. news office at 1313 F st., N. W., and Harry Dutton of

The first Oregon state flag made since the only one in existence burned in the capitol fire, were presented recently to state officials by the Oregon State Motor Association. In this photograph, Governor Charles H. Martin, left, and Earl Snell, secretary of state, right, are receiving the ensign from Claudia Benson, the motor club's Salem branch manager. Both officials urged county and city corporations, schools, chambers of commerce, service clubs and fraternal organizations to own and display the flag by Oregon Day, May 2. The motor association has arranged to distribute them at cost.

Oregon Delegates Report On Farm Conference

A workable program putting in to effect the soil conservation and domestic allotment act will be ready Saturday, March 21, moulded out of the recommendations of four regional conferences, if national officials make the progress they expect in coordinating the various reports.

Such is the word brought back to Oregon by the state college delegates to the Salt Lake conference where for three days representatives of western agriculture worked to formulate a proposed program adapted to western conditions. Producers were well represented at the western conference and delegates in general were free to express opinions and promote principles they wished to see embodied in the final working plans, say the Oregon delegates. Chief interest at Salt Lake centered around provisions applicable to livestock and grain farming.

Let us show you how easy home laundering can be

...and we will help you plan an all-electric laundry!

Laundry plan for remodelled kitchen or summer kitchen: 1—Sorting table. 2—Supply cupboard. 3—Trays. 4—Washer. 5—Rack. 6—Ironer. 7—Chair. 8—Ironing board. 9—Electric water heater. 10—Linen. 11—Broom closet. 12—Drain.

What they do for you:

- ELECTRIC WASHER
Modern electric washers are kind to even the most delicate fabrics. Yet so efficient is their washing action that every trace of dirt is whisked away in 5 to 7 minutes. And they are built to give years of trouble-free service.
- ELECTRIC IRONER
The electric ironer was designed to take the backache out of ironing. And it certainly does that! The ironer exerts all the pressure—not you. It frees you from lifting and pushing. And your ironing is finished in half the time formerly required.
- AUTOMATIC ELECTRIC WATER HEATER
When you have an automatic electric water heater, you not only have abundant hot water for laundering, but also have it for any use whenever you turn a faucet—day, night, winter, summer. It's like having an ever-flowing hot spring in your home.

Arrange these 3 appliances in a carefully designed laundry, and you'll know laundering at its easiest and best. You'll waste no steps, no motions, for everything will be just where you need it. No matter if you must buy your equipment one appliance at a time. The main thing is to have a laundry plan and to work toward the completion of that plan as you buy appliances.

Jeanette Cramer, well-known home service advisor, has planned 6 convenient home laundries for typical locations, basement, back porch, etc. Copies of them are free at your P. P. & L. Co. office. Get yours today. You will find Miss Cramer's suggestions very helpful.
