

Soil Erosion Men Invited To View Wild Horse Project

Annual Conference on Family Living To Be Held May 6

Directors of the three erosion control units of Sherman county have been invited to go to the Wild Horse erosion project near Pendleton March 29 and look over the work that has been done there. C. E. Hill, new supervisor for this area, has been in charge of the work there and is anxious to show what has been done.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Thompson, Mrs. W. E. Hart, and Mrs. C. C. Dunn of Hood River, were guests at the Murray home over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Murray were shopping in The Dalles Thursday.

There will be a Recital given by Miss Mary Jeannette Sargent and Miss Gwen Gallaher of Willamette University, at the Presbyterian church on Monday evening, March 23rd, to Miss Trounce's pupils and friends. All interested are invited from the three towns of Moro, Wasco and Grass Valley.

The annual conference on family living will be held here May 6, Wednesday, this year. In attendance from the college will be Azalea Sager and Maud Morse who will instruct and entertain the women of the county with information about new methods of handling the ever present job of caring for a family.

Robert Webb and family are here this week while Robert seeds the nursery at the experiment station.

Jake Douma and family are visiting here this week from their home at Wheeler where Jake runs a butcher shop.

Perry Johnston, county agent, was in Union last week to attend a meeting of county agents and agricultural leaders. Information about the recent soil conservation meeting held in Salt Lake was given out by those who had attended.

George Uplegraff has been improving lately, after a few bad days with pleurisy after his return from the hospital.

W. A. Lewis, representative of the Railway Express, was in town Wednesday full of enthusiasm for and information about the air as a means of transporting mail and merchandise rapidly and safely.

Unemployed men about town have all been put to work at one thing or another this week with the beginning of farm work, the repair of the roads and highways and other spring activities.

Billy Flatt, who was down with scarlet fever for a few days, is now up and around the yard and watching for the doctor to come and take down the quarantine sign.

Stanley Reavis and Mrs. Reavis, who formerly managed the Pacific Power & Light Company's office here, spent Tuesday in the county from Arlington where they are now living.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Prentice have moved to Pendleton where headquarters for the predatory animal survey have been established.

Champion Amateur Gardener and His Garden

Hours spent in his garden to regain health after a nervous breakdown have resulted in John Kakakes of Spokane, Wash., being judged the best amateur gardener in America. Kakakes' garden has just been unanimously awarded first place by the Judges in the 1935 national yard and garden contest. The Kakakes garden is an example of what can be done through careful planting and continual care. Shrubbery with branching foliage and small pine trees make an effective background for flowers of all types. One of the features of the garden is an irregularly shaped lily pond surrounded on three sides by moss covered rocks and foliage.

M.H.S. Band Concert Is Enjoyed

By Norma Melzer

The band concert last Saturday night was as good as predicted. As well as several marches, the band played "Harmony King," the contest number for the State Band Contest, and "Urbana," the selective number for the Contest, and "M. H. S. Medley," a number written especially for our band by Ray Cockburn, a friend of Mr. Simpson's. The latter piece has solo parts for each section in the band. The band also played soft accompaniments to a solo by Lyle Nahouse, "A Rose in Her Hair," and a girl's sextet, "Don't Give Up the Ship." It also accompanied Elgin Burns in his Xylophone solo "The Mocking Bird."

Frank Sayers played a tuba solo, "The Mighty Deep," a trombone sextet played "Aqua Oa," and "The Bells of Saint Mary's" was played by seven clarinets. The girls' trio sang "He Met Her On the Stairs." One of the best features of the evening, however, was a tumbling act by the Aylor sisters from The Dalles.

The Seniors have been very busy this week getting everything ready for the hall Saturday night. They are working all over the school house trying to pick places where youngsters will come in that they can kick out. The "Success" will surely be a seaworthy ship if everything is put together right. We are planning on a grand voyage Saturday night, and hope the Seniors prove capable captains.

Helen Strong is back to school after several weeks out with scarlet fever, seemingly none the worse for the disease.

More Lambs But Quality Below Average

The early spring lamb crop of 1936 in the principal early lambing areas is about 6 percent larger than the early spring crop of 1935, according to reports received by the United States Department of Agriculture, about March 1. The term "Early Lambs" as used here, refers to lambs that are usually marketed before July 1. The conditions of the 1936 early lambs about March 1 on the average was somewhat lower than was the condition of the early lambs a year earlier.

Lambing Season Bad

Except in California, Arizona, and Texas, weather conditions during the lambing season and since, have been much less favorable this year than last. Supplies of feed stuffs and old feed have everywhere been more abundant this year than last, but in many of the areas green feed either has been late in starting, or has been entirely lacking, which has tended to retard the development of the early lambs. As a result of the extremely cold weather in January and February, which are the principal lambing months for most of the early lambing states, death losses of early lambs were considerably larger than normal and the percentage of the lamb crop saved was considerably reduced. The market movement of lambs from all states except California and Arizona is likely to be somewhat delayed unless spring weather is very favorable, but total marketing of early lambs before July 1 will probably be larger this year than last.

Moro Woman's Club Meets March 6th

The March 6th meeting of the Moro Women's club was held at the home of Mrs. Martha Cope. The topic for the afternoon was current events, with Mrs. A. H. Barnum director. Mrs. Barnum read a poem by Edgar Guest. Miss Bourhill talked on Citizenship in Alaska and also told of many cusoms and habits of the Natives in Alaska. Margaret Peetz reviewed a number of current events, now being discussed in the newspapers and magazines. Mrs. Barnum read an article from the Oregonian on citizenship. Norma and Lois Melzer played a saxophone and clarinet duet accompanied by Mrs. Melzer at the piano. Lois then gave a pianologue "Troubles of a Younger Sister." The program closed with club singing.

McCormick-Deering Harrow-Plow

Saves Soil, Conserves Moisture, and Does Two Jobs in One

THIS is one of the most desirable tools to own. It saves time by plowing and disking in one operation, conserves moisture by keeping the soil in condition to receive and hold it, and prevents blowing and drifting by leaving a large amount of stubble spread over the surface of the field.

Heat-treated disk blades which resist breakage and hold sharp edges much longer are used in the McCormick-Deering Harrow-Plow. Power-lift raises and lowers the disks. Sizes—4, 5, 6, 8, and 9-foot.

Ask your neighbors who use a McCormick-Deering Harrow-Plow what they think of it. Come in and see us about one. See This Plow Operate at the A. J. Murray Place.
