Miss Thyra Fields who has been employed in Colfax, returned to the home of her parents for a stay of five weeks.

W. C. Harper, confined in The Dalles hospital, is reported improved and his return soon is expected.

Mrs. Augusta Huckin motored to Pullman and returned home Friday accompanied by her daughter, Augusta, who is spending a week here.

Mrs. Eliza Dingle was hostess to members of the Tuesday afternoon study club and Mrs. Free Crews was a guest.

At the business session a course in better English was considered and accepted. Mrs. R. F. Evans, club leader, opened the program with a reading. Mrs. Alma Fridley read a paper, having the theme "Relation Between the Church and State in South America" which was followed by readings given by Mrs. A. L. Gosson and Mrs. Joe Hilderbrand.

A. B. Riddell returned from Portland Friday accompanied by Mark Alley.

Mrs. Hugh Herin was in Portland over several days of last week. She stopped at Hood River before returning home.

Monday Afternoon Contract club met at a one-thirty dessert luncheon at the home of Mrs. W. A. Medler. The Easter scheme with daffodils was carried out in the decorations. Mrs. Marie Barnett Cooper won club prize with four tables of cards in play. Mrs. J. T. Johnson received the guest prize.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hilderbrand and children spent several days in Portland doing some Easter shopping. Miss Evelyn Reardon accompanied them to the city and Mrs. Ada Morgan stopped off at The Dalles.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Yocum transacted business in Portland over the week end. The children stayed with Mrs. Orville Yocum during the absence of their parents.

Mrs. A. Marlin and son of Benton City, Wash., visited Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Alley.

Mrs. Ira Fridley visited in the Dalles recently at the home of her mother, Mrs. Sarah O'Neil.

House guests arriving at the W. E. Tate home Sunday were their daughters, Mrs. Floyd Ford and children, and Mrs. Mary Barbour of Portland.

The Wasco Cafe opened up for business Monday morning with Mr. and Mrs. Everett McQuillen as proprietors.

Harvey Ferrel of Shedd came to Wasco recently to attend to his business interests here.

Mrs. W. A. Medler, assisted by Mrs. McDonald entertained the Webfoot five hundred club at desert luncheon. Easter and spring decorations added charm to the tables. The ladies played cards at five tables with Mrs. V. V. Rust receiving high honors, Mrs. S. J. Brock second and Mrs. A. S. Johnson the guest prize.

The Thursday contract club members drove to Styles on the Deschutes for their regular meeting, a no-host, luncheon. Three tables of cards were in play resulting in club prize going to Mrs. O. G. Hilderbrand. Later in the evening a number of the ladies drove down to The Dalles to see a show.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Grady of Walla Walla are expected to visit here this week.

Field work has been progressing slowly in this community due to weather conditions. Three frosty mornings and cold weather have not been conducive to rapid work. Re-seeding is being done in several places.

Mrs. Maude Akers left for Moro Tuesday evening for a stay of several days.

Fred Fortner, who is employed in Pendleton, came home again Monday evening.

Sunday guests of Dr. and Mrs. Viggo Hauffel were the former's cousin, George Taylor and Mrs. Kate Hansen of Moro.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Proudfoot were business visitors in Walla Walla Tuesday. Mrs. Proudfoot and two sons, John and Ted, spent Friday in Portland transacting business.

G. Hilderbrand, Mrs. G. C. Andrews, Mrs. S. P. Boice, Mrs. R. H. McKean, Mrs. V. V. Rust, Mrs. Homer Dixon and Mrs. Maude Akers' conductress.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallace have returned from the Brackett ranch and are established in the Agee house.

Mrs. Marion McKee and son Gordon were callers in Wasco Monday.

Mrs. Lydia Darby, Miss Lorraine Darby and Mrs. Anna Lee motored to Portland Saturday on a shopping tour. They found the city a very busy place.

Mrs. Roy E. Moore has been appointed as the Wasco representative for the Peacock Floral Co. and will take orders for flowers at her office or through phone 723.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Wilde and children accompanied by Isabelle Spencer drove to Stanfield where they spent the day visiting with Mrs. Wilde's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ruppel.

The Linfield girls glee club entertained at the school house Friday afternoon.

HI-WAYS TO HEALTH

OREGON DAIRY COUNCIL

In Honolulu the inhabitants arise with the dawn on Easter morning and climb to the top of a precipice overlooking the entire city which is enclosed by the bluest of blue oceans on all sides. Here a huge cross is erected - illuminated at night - and here this cosmopolitan group, made up of people of many races, with many and varied creeds, join together in a beautiful Easter sunrise service.

In the quiet of the morning with a tropical sky seemingly very close overhead and a distinct feeling of isolation, Easter begins to really mean something. And then one goes home with friends for a very special and very welcome breakfast. It is an experience not easily forgotten - an experience that colors all subsequent Easter mornings.

Have you made your family feel that Easter means more than perhaps a few colored Easter eggs? Have you invited a few very congenial friends to join you for Easter breakfast? Whether a company breakfast or a quiet comfortable homey one, you can't go wrong serving eggs on Easter morning.

Convenient, quick, healthful and cheap at this season, for all-round food value they come next to milk, although they are in no way a substitute for it. And in addition, we might add that milk and eggs are liked by almost everyone.

Serve Shirred Eggs with Chicken Livers for breakfast on Easter morning and start the day out right. And since this is a very special breakfast we are preparing we surprise our family with corn meal muffins, gold and brown, and looking very much like Easter

- them selves.
- Shirred Eggs with Chicken Livers
 - Two tablespoons butter
 - Three chicken livers
 - Two tablespoons flour
 - Salt and pepper
 - Four large eggs
 - Four teaspoons butter (additional)
 - One cup milk
- Melt the two tablespoons butter cook the chicken livers in it, and dice them coarse. To the chicken livers and butter remaining in the pan add the flour, and stir in the milk. When smooth and boiling, add salt and pepper to taste. Divide among four shirred egg dishes. Break a large egg in each one. Dust with salt and pepper. Dot with the 4 teaspoons butter, and bake until the eggs are firm (in a moderately hot oven).
- Corn Meal Muffins
- One and a fourth cups bread flour
 - Three fourths cup of corn meal
 - One fourth cup sugar
 - One half teaspoon salt
 - Five teaspoons baking powder
 - One cup milk
 - One egg, beaten

You can get "Caterpillar" Quality only in a "Caterpillar"

It's a buyers market . . . lots of competition . . . funny methods in use to make sales . . . One of the oldest gags that still seems new is "up-down" marking. The seller marks up his price and then pleases his customer by marking it down. To the customer he calls it "giving a discount." Occasionally it's a cash discount. Usually it's a discount in the form of an allowance on something traded in. In either case, the customer pays his own discount. . . out of one pocket into another.

We're doing more trading than ever in our history . . . and we've added not one dime to our retail price list.

The price of a "Caterpillar" Tractor, at any "Caterpillar" dealership is the factory price plus transportation. No extras. No handling charges. No finance fees. No trading allowances added to the price.

"Caterpillar" sticks to the lowest prices for the highest quality machinery.

Highest Quality!

Longest Life!

Lowest Operating Costs!

Lowest Depreciation!

Lowest Repair Costs!

If you are in the market for a tractor you can get a variety of offers for your old tractor . . . prices that you wouldn't think of paying for it if you were buying it yourself.

But if you're looking for low cost tractor operation over a long period of time, why don't you approach the job of buying a tractor by carefully investigating all tractors.

Talk to owners. Check up on mechanical features. Satisfy yourself as to the availability of parts . . . and as to their prices. Then ascertain where and how you will get service on the tractor you buy. We believe you will prove to yourself that low depreciation, low upkeep and low operating costs come from the quality of a machine . . . not from discounts, even though at first glance they look attractive. We welcome the opportunity to compare the quality and cost of "Caterpillar" Tractors with next best.

Villard Gives Books To U. of O.

Eugene, Ore., Apr. 9—More than 20 recent books, presented to the University of Oregon with the aim of increasing interest on the part of students in world affairs, have been received by the university library from Oswald Garrison Villard, noted editor of New York Times. The gift is of special interest since it was Mr. Villard's father, Henry Villard, noted railway builder, who founded the first University of Oregon library by donating books valued at $1000. He made a number of other substantial gifts to the institution in its early days when it was struggling for existence, and the second building to be erected on the campus, still standing, was named Villard Hall in his honor.

Townsend Club will Hear Eugene Burr

Saturday night at 8:00 p. m. Wasco people will have the opportunity of hearing Mr. Eugene Burr speak on the Transaction Tax. This is a timely topic and Mr. Burr is an expert on the subject of taxation.

Whether you are a Townsend follower or not you should hear this address at the Townsend hall in the Crossfield building.
