HI-WAYS TO HEALTH by ADA R. MAYNE OREGON DAIRY COUNCIL

It is said that when a man takes to the restaurant idea, he does so because he doesn't get his pet likes handed out on his own table. A man, it seems, isn't at all concerned that his favorite dish "smells up" the entire house, for there's always fresh air to be called upon, you know. And although in sympathy with your interest in the bridge club it is still hard for a man to overlook a sketchy and poorly cooked meal. Then comes the suggestion that perhaps it might be sensible to eat out after an afternoon of bridge, and gradually you eat out more and more, with the situation becoming more and more discouraging.

That being so, let us consider some of the simple but really very eatable things men order in restaurants and chop houses. Take coffee, for instance, no man worth considering at all will put up with poor coffee. If you must serve coffee at your house and the family complain that it isn't too good, remember that even the best of coffee isn't satisfactory unless rich, thick cream is served with it. Coffee experts tell us that thick cream in the coffee is what makes the greatest difference. Remember, too, that men enjoy drinking milk, whether you enjoy it or not. Try putting a pitcher of milk on the table regularly and see what happens to it.

Have you noted that the outstanding culinary experts are men and men chefs attribute their success to the fact that they aren't too sparing with those ingredients that make for an improved flavor in foods. They use a great deal of butter in cooking and when a dish calls for cheese they make it taste like cheese and don't keep you guessing. All of which is very pleasing to the male.

Corn beef and cabbage is a masculine favorite and beef steak and onions, carefully prepared goes far toward keeping husbands contented. If you would really please your man take one of those French loaves that come by the yard and slice it at intervals, almost but not quite through to the bottom. Butter each slice on both sides and along with the butter mix a very few thin slices of garlic. Put the loaf into a fairly hot oven until very hot and crisp all-through. Spoon bread is one thing men like and seldom get, and it is really a very simple thing to make.

Spoon Bread
Two cups of boiling milk
One cup sifted corn meal
One tablespoon butter
Salt
Three eggs
One teaspoon Baking powder
Sift the corn meal into the boiling milk, stirring constantly. When it is smooth and can be poured, remove from the fire and add the butter and salt. Cool and add beaten egg yolks and baking powder. Then add the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in fairly hot oven until stiff and brown. Serve hot with a spoon.

C. E. Conference To Be Held In Eugene

Many unusual features will be a part of the program for the 46th annual state Christian Endeavor convention to be held in Eugene, April 23-26.

County and district unions are selecting representatives for the young people's quartet contest and the intermediate Bible verse finding contest. There will be a number of youth addresses by young Endeavorers and the children of prominent missionaries.

All unions are planning floats and marching groups for Saturday's big parade through the streets of Eugene. Awards will be made to the best groups. The convention banquet will be divided between three churches to accommodate 900. Toastmasters will be: Rev. D. E. Nourse of Ashland; Robert Sawyer of McMinnville; and Clarence Edwards of Lake Grove.

Denominational luncheons for all groups will be a feature of Saturday. Leaders of each church group will have complete charge.

In a debate held in the school house Friday afternoon, Grass Valley defeated Hermiston. Grass Valley upheld the affirmative side while the Hermiston team upheld the negative side of the proposition. The debate was judged by A. S. Potwin from Portland.

The winning of this debate enables Grass Valley to meet Chiloquin at The Dalles, Saturday, April 18 for the championship of Eastern Oregon. The winner of this debate will debate at Corvallis for the championship of the State.

Due to the lifting of all quarantines, the majority of the students who were absent with contagious diseases have returned to school and are now preparing for the six weeks exams to be given next week.

The local declamatory contest will be held at the school house, Friday night April 17. Many contestants have signed up from various grades.

Practise on the Senior play "The Whole Town's Talking" began this week with all characters being present at school.

The high school boys soft ball team will play its initial game at Rufus this Friday.

Camp Boys Protected By Safety Methods

Safety work among the CCC boys and others engaged in soil erosion in this county is carried on continuously. A meeting is held each week with army officers or erosion directors in charge.

The success of this work has been apparent to date as no serious accidents have occurred among the 150 to 200 men who have been engaged in the work from this camp. A manual which gives safety measures of all kinds is used and general information about everyday occupation such as rock work and truck driving is given at every meeting.

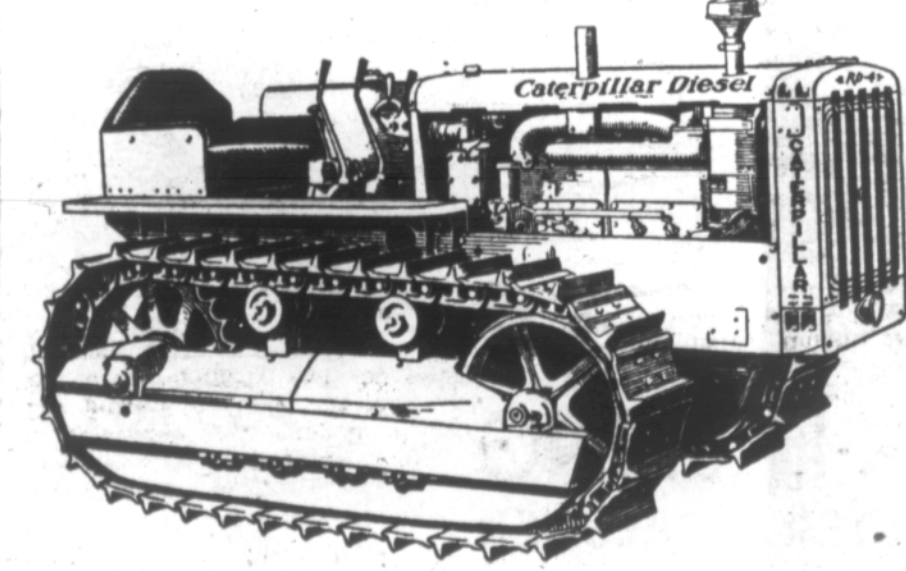

Lady (at a dance)—Do you know that homely fellow sitting on the other side of the room?

Partner—Certainly. He is my brother.

Lady (obviously embarrassed)—Pardon me. I hadn't noticed the resemblance.

My "Caterpillar" has worked Over 12,000 hours at a total repair cost Under $175 writes J. W. Hamlin

READ THE LETTER

March 14, 1936.
Caterpillar Tractor Co., Peoria, Illinois
Gentlemen:
While attending the "Caterpillar" School recently, it dawned upon me that the history of my old 2-ton "Caterpillar" might be of use to you. I feel that I, at least owe a word of thanks to its builders. I bought this tractor in the fall of 1928 and have worked it on an average of 150 day per year. This work consisted of orchard, general farm work, pulling a No. 34 Holt Harvester and doing considerable logging during some of the winters. It is going into its ninth year on its original tracks with some 12,000 working hours behind it. The total repair work on this machine has been under $175.00. I often wonder if it will ever wear out.

You can get this "CATERPILLAR" QUALITY only in a "Caterpillar" This economy is unequalled by any manufacturer of track-type tractors. It is the result of using more durable alloy steels . . . advanced heat treating processes which have been developed by "Caterpillar" for use only in "Caterpillar" Tractors. The "Caterpillar" Tractors built in 1928 when Mr. Hamlin bought his were good . . . they are much better today.
