

Moro Hunters Return With Venison

Teachers Go To Institute In The Dalles Today

Most of the hunters are back from their trip and it seems that the take of deer has been considerably less this year than usual. Elmer Barzee and family, Irwin Morris and family and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Powell had good luck on their trip. Frank Burnett and O. L. Belshe brought home one and Howard Conlee, Gus Nichols, Bert Davis and Harvey Thompson shot three.

M. R. Schadewitz and wife left for a camping trip the first of the week expecting to be gone for a fortnight. Mel may bring home a deer.

Marjorie Kunsman returned home Sunday to remain after several months in a hospital.

The next meeting of the Eastern Star lodge will be held October 8. This will be a special meeting. Wilford Belshe and A. G. Futter were in the Willamette valley on business the first of the week.

Sherman county teachers will have a vacation from teaching today, Friday, while they take their brief turn at absorbing instruction from teachers. They will attend the institute at The Dalles which is being co-operatively staged between Wasco and Sherman counties this year.

Moro's population was increased by four this week, when Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence, their small son and Mrs. Lawrence's brother, from North Dakota, located here. They are living in Mrs. Hastings' small house.

O. E. Dyer was here Wednesday having returned from Rapid City, South Dakota where he was sent to aid in erosion work in the drouth center.

L. E. Peterson and wife were registered at the Moro Hotel Tuesday night from Walls, Walls. He formerly lived here and hauled some of the material that went into the hotel building.

Ked Cross local chairmen have been about the county this week gathering funds to be sent to the sufferers of the Bandon fire and as usual they received a full quota. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barnum are living at Prescott, Washington now and expect to remain there throughout the winter, it has been learned.

Several made the trip to The Dalles Tuesday to see the whale and other fish. Included were R. W. Belshe and family accompanied by Patty French, A. Douma and family, Jack Noonan and family and S. W. Searcy and family. Mrs. Wiley McDonald entered the Dalles hospital early this week.

Mr. Reckman had been thrown from a horse and was suffering with a badly sprained arm. He was in the Mid-Columbia hospital all day thinking it a possible fracture, but x-rays showed only a bad sprain.

Among those in Grass Valley Thursday night attending the show were: Mr. and Mrs. Elnor Helyer and daughters Myrtle and Norma Jean, and son Gordon, Paul Schilling, Rose Ellen Barnett, Jack Murray, Levina Barnett, Robert Mitchell, Edna McKay, Clarice Mitchell, Charles Dunlap and Melvin Barnett.

Mrs. J. L. Matthes received word Friday that her aunt, Mrs. John Barnett of Freewater, had passed away Thursday, September 17th. Mrs. Barnett was a former Kent resident. Her husband was a blacksmith here for many years.

Mrs. Emma Schadewitz of Moro, who has spent the past five weeks here with her daughter, Mrs. G. L. Barnett, left for her home Friday. J. H. Kelly received word here last week that his son, Ted, and Ruby Fairchild of Grass Valley, were married at Goldendale, Wn., Saturday, September 19th.

Mrs. Wren Hogue and daughter Eileen and son Roy of Grass Valley were all day guests of Mrs. B. A. Hogue Sunday.
