

Wasco Man Moves To Dayville

Mr and Mrs Louis Walsh and family including their eldest son, Melvin and wife, are leaving on March 1 for Dayville where they will live on a farm. It is the place on which Mrs. Homer Dixon lived when a child and was owned by her family until a year ago. The Walshs have lived in this community for many years and their departure is regretted.

Mrs Floyd Root, Mrs Bruce Grady and Mrs Augusta Huckin were additional guests when Mrs G. H. Root entertained the Tuesday contract club at dessert luncheon followed by cards at three tables. High score was taken by Mrs H. D. Proudfoot and Mrs Grady won the guest prize.

Mrs W. H. Cannon of Seattle is spending several weeks visiting with her sister Mrs. Andy Stoleison.

Mrs Hildred Zell entertained members of the junior bridge club Wednesday at which time Mrs. Homer Dixon received high score. At a council meeting recently the bid of Ed Dutton on the barn standing on the site of the old ice house was accepted. It will be moved some time this spring to aid the Garden club in its movement to clean up the city by the removal of unsightly buildings.

The Standard Bearers held their monthly meeting at the M. E. church Tuesday the 15th. The girls dressed as little children and enjoyed a Valentine party. They also sent a generous box of valentines to the children in the Doernbecker hospital in Portland.

Mr and Mrs Leonard Fields entertained the pot luck dinner club recently at their home. Those present were Mr and Mrs Max Williams, Mr and Mrs Melvin Walsh and Mr and Mrs Paulen Kaseberg.

Mr and Mrs O. G. Hilderbrand were hosts Saturday night when they entertained at their home in honor of the husbands of the junior bridge club. Twenty guests spent the evening playing bridge with Mr and Mrs Afton McIntyre winning high honors. The valentine motif was carried out in the decorations.

Mrs Ronald Johnson was hostess to members of her Webfoot social club. Mrs Robert McDonald was successful in winning high score. Mrs. George Drinkard for club and Mrs Ernest Ferrell for guest. A 1:30 dessert luncheon preceded the party.

Mr and Mrs T. L. Kistner and Mr and Mrs E. Weld were weekend guests in Portland.

Children's Hour in Naziland

Dr. Joseph Goebbels may be a dictator to the German press, but to his young daughter Hilde, the propaganda minister is just "water." Goebbels is shown with Hilde on the recent occasion when he attended a children's party and delivered an address which was broadcast throughout the country.

Mr Dixon and L. R. Walsh motored to Dayville last week returning Saturday.

Mr and Mrs Bruce Grady were hosts Saturday night to members of their Saturday night dinner club. The usual form of diversion during the evening was bridge with Mrs Hugh Walker and G. H. Root taking the prizes. Mr and Mrs Fred Fortner returned home Monday evening following a stay of four weeks in eastern Oregon.

Mr and Mrs H. D. Proudfoot and son John visited in Portland Wednesday.

Olive and John Robinson, Mr and Mrs Art Barzee and Mr and Mrs Vernon Van Gilder were dinner guests Sunday with the J. F. Royse family.

A patriotic program was given at the Tuesday Afternoon Study Club after its regular business session. Mrs Helen Bruckert related interesting high lights on the life of Washington. The club roll call included quotations from Lincoln. Mrs Pres Boice gave a reading on Liars. Marion Crews and Patricia Yocum favored with piano solos. Mrs Free Crews was a guest of the club and Mrs Orville Yocum was no less.

The Pythian Sisters lodge entertained the Knights Thursday at the hall. Seven tables of cards were in play during the evening with Mrs Belle Clothier winning at 500. Guy Andrews won high score at pinochle. The tables were decorated with valentine decorations from which refreshments were served.

Harold White and wife were in The Dalles Saturday. Willy Knighten, county school superintendent, was a caller here Monday.

The high school faculty assisted the high school girls to entertain the boys with a valentine party Monday night. The diversion of the evening was cards and light refreshments were served.

Mrs. A. C. Kaseberg has as a house guest a niece, Alma Jean McMillen of Arlington who plans to spend a month here visiting with relatives.

Mr and Mrs G. C. Andrews had Mr and Mrs T. L. Fields in for dinner Friday and later Mr and Mrs O. G. Hilderbrand called and the evening was spent at cards.

The Wasco girls basket ball team was favored with third place in the county following their game Friday with Kent. Scores were 54 to 32. The boys led 40 to 15.

Mr and Mrs R. C. Byers of Moro were among the congregation at the Church of Christ Sunday morning.

Mild Cases Spread Scarlet Fever

Scarlet fever spreads before the doctor is called. Many cases of this disease are so mild that a physician is not consulted and the mild cases that are able to be up and about often spread this disease. For this reason, all persons suffering with fever, sore throat, vomiting, and a rash should be isolated until expert advice can be secured in regard to the nature of the disease. Although scarlet fever exists most frequently in a mild form, there are occasional outbreaks of the malignant type. Even a mild case of scarlet fever may be followed by severe complications. During the past ten months, scarlet fever has been increasing in this state. Thirty five cases were reported in September, 80 cases in October, and 110 cases in November. Scarlet fever can be avoided. Children should be kept from coming in contact with persons who have colds and sore throats. Remember it is the mild cases that spread this disease.

People in general have an earnest desire to be good neighbors but too many fail to appreciate what this means when it concerns the health of neighboring children. Failure to report scarlet fever and failure to observe proper quarantine regulations too often results in the exposure and illness of others. A quarantine sign or warning should be regarded as an emblem of honor. Families that observe health regulations deserve the respect of their neighbors.

The spread of scarlet fever can be avoided by prompt isolation and calling a physician upon the first showing of a sore throat. Prompt reporting of cases of scarlet fever results in an early establishment of precautionary measures. According to the season and the severity of scarlet fever should be quarantined from 21 to 28 days. If the discharges from the nose, throat, ears, or other parts of the body continue longer than 28 days the quarantine must be continued until they stop. There may be a persistence of contagiousness which will continue without symptoms and these cases may be regarded as carriers of the disease. This accounts for occasional scarlet fever cases occurring in out-lying districts in which it can be shown that the patient has had no direct contact for months with a case or with anyone in contact with a case. The most important source of possible infection is a mild unrecognized case. It is quite certain that scarlet fever may occur without any rash at all or with a rash so negligible as to escape observation, but most mild cases have a sore throat and skin eruption. Proper isolation of all children with sore throats and skin eruptions will not only prevent the spread of this infection to others but will also insure the patient the best chances of recovery. Isolation should include putting the patient to bed since rest is an important precautionary measure in preventing complications.
