

Wasco School Board Hires New Teachers

A school meeting was held Monday evening and several changes in the teaching staff for next year were announced. Miss Marie Andrews has not accepted a contract and will be replaced by Miss Georgia Bracken of Monmouth. Miss Ruth Young of Monmouth will teach the fifth and sixth grades next year and Miss Helen Nickachion of Eugene will fill the place of Jess Leonard. Robert Belknap of Monmouth has been hired to teach the seventh and eighth grades. The new music teacher will be Andrew Landaes of Eugene. It is expected that Principal Homer Dixon and Frank Thomas and Miss Frances Gorsline will return for the 1938-39 term.

It is reported that the dedication ceremonies for the Wasco airport will be held in the near future. L. P. Haven, Earl Richelderfer and the O'Meara boys worked the ground with tractors recently and grass seed has been sown to prevent blowing. Nine acres are in the airport.

Members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club met at the country home of Mrs. Louis Scholl with Mrs. Ida Carlisle as assistant hostess. In response to roll call Irish jokes were related. Program numbers were generously flavored with Irish themes. Singing included selected songs by Club members.

Mrs. Harry Van Gilder was hostess Friday afternoon to members of the Wasco Woman's Club at the library room. A program was given by Mrs. H. A. White, appertaining to Southern Arabia. M. S. J. F. Roysse gave a treatise on the Arabian people. A regular business meeting preceded the afternoon program.

Miss Jene Spencer returned home from Northwestern business college one day this week.

Mrs. William Reid spent several days at her home here, coming from Idaho. Bill Reid Jr. was also here for several days from Portland where he is employed in the railroad freight yards.

Pat O'Meara made another trip to Portland for a talk with his doctor.

Jeff Wilson of The Dalles was a caller here Monday.

Melvin Walsh made one of his trips from Dayville, this time taking his livestock back with him.

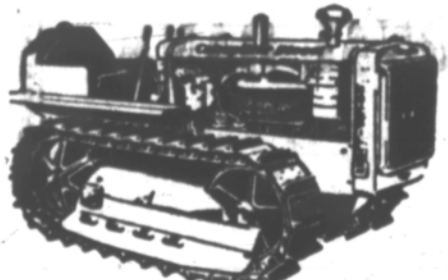

Darrell McQuillen of Wasco and Clara Rice of The Dalles are married and are staying here with the former's parents for the time being.

Fred and Frank Fortner were here last week end, Fred from eastern Oregon and Frank from Portland.

The sum of $100 was realized from the play, "Through the Keyhole" staged here Saturday evening by a cast of local thespians under the direction of Miss Mary Fortner.

Mrs. Viggo Haufelt entertained members of the two table contract club and a number of guests Wednesday afternoon at her home. High score honors went to Mrs. Ida Everett for club and to Mrs. H. D. Proudfoot for guests.

NOW! Gas or Diesel in a small "Caterpillar"

With the coming of the "Caterpillar" Diesel D-2 Tractor, the farmer now has two heavy duty 3-4 plow track-type tractors to choose from.

The new Diesel D-2 is a compact, four cylinder, full Diesel tractor, that offers all the features of simplicity, dependability and economy that have made the larger sizes of "Caterpillar" Diesels so successful in farm work.

The spark ignition TWENTY-TWO . . . one of the most popular and thoroughly satisfactory models ever offered, is available for those with less extensive farming operations.

Which ever you buy . . . you will be buying "Caterpillar" quality.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hennagin and Mr. and Mrs. George Updegraff of Moro were seen here Saturday night at the play.

Mrs. Augusta Huckin motored to Portland and return Sunday. Gus Hartman is now doing the dray business for the town since Erceel Yocum discontinued.

James White spent Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gady coming from Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Weld were in The Dalles where they spent the week end with their son and family.

Mrs. Frank Thomas was hostess at a 1:30 dessert luncheon followed by cards when members and guests met at her home Wednesday afternoon. High scores were won by Mrs. Gorge Wilde, club member.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ferrel of The Dalles visited relatives here over the week end.

Mrs. Eliza Dingle entertained a number of guests Saturday evening for dinner. Included were Mr. and Mrs. John McDermid, Mrs. Phil Yates and Mr. and Mrs. E. Wood.

J. E. Bradley arrived from Portland Monday to take a position at the O'Meara store recently vacated by Glen Karnes who moved to Grass Valley this week.

The Junior prom to be held this

Saturday night will give Francis Watkins and Ted Proudfoot an opportunity to attend as they are home from the University of Oregon for spring vacation.

Miss Margaret Johnson came from Portland Saturday for a weeks vacation with her parents and friends.

Mrs. Steve McMillen was a caller in The Dalles Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. McCoy and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas visited here with Mrs. Jessie Amos Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hull of Portland were in Town Sunday visiting at the G. C. Andrews home.

Ann Lucas of The Dalles attended the play here Saturday evening.

Mrs. McKinney who formerly stayed here with Grandma Johnson came from Portland to be with her again.

Miss Katherine Fridley made the first lap of a scholarship at the University of Oregon recently.

Miss Rose Hatley left to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Karnes at Grass Valley.

Mr. Anderson of Portland is looking after the Wasco Pharmacy during the absence of Mr. McKee and since Mr. White returned to that city.

Miss Joy White, Tiny Cross and Miss Honey Reddy of Portland were week end guests at the home of Joy's parents.

A cow that recently strayed from the Leo Watkins dairy was found on the Tom Fough farm.

Harry Richelderfer made a trip to Portland Thursday.

A calf was nibbling at the grass in the yard and was viewed in silence by a city girl. "Tell me," she said, turning impulsively to her hostess, "does it really pay to keep a cow as small as that?"

H. S. Parker, principal of the Corvallis high school, has written Secretary of State Earl Snell expressing great pleasure at the results obtained by the safety driving school which ended there last month. "We consider this one of the best projects of our school year," Mr. Parker said. "We are planning to continue this school with a limited number meeting twice a week." A new series of schools, sponsored by Secretary Snell in Oregon coast communities was started about two weeks ago.

Foreman—But you look rather small. Do you think you are fit for really hard work?

Applicant—Well, sir, some of the best judges in the country have said so.

Scenes and Persons in the Current News

1—Gov. George D. Alken of Vermont munching an apple before he addressed the annual dinner of the National Republican club in New York at which he urged party leaders: "Forget your hatred of President Roosevelt—stop crying every time he makes a move." 2—Dramatic rescue of a baby from flooded home in Mt. Clemens, Mich. 3—Sen. Robert J. Bulkley of Ohio pointing to proposed superhighways which would traverse the continent and call for an expenditure of from six to eight billion dollars.

A base ball player in a recent interview said that baseball is a fast game, but that one must slow down to play it properly. He meant that the good players learn to set their pace so that their judgment is not clouded by nervousness or strain. The same principle applies to automobile driving, according to Secretary of State Earl Snell. Good drivers avoid hasty actions and too much speed, and actually save time in the long run by driving courteously and at a moderate pace.

A new low monthly record for traffic deaths was set during February in Oregon when six fatalities were reported, Secretary of State Earl Snell announced recently. The previous low mark of 12 deaths was attained in February, 1931 and again in February, 1933. Seventeen persons were killed on Oregon highways in February of last year.

March is a good month for motorists to check their tires and have their engines tuned up before they make any long trips, Secretary of State Earl Snell advises. Faulty equipment and mechanism are annually responsible for many highway disasters which might otherwise be avoided.

Student Frisby—What? You flunked that course again?
Student Zeron—What do you expect? They gave me the same exam.

Chinatown for '39 World's Fair of West

The gorgeously colored life of old China will be reproduced at the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, on Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay. It will be a regular walled city with homes, markets, theaters and tea gardens. In an open air market artisans will ply their trades. Over all will loom an ornate temple and many storied pagoda.

HI-WAYS TO HEALTH by ADA R. MAYNE OREGON DAIRY COUNCIL

St. Patrick, a kindly soul, drove the snakes out of Ireland. For this honorable deed his birth date is each year set aside for festivity and the wearing of the green. This day is all important to one who is truly Irish and gives vent for observation with gaudy in song and jig. A Potato Jig cannot fall short in expectation.

The so-lowly potato did not have its origin in Ireland, but in Peru and Mexico where it was used by the Indians. Early fifteenth century explorers in these sections naturally spread the knowledge of this worthy food throughout the Old World. Because the little state of Ireland seemed yearly struck with famine, the Royal Society of London believed that this could be safeguarded by planting the soil with many potatoes. Thereafter the potato became known as the Irish Potato.

An Irish Potato Jig will demand a profuse use of the smoothest variegated sized potatoes and all are scrubbed to a glistening state. The Three Little Pigs made with potatoes, toothpicks and pipe cleaners, and a bit of artistry for expression can even today lead off the decorations. They are used as mantle pieces or as gay center pieces for one large or numerous small tables.

Candleholders are made by using two large smooth potatoes, cutting a round hole in the center of each, and pasting a green paper frill around its edge and around the flat bottom. A green candle is inserted, and the whole set on a large green cardboard shamrock. Favors are made similarly, inserting a small nut cup to be filled with green mints, or salted nuts, in place of the candle. Using, of course, a small potato.

(Potatoes for games are like "pigs in blanket". They may consist of potatoe races, darts with potato targets (or even the eyes), "Tossing the bag" with potatoe, and with intermittent Irish music the jig is not "up" but just a beginning, to be followed with potatoe in your refreshments, by all means.

Green Maraschino Ice Cream
Hot Potato Salad
One fourth pound of bacon

One tablespoon vinegar
One small onion
4 to 6 cold boiled potatoes, chopped

One cup coarsely shredded lettuce
Fry bacon until crisp. Remove from fat. (It may be necessary to pour off some of the bacon fat after frying the bacon. Four tablespoons of fat would be ample).
Add vinegar to bacon fat. Add potatoes and onion, and cook until the potatoes are hot through, but not browned. Add bacon and lettuce, and mix lightly. Serve hot on endive or lettuce.

Green Mar-schi-fo Ice Cream
Mince green mar-schino cherries, finely and blend in desired amount through vanilla ice cream.

ME TOO-

They tell the story of Mussolini playing bridge with his Foreign Minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano against His Majesty the King and Dino Grandi, Italian Ambassador to England.

Grandi opened the bidding with four hearts. Ciano bid five spades. The King looked at his hand carefully, chuckled and bid seven no trumps.

Mussolini glared at the other three players and thundered: "And I, Benito Mussolini, I bid one club."

Grandi said, "I pass."
Ciano said "I pass."
And the King? Well, he looked at his hand wistfully, shrugged his shoulders and in a resigned voice, said, "Me too."—Wall Street Journal.
