Saves Over Half the Fuel

The new "Caterpillar" Diesel D-2 operates on an average of 1 1/4 gallons of fuel per hour of work. Compare this with the most economical gasoline tractor. The saving in gallons alone is better than 50 percent. And considering the difference in price between gasoline and cheap diesel fuel, the saving in dollars is well over 75 percent.

Besides fuel savings, there are so many advantages in design. 5 forward speeds. Most efficient dust seals yet devised. Simplest most effective fuel injection. And quality that insures low upkeep and long life.

HI-WAYS TO HEALTH

By ADA R. MAYNE

OREGON DAIRY COUNCIL

EMPTYING THE CREAM BOTTLE AT BREAKFAST

Breakfast can suddenly fall into the most unexpected chaos. Coffee that's tasted pleasing and has been warmth-giving seems stale; fruits of the winter season that have possessed health giving qualities lose their tingle, and hot cereals, suddenly slump like a well worn winter hat. But no wonder for this sudden reaction! Berries suddenly usurp the market for the eye buyer, and captivate the desire for a modified change in food tastes. . . . changes that are inevitable with the seasons.

Berries and cream with an addition of a prepared cereal control the first change, and especially following a fast observing period. Such a combination possesses the qualities of appeal to the eye, stimulation to taste, and protection and fuel value in its nutritious content. Recent authorities remind one again that a spring let-down is partially due to an inadequate supply of Calcium and vitamins over the winter months. Cream on berries help to replenish these valuable elements.

Furthermore, where the fervent taste for coffee has been lost, cocoa, (not too rich in its chocolate content) becomes a good substitute. Its milk base supplies Calcium, it reaps high honor with a topping of whipped cream, and is a standby served hot or chilled.

The accompanying bread may be dried, (Melba) whole wheat toast. It may be dried in advance, but for the breakfast service it is heated; then generously buttered, and served in its curled impudence. The roll occurs, naturally, when the bread is thinly sliced. Recent reports show an increase in the consumption of white bread and pastries to a degree that it may influence health. This will revive interest in whole grain breadstuffs higher in mineral and Vitamin content.

This does not mean that eggs for breakfast are off the market when berries and cream come in. They continue to pad the breakfast specials. It's very true that a service of creamy scrambled eggs is a novelty, but every home maker whose experience has taught her that low temperature is essential to tender egg cookery knows that when cream is used as the additional liquid two tablespoons to each egg) that a creamy egg can be a tradition to the house.

Omelette Poulard

Six eggs
Six tablespoons milk
One half teaspoon salt
Few grains of pepper
Two tablespoons butter
Four tablespoons heavy cream

Add milk, salt and pepper to eggs and beat well with a fork. Heat omelet pan or heavy skillet, add butter, melting to the sides are greased. Pour in eggs and cook over a low flame until browned evenly on bottom. Pour cream into center and smooth evenly over top with back of wooden spoon. Finish baking in oven at moderate heat until completely set. Test by inserting knife in center, for doneness. Remove, loosen edges with a spatula, crease in center, and fold. Serve on hot platter. (Serves six.)

May Day Is Child Health Day In Oregon

"May Day will be celebrated in Oregon jointly as the principal spring festival day and as child health day. To this end, I urge all citizens of the state to cooperate with the state wide committee in observance of the 1938 Oregon child health program.

"It is essential for the future of our state that we conserve our resources, especially our man-power. This can be done in no better way than to emphasize and concentrate our attention on the importance of providing ample safe guards and protection for the health of our children, for they are the citizens we must depend upon to carry on." Charles H. Martin, Governor.

Mrs. Fred W. Smith of Portland is Oregon State Child Health Day Chairman. She is assisted by chair men, appointed in the counties and larger cities of Oregon. Her appointment is made at the request of Miss Katherine Lenroot, Chief of the U. S. Children's Bureau, which is sponsoring the celebration of this day throughout the nation at the request of the State and Provincial Health Authorities of North America, in accordance with the Congressional Resolution of May 18, 1928, which authorizes the President to proclaim May Day as Child Health Day.

"Speed Children on the Road to Health" is the 1938 May Day slogan.

For every community the objective should be to make full use of its resources in order to insure our children safe birth, normal growth and protection against disease and accident in their progress from infancy to maturity.

The importance of child health and its so closely-related problem of maternal health should not require emphasis among the thoughtful people of our state. Yet, this emphasis is necessary, for apparently among many a false sense of security has developed as a result of a state infant death rate which for several years has been among the best in the country. This is especially apparent when we realize that diphtheria and small pox, the two diseases that can be eradicated completely by the simplest procedures, still prevail in our state to a very high degree. Other diseases such as scarlet fever can be greatly reduced with a better public understanding of community responsibility regarding isolation and quarantine. Tuberculosis and syphilis are also problems of infancy and childhood requiring consideration. Not only is it important to prevent the death of children, but also it is important that our children live in a healthful state, free from nutritional, infectious, developmental, social or mental defects.

We urge every person and community organization to join with our state and local Child Health Day chairmen who are trying to follow the lead of our President and our Governor in observance of this day.

It is highly important that biologists should know the state law governing operation of their vehicles, as well as municipal ordinance, Secretary of State Earl Snell advises. State regulations may be learned from the Operator's Manual, copies of which are furnished free by the secretary of state.

We've Wept Barrels of Tears Over This!
