Kitchens Can Have Airy Charm

REMODELING your kitchen? Then perhaps this kitchen will suggest some good ideas. Note the wide picture window of three casements, revealing an attractive outdoor scene. The sink and modern gas range installed in a wide recess with a colorful background of wall linoleum offer an ideal work center for the preparation of food. Built-in recessed wall cabinets for storage create the appearance of spaciousness and leave an expanse of flooring—in this case covered with adhesive linoleum in a bright pattern. The dark line of the recessed bases of the equipment is carried around the room. The center section of the window cabinets drops down to form a breakfast table, one of the smart convenience features of this room. Chairs of modern character complete the picture.

HI-WAYS TO HEALTH

by ADA R. MAYNE

OREGON DAIRY COUNCIL

ne dares not start a discussion on new bathing suits for 1938 without unconsciously causing every woman present to appraise not only her own but also her best friend's figure. It's true, very few women have perfect figures; but any woman can have something of even more value, and that is a beautiful carriage.

The rewards promised by good posture are legion; and threats for disobedience terrifying. It's well known that throwing the body in line with correct posture gives one at once a curious sense of ease and poise. It is a control that affects not only the general health, but also the mental attitude; and definitely one's pride.

In correcting perhaps a well earned criticism of "she is a frump; she has what it takes; but look how she wears it," one source tells us that the position unconsciously assumed when squeezing sideways through a small space automatically throws the body in to correct posture; another recommends strolling about a half hour each day with a bowl balanced on the head; and still another suggests that in a very bad situation, it would be well to consult an expert to learn exactly the quickest way to consult an ill. When this is done, one will not want to blame the corsetiers, dressmakers, shoe cobblers; but one will want to look to the table for further help. Much of the weariness that affects the mental attitude is an outgrowth of eating too many sluggish reacting foods. Now more than ever will the smart woman who is interested in preserving her beauty and vitality turn to protective foods. She will include at least one pint of milk and two each of fruits and vegetables daily for their mineral and vitamin content. When she does not care for the direct flavor of milk, she may turn to any number of fruity variations. One of fruit juice and buttermilk is palatable, and definitely not partial to weights, or at this season—one may be "drinking their strawberries."

Orange Buttermilk
One cup strained orange juice
One fourth tsp grated orange rind
Three cups cold buttermilk
One fourth cup sugar

Put all ingredients into a shaker and shake vigorously for a few seconds. Serve immediately with or without a little chopped ice.
Yield: 5 servings.
Strawberry Cream Shake
One pint of strawberries
One fourth cup of sugar
Four tsp lemon juice
Three cups of chilled milk
One cup chilled coffee cream
pinch of salt
One cup of crushed ice
Choose well ripened berries. Wash, drain, hull berries. Crush and press through a sieve. There should be about three-fourths cup of puree. Put into shaker and add other ingredients. Shake vigorously for several seconds. Five servings.

No Insurance Needed

Counties are not required to carry insurance on automobiles used by their officials or employees according to Attorney General Van Winkle. If the individuals who operate county-owned cars want to protect themselves against liability in case of accident that is their responsibility and not a concern of the county, the attorney general ruled.

FACTS FOR DRIVERS

By EARL SNELL, Secretary of State

Last week marked the conclusion of safe driving schools in seven Oregon communities, and this week arrangements will be made to open the schools in another group of cities, Secretary of State Earl Snell announced today.

Towns where schools have just been concluded are Milwaukie, Silverton, Woodburn, Forest Grove, Hillsboro, Hood River and The Dalles. Schools are being held currently in Salem and Newberg, and were recently ended in Prineville and Redmond. Medford, Ashland and Klamath Falls have also enjoyed a separate series of safety driving schools under the sponsorship of the secretary of state and local safety councils.

Local interest has been so keen that in a number of communities the city officials and safety councils have decided to conduct a second series of classes upon their own initiative, following the same plan used for the first school.

The seven week courses have now been held in 29 Oregon communities during the past eight months, with a total of more than 1500 persons on the graduating rolls. The classes have been held with the cooperation of high school officials in many cases, but many successful adult classes have also been sponsored.

"Results accomplished in the schools have been extremely gratifying," Secretary Snell declared. "Not only have the students shown great progress in learning to drive properly, but their attitude indicates that they have a lively interest in helping make Oregon highways safer for themselves and for other drivers."
