A Case for the Supreme Court

Is she progressive or conservative?

"I don't know. She wears a last year's hat, drives this year's car and lives on next year's income."

"My son wants to be an auto racer. What shall I do?"

"Don't stand in his way."

"How do you like this chimney weeping job?"

"Oh, it soots me."

AAA!

"My wife had a dream last night and thought she married a millionaire."

"You're fortunate. Mine thinks that in the daytime."

Spring and Summer Months Find Many People On Roads

In the spring and summer seasons, people in our own state and from all over the union start travelling to enjoy the beauty and recreational attractions of the Oregon country. The scenic value of Oregon's justly famous highways and its thousands of miles of stream, lake and ocean shore line beckon to all to travel and enjoy living.

If visitors to our state are to be satisfied and leave our borders with pleasant memories, it is the duty of all persons catering to tourists, vacationists and picnicers to provide clean, sanitary and attractive facilities. It is the duty of the State Board of Health to supervise the operation of these establishments and insist upon a high standard of sanitation.

The 1939 legislation passed in law requiring that operators of all tourist camps, cottages, cabins, picnic parks, etc., apply for and

Rules For AAA Set Forth by Government

Oregon farmers who intend to take advantage of the AAA wheat loan for 1939 are urged by Will Steen of Milton, chairman of the Oregon agricultural conservation committee, to make certain their bins will meet the requirements of the loan program.

As with the loan covering the 1938 wheat crop, farmers who store wheat of the 1939 crop on their farms will be eligible to a farm-storage allowance of 7 cents per bushel if they deliver wheat of the same grade and quality to the Commodity Credit corporation when the wheat loan matures. The 7-cent allowance is in addition to the loan itself.

Good wheat, properly stored, is the only security a farmer will be required to put up for his loan, said Mr. Steen. To store wheat that will remain good security, farmers will need storage bins that will:

1. Hold the wheat without loss of quality.
2. Protect the wheat against weather conditions which may cause deterioration.
3. Provide protection from thieves, rodents, birds, poultry, and insects.
4. Permit effective fumigation for destroying insects.
5. Provide reasonable safety from fire and wind.
6. Require forcible breaking in order to be entered when sealed.

The record of farm storage in regard to the 1938 wheat loan indicates that farmers are able to provide good storage facilities on their farms. During a recent inspection of about 19,000 bins in nine western states, eight north central states, Texas, and Oklahoma, only 24 bins were in such condition that inspectors recommended that loans be discontinued.

"We can't afford BREAK-DOWNS"

Says Seth Wood Rexburg, Idaho

"I think the secret of successful farming in this country is to do every job quickly. We can't afford breakdowns and 'Caterpillar' dependability has been a sure solution to our problems. Besides, my Diesel D4 is much cheaper to operate. Fuel, grease, and oil cost only one-third as much as they did with my gas tractor."
