Oregon Seed Being Sold To South

A closing date for the purchase of Austrian winter pea or hairy vetch seed from growers by the Commodity Credit corporation, is expected to be announced soon by the AAA office at Corvallis. The closing date will probably be set sometime between the first and fifteenth of September in order to allow for shipment of the seed to the southern states in time for fall planting, says N. C. Donaldson, state executive officer.

Movement of seed from Oregon to the southern states has been rapid, with upwards of 100 carloads having been shipped by the first week in August. Orders were being received by the Corvallis office at the rate of almost 20 carloads a day, and these were being distributed among the various Oregon dealers, who are doing most of the cleaning and re-sacking for the government agency.

Practically all the eligible Austrian winter pea seed has been sold through the Commodity Credit corporation at the established rate of 3 cents a pound. Prices on hairy vetch seed, on the other hand, have stayed enough higher than the 7 1/2 cent guaranteed price, so that private dealers have been able to handle most of the crop. Growers have been getting from 7 1/2 cents to 7 3/4 cents a pound for their vetch seed.

Reports from throughout the Willamette valley indicate that the federal purchase program is being carried out with a minimum of delay and red tape. Growers have been paid for their seed in cash within three or four days of delivery, and seed dealers have been experiencing less difficulty than usual in obtaining an adequate supply of freight cars for the movement of the crop.

The program in the southern cotton belt is also moving along well, as indicated by the steady flow of orders which are cleared through the Corvallis office. The grant-of-aid program there allows AAA cooperators who are short of cash to obtain seed now which will be paid for through deductions from next year's benefit checks.

A fatigue party of soldiers were cleaning up the barrack square when the sergeant's small daughter came along and stared down into a drain.

"That's where my daddy dropped half a crown last week," she said.

For an hour the fatigue party, on its knees, worked hard. "Are you sure this is the drain?" they asked, when the little girl returned from her errand.

"Yes, I saw him get it up."

NORTHWEST CALLED ON TO AID NATIONAL DEFENSE

WE'RE READY!

Preparedness

Pacific Power & Light Company is ready—with electric power and man power—to play its part. Building ahead of immediate requirements, anticipating growth in use of electricity, have long been an essential part of the company's job. Experienced leaders and skilled technicians have been trained through years of teamwork—tested veterans, fully equipped, ready to march!

More dollars for defense

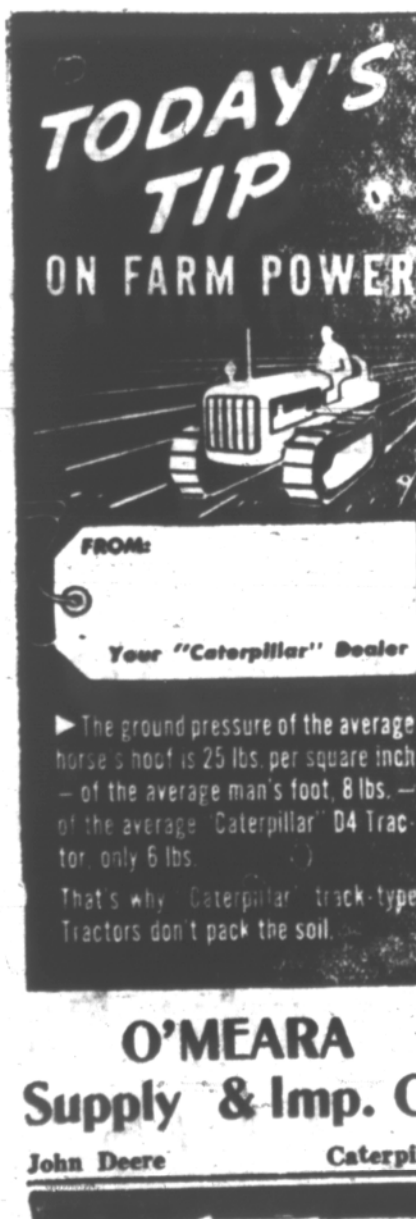

The Pacific system is ready to function quickly, surely, economically. No such organization could be thrown together quickly. It grew the hard way—acquired its tempered edge in the fire of experience. And, like every American citizen of business enterprise, Pacific Power & Light pays taxes ($877,000 total last year) thus helps carry the costs of the whole national program.

New industries?

America today is calling upon the Pacific Northwest to stand ready to convert natural resources into implements of national defense. Minerals, chemicals, lumber products or foods may be demanded suddenly in any community.
